The collision occurred between a picnic train from Chicago, which was returning from Momence, Ill., and a freight train, into the rear end of which the excursion train dashed at high speed. The picnic train was coming north and the freight was on the southbound track. A wrong signal sent the picnic train over on the southbound track and before the engineer could apply the brakes, it ran into the rear of the freight. The locomotive, the baggage car and the first coach of the picnic train were demolished and all of the killed and injured were on the locomotive and in the two cars.

The picnic was the annual outing of the members of Doremus Congregational church, Chicago.

The engineer of the picnic train did not see the freight until he was about on it. It was too late to do anything but to set the brakes, but before they could take effect the passenger train smashed into the freight at full speed. The locomotive and the baggage car of the passenger train went through the freight and were piled up in a heap of wreckage on the further side of the switch track. The first coach of the picnic train plunged into the wreckage and buried itself in a mass of kindling wood. Nearly all the passengers in the first coach were caught beneath the mass of debris, and it was here that the loss of life occurred.

In explanation of the accident, Engineer Hoxie and the crew of the freight train say that their train parted at Chicago Heights, and the break was not noticed until the train was near Glenwood, causing delay. The engineer knew that the excursion train was coming, but believed that it was on the northbound track, and was switching his train from the northbound to the southbound track in an effort to keep out of its way.

GROVER CLEVELAND ILL.

His Wife Reaches Boston, Evidently En Route to Buzzard's Bay.

BOSTON, July 13.—Mrs. Grover Cleveland arrived in this city tonight from the summer home of the family at Sandwich, N. H. Mrs. Cleveland, who was unattended by servants or members of her family, was escorted to the Hotel Touraine by Thomas Jefferson, a son of Joseph Jefferson. It is thought that Mrs. Cleveland will go to Buzzard's Bay tomorrow morning.

A special dispatch from Buzzard's Bay says that Mr. Cleveland has been slightly indisposed for the past three or four days, and is now confined to "Crow's Nest," the summer home of Joseph Jefferson, in that town.

MULLAH NOT SUPPRESSED.

Reported to Be Fifty Miles from the Capital of Somaliland.

ADEN, July 13.—The mullah is reported to be 50 miles from Berbera, the capital of Somaliland.

A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from its Aden correspondent, dated July 6, said that the mullah's forces had attacked the somali, killing 50, levying on the natives friendly to the French and looting about 1,000 sheep and 50 cattle. They then retired, pursued by pioneers, who shot down 20 of the mullah's men. The correspondent of the same paper at Berbera maintained that the whole of the Somaliland campaign had been fruitless, the mullah retaining full control of his particular region.

WEST VIRGINIA VICTORY SURE

Convention Completes the Ticket in Peace and Harmony.

ALL ARE STALWARTS

Delegates Pledge Their Unqualified Support to Entire List of Nominees.

PROMISE INCREASED MAJORITY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Wheeling, W. Va., July 13.—It was nearly 11 o'clock tonight when the Republican state convention, the most notable and remarkable political gathering in the history of the state, was closed in peace and harmony and the regiment of delegates, nearly 800 of them, departed for their homes, assuring each other that their respective counties can be counted on to show increased Republican gains next November, the grand result to show a majority approximating 30,000. The ticket presented to the voters is made up as follows:

Governor, Secretary of State W. M. O. Dawson of Kanawha county.

Auditor, Arnold C. Scherr of Mineral, renominated.

Treasurer, Newton Ogdin of Pleasants.

Attorney general, President of the Senate Clark W. May of Lincoln.

Superintendent of schools, Thomas C. Miller of Marion, renominated.

Secretary of state, Charles W. Swisher of Marion.

Supreme court judges, Frank A. Cox of Monongalia and Joseph M. Saunders of Mercer.

Presidential electors-at-large, James A. Lenhart of Preston and Dr. W. W. Monroe of Wirt.

"Get together," and "Everybody's stalwart Republican," were the rallying cries when the convention reconvened at 11 o'clock this morning, and the warring factions were quick to respond. These strong young West Virginia mountaineers contest among themselves valiantly and vigorously, but once the contest is decided they strike hands and stand shoulder to shoulder to give battle to the common enemy.

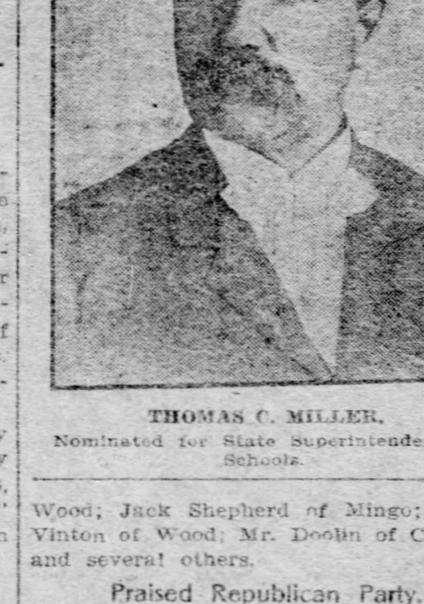
Everybody Wore Dawson Colors.

Following the strenuous 10-hour session that was necessary on Tuesday to determine who should be the gubernatorial nominee, this morning found all the sore spots healed and everybody wearing Dawson's colors. Many other contests were fought out on the convention floor today, but they were all conducted harmoniously and without the fierceness that marked yesterday's struggle.

Today's session was one of nearly 12 hours, with only an intermission of two hours for luncheon, and while the delegates lunched under the luxuriant foliage of Wheeling park a splendid orchestra helped the harmony along by giving a concert. The local committee on entertainment did its work well.

The length of time required to complete the ticket was occasioned by the flow of oratory these eloquent young politicians indulged in. The earnestness they showed in this augurs well for the success of the ticket. They all pledged themselves to work and talk just as earnestly for November's result as they did for their own particular candidates.

Another feature in which Republicans the country over can find comfort and encouragement when they figure on the place West Virginia will occupy in the presidential table was the presence and leading part taken in the convention by former prominent Democrats, including such men as former Congressman Charles E. Hogge of Cabell; Charley Caldwell of



THOMAS C. MILLER.
Nominated for State Superintendent of Schools.

Wood; Jack Shepherd of Mingo; Z. T. Vinton of Wood; Mr. Doolin of Calhoun and several others.

Praised Republican Party.

No more eloquent praises of the Republican party and its principles were sounded than are found in the words of these men, and the enthusiasm they aroused was another remarkable feature of this, in many ways, unique gathering. Late tonight the delegates sat in almost an unbroken body and cheered just as lustily over the nomination of candidates for the supreme court bench as they did yesterday when they gathered fresh and eager for the big struggle over the governorship. Apparently they could not get enough exhorting and every man was apparently an exhorter. Every platitude, every epigram, every well-rounded sentence, every ready expression brought out a cheer in which was the ring of exultation and victory.

Senator Elkin called the convention to order at 11 o'clock this morning and pre-

PLATFORM SUITS ALL INTERESTS

The West Virginia Republicans Reached an Agreement on Tax Revision Plank.

WAS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

By WALTER J. CHRISTY.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Wheeling, W. Va., July 13.—Fortunately all interests have been able to agree on the tax plank in the West Virginia Republican platform. This means that the corporate interests that might have been antagonistic to the election of W. M. O. Dawson for governor have swung into line. Any doubt which might have existed about party success in the state is now removed.

The adoption of the platform was made the last order of business in the convention. This most important work was not reached until 11:15 o'clock tonight. Then less than 100 of the 795 delegates were in the hall. The galleries were deserted and the stage was occupied by the officers of the convention and the correspondents. Perhaps it was just as well. Those present submitted to the compromise measure on the all-important issue in the state and the platform was unanimously adopted. The following is the utterance of the party relative to tax revision:

> We congratulate the people of West Virginia that under the guidance of the Republican party, public interest has been aroused in the important question of taxation and that the beginning with the enactment of the Dawson corporation law substantial progress has been made toward a betterment of the tax system of the state.
> We recommend the passage by the legislature of the measures relating to taxation, which have been prepared by a commision of leading citizens and placed in the hands of the governor. We regard this as a useful step toward the end sought by us for the abolition of direct state taxes on property and the substitution therefor of revenues derived from other sources, taking care always that no injustice shall be done to any pursuit, industry or interest.
> We are heartily in favor of the passage of laws establishing a proper system of

ARMIES CLOSE IN ON KUROPATKIN

Oku and Nodzu Are Surrounding Him at Ta-Tche-Kiao.

BATTLE IS REPORTED ON

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

Tokyo, July 14.—(Noon.)—Two warships and four torpedo boats belonging to the Russian Vladivostok squadron were seen off the island of Yezo Wednesday morning.

Chefoo, July 14, 8 a. m.—Private advices just received from Niuchwang indicate that the long expected battle between Kai-Chou and Ta-Tche-Kiao is now in progress.

SHAN-HAI-KWAN, July 13.—(Special Cable.)—The Japanese are in force at Tang-Wa, between Yin-Kow and Ta-Tche-Kiao, and are advancing on both places. A column along the railroad is said already to have attacked the latter place, and another column is marching north from Tang-Wa to cut the railroad between Yinkow and Ta-Tche-Kiao. A squadron of Japanese gunboats and small cruisers is co-operating with the land forces.

London, July 14.—The Yin Kow correspondent of the Daily Chronicle asserts that a battle occurred north of Kai-Chou July 12, when the Japanese were repulsed with great loss.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Steadily and cautiously Gen. Oku's army from the south and Gen. Nodzu's army from the east are closing in upon Ta-Tche-Kiao, where Gen. Kuropatkin is reported to be intrenching. One hundred and thirty thousand men are involved in the movement.

The outposts of the armies are scarcely 15 miles apart. The slowness of the advance is apparently due to the natural difficulties in the way of a rapid movement of the Japanese eastern flanking columns. Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff reports that Gen. Kuroki is massing his troops near the Pkamlin pass and moving out by both roads upon Hai-Cheng. Heavy pres-

BRYAN'S SUPPORT INJURES PARKER

Nebraskan's Latest Utterances Caused a Shiver Along the Democratic Line.

COL. MOSBY DECLARES HIMSELF

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.

According to the few Democrats now in Washington, William J. Bryan has not helped the Democratic ticket by his statement published this morning. His announcement that he will vote for Parker and Davis and then after election attempt to organize the party on more "radical" lines has sent a shiver all along the line of eastern Democrats and among many southern Democrats.

Col. John S. Mosby, a noted former Confederate leader, who is for Roosevelt as against Parker, says that the action of the St. Louis convention is a severe commentary on Mr. Bryan's utterances.

"Judging from what I have read of Judge Parker in Republican newspapers," said Col. Mosby tonight, "he is a clean man and a splendid gentleman. The worst thing I have seen against him is W. J. Bryan's manifesto this morning, in which he charges that in the Parker telegram Parker and Hill were guilty of a disgraceful political trick. I don't make that charge; I merely quote Mr. Bryan. It may be that Judge Parker, like Grover Cleveland, is greater than his party. Cleveland put me out of office, but I greatly admire him, and I think he was one of the best presidents this country ever had. But I am for Roosevelt against Parker, and I believe Roosevelt is already elected.

"It looks as though Bryan was right in the matter of plutocracy. My friend, John Daniel, the Virginia senator, the most brilliant man in the Democratic party, couldn't get one vote in that convention for the vice presidency, because he is a poor man and a confederate soldier on crutches. And yet the Democrats nominated for vice president a man from West Virginia for no other reason in the world than that he had a lot of money."

Republican leaders here insist that Mr. Bryan's attitude will hurt Judge Parker in the close western states, while the statement of his belief that the Democracy is for the time being in the hands of the money power will lose him votes in the west.

"The kind of support Mr. Bryan will give the Democratic ticket will not help it," said Senator Foraker tonight. "It certainly will not help much in the west if his followers believe all he says. There is no state in that part of the country that they can carry. The Democratic ticket will never be any stronger during the campaign than it is now, and there is nothing for the Republicans to worry about now. The situation from our standpoint is all right and all signs point to a decided Republican victory."

Army Officers Slay Socialists.

BELGRADE, SERVIA, July 13.—A serious fight between Socialists and army officers took place yesterday in the square of Graguyevata, a garrison town. The Socialists were annoyed at the attitude of the officers toward civilians and attacked the officers, who were noisily celebrating the king's birthday. The officers used their arms and it is reported that 20 men were killed during the fight. The officials only acknowledge that a few persons were wounded, some of them fatally.

KING QUITS RACE COURSE TO VISIT A POOR HOUSE

Converses With Pauper Subjects and Leaves Dying Stable Boy Happy—Criticises Some Arrangements of Institution.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 14.—King Edward yesterday added one more to the many informally democratic incidents that have marked his relations with his poorer subjects, since he came to the throne. Slipping away from the crowded Newmarket race track, where he had been watching his own horses run, the king drove to a neighboring poorhouse. A minute inspection of the arrangements there was made and some pointed criticisms were intermingled with amusing chats between the king and his pauper subjects. Of one old woman the king asked: "Do you all agree well?"

When she answered most positively in the affirmative, King Edward banteringly voiced his surprise at this feminine elysium, saying: "What, never quarrel? Are you quite sure?"

In the poorhouse hospital his majesty noticed a mandolin on a bed where a stableboy lay dying of cancer. In answer to the king's question if he could play it, the boy said he would like to play the national anthem. "Let us hear you," said King Edward and summoning all his remaining strength, the boy sat up in bed and played "God Save the King." His majesty stood by the bedside until the familiar air was finished. What the king said to the dying boy is not chronicled, but this morning's newspapers say that when the king strode out and the hospital ward relapsed to its usual silence, the stableboy lay back on his bed and said: "I can die happy now."

Mountain State Towns Visited and Ohio Invaded—Local Company's Banquet.

NAMES OF THE ENTERTAINERS

By JOHN P. COWAN.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 13.—While sharing the second day's bounty of West Virginia hospitality, the members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Pittsburgh have secured invaluable trade provisions for Pittsburgh shippers and freight traffic, originating in Pittsburgh, henceforth will be accorded through car service and prompt handling in all consignments to points in the upper Ohio valley and the central districts of the mountain states.

It was while indulging in well merited encomiums of the thrift and the enterprise of West Virginians that these examples of concentrated action were shown by the trade-booming expedition, which is progressing here with such enthusiastic receptions in every important town and city. The Pittsburghers are doing a deal of talking, but results show that their valuable efforts have not been misdirected. The West Virginians are not their visitors in the oratorical match and their eloquence is not falling upon indifferent ears.

Will Visit Candidate Davis.

Tomorrow the trade extension excursion will include the city of Elkins and the tourists will spend an hour with Senator Henry G. Davis, the Democratic candidate for vice president. The visit will have no political significance, but will mark the first appearance of a delegation of neighbors to congratulate Senator Davis on the honor which has been conferred upon him.

The announcement of the improved freight service was hailed with cheers, both by the buyers of West Virginia and the shippers of Pittsburgh, and means a boon which will be mutually advantageous to all classes of dealers. Capt. Fred Fowler, division freight agent of the Monongahela division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, issued a statement this afternoon which gave the Merchants and Manufacturers' association assurance that through car freight service would go into effect as soon as arrangements could be made with the operating department for the transportation facilities.

Quick Service Promised.

All West Virginia points will be reached within three days after the delivery of freight to cars in Pittsburgh. Cars will be delivered to Fairmont on the day following shipment. Clarksburg, as well as points on the Grafton & Belington branch, will be reached on the second day. The same fast service will be accorded Grafton and Parkersburg, Huntingdon and Cheasapeake and Ohio points will get their Pittsburgh freight in three days. A through car service likewise will be established to Marietta, O., and shipments will be delivered in one day. The trade boomers are hoarse but they declare that they have not damaged their voices in vain.

Tonight the spirit of good feeling shown in Wheeling was repeated in the banquet room of the Waldo hotel in this place when the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company was the host of a dinner given to the representatives of the association and to the prominent business men of Clarksburg.

Banquet a Surprise.

The affair came as a surprise and was arranged by General Manager W. C. Baldwin, Thomas G. Brady, superintendent of West Virginia agents, and Assistant Treasurer E. E. McCoy on behalf of the new Pittsburgh life insurance concern. Mayor Patrick H. Shields of Clarksburg welcomed the visitors and warmed up the banqueters by his original descriptions of Pittsburgh pluck and prosperity. Col. A. J. Logan made a good-humored toastmaster, who was primed for the occasion, enlivening the gathering by a hearty speech favoring an extension of reciprocity between the thrifty enterprises of Pittsburgh and West Virginia.

Manager Baldwin talked shop in an interesting way. John W. Davis, a prominent Clarksburg attorney, came back with jolly banter and praise of the glories of his state. Manager J. W. Wardrop of the association poured compliments into the ears of Clarksburgers and evoked a reply in kind from Attorney C. W. Lynch.

Others Made Speeches.

The other speakers were R. L. Mitchell of the Pittsburgh Drygoods Company, S. R. Harrison, cashier of the Merchants National bank; G. W. Stewart, Theodore Lampert, Edward Snodgrass, Jr., Charles W. Gerwig and the Rev. Dr. Arbuthnot. The dinner was elegant in its appointments.

The members of the party are anticipating an interesting trip to Elkins tomorrow afternoon. Senator Davis has stipulated that there shall be no speechmaking. The visitors will be received informally at "Graceland," Senator Davis' country seat, and will meet his son-in-law, Senator Stephen B. Elkins, who is expected to arrive from the state Republican convention at Wheeling. At the city of Elkins the visitors will be the guests of the board of trade, represented by Capt. W. H. Cobb, W. C. Russell and Richard Chaffee.

The special train made its schedule on time in its 200-mile run today from Wheeling, and brief stops were made at New Martinsville, Sistersville, St. Marys, Marietta, Parkersburg and all other large towns on the route.

HUMP MUST GO, SAYS BIGELOW

Special Appropriation and Tax Levy Next February Are Considered.

FIGHT IN COUNCILS

Strong Opposition to Railroading the Bill to Let the Contract for Filtration.

MANY CHANGES IN PAYROLL

Although Director Bigelow declares the hump proposition will be submitted to the voters of the city again within a year, the leaders of the administration are seriously considering making an appropriation of $1,129,699 next Februay, when the annual appropriations are made up, and to levy an additional tax of three mills to raise this sum to cut down the hump.

Bigelow talks of another special election, but he and Mayor Hays, Director Moore and other administration leaders are not convinced that this would be best.

Director Bigelow's estimate for the cutting down of the hump, exclusive of the cost of the expense of the corporations in lowering their properties and outside of all damage claims, was $1,129,699. His estimate of the expense of the corporations was $536,500, which made the total estimate $1,666,199. He asked the people to vote for a bond issue of $2,000,000, stating that the corporations would probably bear the expense of lowering their properties, and this would leave a balance of over $800,000 with which to pay damage claims.

Damage Claims Will Wait.

The plan to include an item of $1,129,699 in the regular appropriations next year for the cutting down of the hump does not take into consideration the payment of any damages to property owners.

"That is something that can be considered later, when the improvement is completed, because the amount of damages could not be known until then," said a prominent city official yesterday, who disclosed the latest plan of the administration. "After the hump is cut down provision could be made to pay claims for damages, as was done this year by councils in authorizing a bond issue, without a vote of the people, of $1,122,276 to pay judgments against the city. These judgments were on public improvements. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company gets $210,000 of this amount for the regrading of streets in the vicinity of the new Union station, and there is over $500,000 to pay the balance due on the building of the Grant boulevard and other work."

Hot Fights in Councils.

It is the intention of the administration to put through without delay the ordinance authorizing the letting of a contract for the filtration plant, and Director Bigelow said yesterday that common council might meet next Monday to receive the ordinance. It will be referred to the finance committee, which will meet a day or two afterward, and then common council will be called in special session again the same week or the following Monday to pass the ordinance. The administration figures that one meeting of common council and one meeting of select will be sufficient to pass the bill through both branches.

They are counting upon a suspension of the rules in common council to pass the ordinance on one reading, but the statement yesterday of William Brand, the floor leader of the anti-administration faction in common council, shows that the ordinance cannot be put through in one session.

"The ordinance will be scrutinized very closely," said Brand. "We will not permit a suspension of the rules to rush through so important a measure without it being considered and discussed. There might be 'snakes' in the ordinance, and we will probably insist on having the ordinance submitted to the city solicitor before it is passed." Brand did not say that the ordinance would be fought, because he did not know what it would contain, but he was very emphatic in declaring that the administration would not be permitted to 'railroad' a bill through providing for the expenditure of $5,000,000 without a careful inspection of the measure.

Bigelow Changes Custom.

It has been the custom in the case of bonds issues for public improvements to sell the bonds before any contracts are let, but this is not the plan of Director Bigelow. According to Assistant Controller Morrow, who is an expert on such matters, the bonds cannot be sold before October. Director Bigelow intends to pass the contract ordinance and let the contract immediately, expecting the bond money to be ready when it is necessary to make the first payment on the contract. Next week will probably see the bond contract ordinance in council and also the advertisement for proposals before the ordinance is through councils. The law states that no contract shall be awarded before the ordinance authorizing the contract is passed by councils, but it does not say that no bids shall be received before the passage of the ordinance. Some contractors who are not on the close watch may, therefore, miss a chance of bidding in time. There is no knowledge of the plans and specifications, and if sufficient time is not given to prepare the bids all contractors may not be able to have their bids ready.

Bigelow Feels Defeat Keenly.

Director Bigelow is the worst hurt man in the city hall over the result of Tuesday's election. Contrary to the views of Mayor Hays and Director Moore and other administration men, Bigelow claims that if the vote had been larger the hump bond issue would have carried. He declares that secret political opposition was a big factor in the defeat of the hump project, and puts the blame on the local Republican leaders.

Mayor Hays and Director Moore, however, are of the opinion that the property owners killed the hump bond issue. The Republican leaders deny they took any part in the election, and they support this statement by pointing to the fact that the vote was heavy against the hump bond issue in Director Bigelow's own ward, the Nineteenth, which was barely carried by the administration, and that the Twenty-seventh ward, where Director Moore resides, was carried overwhelmingly against both bond issues. The big East End wards also failed to support the hump project, although the administration claims the absolute control of these wards.

Payroll to be Revised.

The revision of the city payroll, which was begun on the eve of the bond election by the dismissal of about a dozen employes from the Sixteenth ward, and deferred until after the election, will be renewed vigorously, and in consequence of the defeat of the hump bond scheme many employes will lose their jobs. Many on the payroll were given to understand that their chances of holding their jobs depended upon the way their districts went in the bond election.

The loss of these districts for the bond issues will work to the sorrow of dozens of men. There were many anxious faces in the city hall yesterday and but few happy ones. Andrew Burk, acting superintendent of the bureau of construction, was pleased because his district in the Thirty-sixth ward went for both bond issues by a large majority.

E. G. Nicewaner, superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers, said yesterday he was happy because he carried his district in the Twenty-second ward for the hump by three votes. At the city election in February Nicewaner excited the displeasure of Mayor Hays because he removed from the Twentieth ward on the eve of the election and lost his vote. The mayor demanded his removal, but Director Bigelow refused to remove him.

It is said that the firemen did little or nothing for the bond issues, but on the contrary many voted against them, because the administration had refused the firemen vacations, taking $15,000 from the appropriation of their bureau to pay the expenses of the election.

TRAINMEN NEED NOT BUTTON THEIR COATS

Pennsylvania Employes Win a Hot-Weather Concession Against Old Rule.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Pennsylvania railroad trainmen may now wear their coats as best suits their fancy. J. B. Baker, Jr., superintendent of the Philadelphia Terminal division, today issued an order to this effect. It practically rescinds the ancient rule that passenger trainmen must keep their coats buttoned when on duty.

The action of Mr. Baker comes as a victory for the men. Only a few weeks ago orders were issued by many of the division superintendents calling attention to the old rule, and intimating that the trainmen would have to be more careful in its observance. Several days ago the question culminated in the summoning before Mr. Baker of several hundred conductors and brakemen. They were told that they had broken the rules and must mend their ways.

The trainmen grew indignant. They declared that the weather was too torrid for closely-buttoned coats. They threatened to appeal to W. W. Atterbury, the general manager. The trainmen canvassed the situation. A committee was about to wait on the general manager when Mr. Baker posted the notice that coats may be worn unbuttoned. The notice, it is said, was inspired by the higher officials of the company.

AUTOMOBILISTS KILLED IN RACE WITH A TRAIN

Locomotive Crashes Into Machine at Crossing and Occupants Are Mangled.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ROCKVILLE CENTER, L. I., July 13.—James Snyder of Brooklyn, and Frank J. Correll of Amityville, were instantly killed, and a man believed to be J. W. Jewell of Brooklyn, was so badly injured that he died soon after, as the result of a collision between a big touring automobile and a train on the Long Island railroad at Merrick crossing tonight.

The automobile with its occupants was apparently racing with the train and was ahead as it approached the crossing. Persons familiar with the road who were watching the race, expected the car to slow up, but instead its speed was increased. The flagman at the crossing waved his flag and his lantern as a warning, and the engineer of the train which was going at full speed, reversed the engine and blew his whistle, but the automobile shot on into the turn and upon the track.

The car was carried 500 feet on the cowcatcher of the locomotive and then dropped down and was dragged some distance under it. The pony truck of the engine had to be raised before the wrecked car and the mangled bodies could be released.

GLASS WORKERS MAY COMBINE

Proposition to Merge Favorably Considered--No Answer from Pittsburgh to Message.

CONVENTION OF THE FLINTS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., July 13.—The delegates to the two glass workers' conventions being held in this city, devoted the entire day to committee work and conferences relative to the proposition to merge the organizations of the United Glass Workers of America and the Glass Workers' union. It is said that the proposition thus far has been received most favorably by both committees, and a decision may be expected before the end of the week. The delay is caused by the request of the Glass Workers' union of several concessions from the other organization. Fourteen delegates from each convention have the matter in hand. No reply has been received from local assembly No. 300 of Pittsburgh to the telegram sent yesterday inviting the co-operation of that body in the proposition to amalgamate. Regarding the wage scale, President Phillips, of the United Glass workers, said that it is the feeling of the workmen that the basis of wage payment should be changed and that the cutters be given a slight advance on the basis. The question of summer work has not yet been reached. "Mother" Jones and a Mr. Garrison from the Colorado mining district, addressed a joint gathering of the two conventions this afternoon.

MARIETTA, O., July 13.—(Special.)—The American Flint Glass workers convened in national convention this morning for the third day of the big convention. President Rowe called the convention to order with 300 delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada present. Since the convention organized 16 committees have been appointed and are making reports and looking after other business. Different trade committees will go over the list and the manufacturers' proposed changes, together with the rules, and revise the same. A new scale of wages for two years will be arranged. A hot fight is on for the selection of the place to hold the next convention. Pittsburgh, Martins Ferry, O., Kokomo, Ind., Toledo, O., and Alexandria, Va., are suggested. The chances favor Pittsburgh, which is fighting with Martins Ferry for the selection. There is a possibility that the national headquarters may remove from Toledo to Pittsburgh, with all the national officers. Several manufacturers here today appeared before the convention.

SOLDIERS RAIDED TOWN IN WILD WEST STYLE

Citizens Are Terrorized and the Lights Are Shot Out by Artillerymen.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREAT NECK, L. I., July 13.—Armed with revolvers, 20 artillerymen from Fort Totten, Willets Point, made a raid on this village last night, forced citizens to flee for their lives and barricaded themselves in their houses, shot out every street lamp in the village and took possession of five summer hotels along the short front.

Terrified guests were driven to their rooms, where they barricaded the doors to keep out the soldiers. Mirrors, glasses and bottles behind the bars were made targets by the artillerymen. At one hotel the proprietor remonstrated with the soldiers and was promptly bound hand and foot and locked in a closet.

After they had terrified the villagers for three hours, a posse of citizens, headed by the deputy sheriff of the village, pursued the soldiers to the shore, but they escaped in rowboats which were waiting to take them back to the fort.

Influential citizens talk of forming a committee to wait upon President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and ask his assistance in bringing the offenders to justice. Sheriff Livermore said today that it was useless to try to obtain redress from Fort Totten.

DENVER, COL., July 13.—John W. Parker, who committed suicide in St. Louis today is a son of Charles A. Parker, traffic manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, and formerly commissioner of the Colorado railway bureau. The family could give no explanation of the young man's act.

LEAPED FOR LIFE.

Two Elevator Builders Narrowly Escaped Falling to Their Death.

J. B. Bencart of Taggart street, Allegheny, and Herman Bright of 1817 Jane street saved their lives yesterday afternoon by jumping from a falling elevator upon which they were working in a new building being erected at Sixth avenue and Wood street.

While on the sixth floor they felt the cage dropping. Both men jumped and caught a ladder built beside the shaft just as the cage shot down to the first floor. Bencart was struck on the shoulder and arm and knocked off the ladder, falling about six feet, and Bright was struck on the head.

Bencart was knocked senseless and was sent to the Homeopathic hospital, where it was found his only injury was a wrenched arm. Bright was sent home.

Kobolinko placed him under arrest and lodged him in the police station, where he confessed to having been in the fight, but denied striking the blow which caused the man's death.

BRITAIN MAY SEND PROTEST TO RUSSIA

LONDON, July 13.—(Special Cable.)—British shipping interests are thoroughly aroused over the stopping and searching of British merchant ships in the Red sea by the Russian auxiliary cruisers which recently passed through the Dardanelles, and pressure is being brought on the government to make a strong protest to Russia. This action may be taken and in diplomatic circles it is recognized that the situation involves grave danger of international complications.

WEST VIRGINIA VICTORY SURE

sided until noon, when he turned the gavel over to Senator Harvey Harmer of Harrison, who, as a presiding officer, was about the crispest article of the kind ever known. He was business from the word go, never hesitating to point out to the sergeant-at-arms the man he wanted suppressed in case the man refused to quiet down after he had given the word. As a presiding officer Senator Harmer was the real thing and the convention was with him at all times.

The nomination of Swisher for secretary of state was the most dramatic event of the day. Preceding it was the long drawn out contest for superintendent of schools. Five candidates were placed in nomination and the first ballot resulted in no selection. Then three of the candidates withdrew and the contest was narrowed down to Miller, the present incumbent, and W. H. Gorby of Roane.

Started a Stampede.

Gorby's friends started a stampede and it looked as though it was going to be successful. This view was strengthened by the fact that both Swisher, candidate for secretary of state, and Miller, candidate for renomination as superintendent of schools, were both from Marion county, and that Swisher had a supposed cinch on the nomination by reason of the energetic canvass he has made, hence that no county would be allowed two such important offices. But Wood county, next to the last on the roll, and Wyoming, the last, did not vote as they were expected to and the result was: Miller 300, Gorby, 296.

For a second Swisher and his friends were paralyzed but the call of the chairman for nominations for secretary of state stirred them and the whirlwind they stirred up in the next five minutes produced a wild tornado that swept Swisher into his coveted nomination unanimously and by acclamation, the other candidates withdrawing before the cheering onslaughts of the Swisherites. It was a gallant rally of what for a second looked like a forlorn hope and now Marion, with two candidates on the state ticket, can be counted on to put to rout all the claims made by the Democratic Flemings of that county.

The result of the two days' convention summed up is this: The ticket is one in every way admirable and will have the united and cordial support of the vigorous, aggressive, confident and ever-growing Republican party of West Virginia. The platform, while perhaps not all that some of the leaders had hoped for, is one they can all rally on and one which does not antagonize the interests of corporations or people. The result in November will be the state's electoral vote will go to Roosevelt and Fairbanks. The once solid south will not be resolidified and the great body of colored voters in the state will not be disfranchised.

The entire Republican state ticket will be elected by increased majority and the legislature to be chosen will send Nathan B. Scott back to the United States senate. The Democratic choice of ex-Senator Henry G. Davis as its vice presidential candidate will not have the desired effect. His son-in-law, "Uncle Steve" Elkins, has announced that he will again buckle on the armor of Republicanism and lead the party in this state to the greatest victory it has ever known.

Colored Orators Had a Chance.

Lenhart was chosen a presidential elector by acclamation. Dr. Monroe was chosen by a vote of 441 to 328 for Dr. J. E. Robbins of Fayette. Wirt county, a Teter stronghold, promising that the choice of Dr. Monroe would make Wirt certain for Dawson.

A veritable waterspout of oratory succeeded the steady flow that had prevailed all day, at the conclusion of the convention. It was decided to add to the state executive committee of 15 one member-at-large, the same to be a colored man. This was where the colored delegates were permitted to surpass all their previous efforts in the speaking line. Four were named for the place, John Noel of Fayette, T. H. Norris of Ohio, S. W. Stark, who was declared to be "the high priest in the black temple of Republicanism," and W. H. Gordon of Cabell.

The first roll call failed to nominate. During the progress of the second call the friends of Noel stampeded the convention and the Kanawha man and brother was finally chosen by acclamation.

Candidate Dawson was on the floor of the convention this morning and received assurances from those who had opposed him that he would have their unswerving support. The veteran campaigner lost no time. With the experience of the past 13 years as chairman of the state committee at his fingers' ends, he put his hands on the levers that put in motion the machinery that in past years has carried other candidates to victory and which will this year put the old pilot in supreme command of the ship.

BLOODY LITTLE BATTLE.

Russians Slaughter Japanese Outposts at Mo-Tien Pass, Then Retire.

AT THE FRONT WITH GEN. KUROKI'S FORCES, JULY 4, VIA SEOUL, KOREA, July 13.—The brief and disastrous attempt of the Russians to overwhelm the small Japanese force which guarded the entrance to the Mo-Tien pass was a bloody affair. The losses cannot be ascertained until the battlefield has been searched. The Japanese are still driving the enemy up the valley. The Russians probably had more than 200 men killed or wounded, and the Japanese casualties probably will amount to 60.

Mo-Tien pass opens up a funnel-shaped hill. Thirty-six Japanese were quartered in a Chinese house near the bottom of the hill, and two companies of Japanese soldiers were in a trench a hundred yards long, located on the summit. Two other companies of soldiers slept near this trench.

Between 2 and 4 o'clock in the morning, in complete darkness and in a heavy fog enshrouding the hills, two battalions of the Tenth and Twenty-fourth East Siberian regiments, together with 100 cavalrymen surrounded the pickets and outposts in the house and slaughtered them. The fighting in the trenches and in front of the trench was hand to hand.

The first Russian onslaught was repelled but the Russians charged twice again within half an hour. The remainder of the Japanese regiment, however, to which the outposts and the companies at the trench belonged, reinforced their comrades and forced the Russians to retreat one mile down the valley.

RAILWAY CLERK IS ACCUSED OF THEFT

ST. PAUL, MINN., July 13.—William I. Stine, formerly chief clerk to General Manager Scott of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway, was arrested today upon a complaint sworn out in the county attorney's office, on a charge of stealing $10,000 in bonds from a safe in the general manager's office. It is charged that Stine took the bonds shortly after the death of Mr. Scott, last year. Stine is supposed to have disposed of the securities in the east, with the aid of other parties.

He finished the entire three quarts; then, with a smile, he said: "I win the bet." He had hardly spoken the words when he began suffering agony and finally became unconscious.

primary elections, to be held by each political party for the nomination of all candidates for office to be filled by election.

The tax bills spoken of in the platform are the ones agreed upon by the compromise commission. They aim to take the burden off real estate gradually and find a source of revenue among corporations. The radicals were in favor of removing the 35-cent tax on every $100 worth of real estate at one swoop and compelling the railroad, coal, gas and oil companies to furnish the revenues necessary to run the state government. Under the compromise proposition this will be brought about gradually as it was in Pennsylvania and Ohio. This plan meets with the approval of the corporate interests in the state.

Dawson has been a radical in the matter of tax revision and as a result has had the corporators arrayed against him. The resolution committee, as a result, had a great responsibility placed upon it. If this body had decided to report in favor of a plank authorizing the party to advocate legislation compelling the companies that are developing the natural resources of the state to bear the entire burden of taxation, there would have been a refusal to assist the Republicans to carry the election this fall.

Senator Stephen B. Elkins recognized the need for conservative action and he took an active part in the deliberations of the committee. With him were Congressman Dayton and Judge Reese Blizzard, who desired a conservative handling of the proposition. On the other side were W. P. Hubbard of Wheeling and George C. Sturgis of Morgantown. At first they sought to incorporate in the platform the radical views of the candidate for governor. The nominee saw that it would be unwise and finally a compromise was agreed upon as quoted above.

Victory Insured for Ticket.

The selection of the balance of the ticket today, together with the conservative platform, insured the election of the ticket. With the exception of Ogdin, the nominee for state treasurer, the candidates are conservatives in the matter of taxation. The governor and the other state officers form the board of public works. Even if the governor were inclined to carry out his ideas in the matter of taxation, a majority of the board would be in opposition to his views. There is no danger, however, of Mr. Dawson attempting to do anything which might impede the march of industrial development of the state. He is well satisfied with the declarations of his party on the question of tax revision and will be content to work along that line.

While Mr. Dawson has made his campaign on the tax revision issue, there has not been a great deal of attention paid to the nomination of members to the legislature by the Dawson forces. As a result the conservatives claim that they will have a majority of the members. All hope of the Democracy splitting the party on the tax issue is now passed and the Republicans can be counted on to go into the November fight presenting a solid front.

The compromise tax bills have been placed in the hands of Gov. A. B. White. It is not likely that he will call an extra session of the legislature to consider them. When asked tonight concerning his intentions, he said that he was not prepared to answer the question. From other sources it is learned that the matter of tax revision will be left to the regular session of the lawmakers to be held in January of next year.

The platform adopted tonight is very brief. It indorses the nomination of Roosevelt. Senator Elkins is praised for his work in the securing of river improvements and for putting through the bill preventing railroad companies from giving rebates. Senator N. B. Scott is complimented for his work in the senate and on the national Republican committee. The party also indorses him for re-election by the next legislature. Even this plank was agreed to by W. P. Hubbard, who is considered a possible competitor for the seat of Senator Scott.

There is a strong indorsement of the "course, official conduct, acts and doings of Gov. A. B. White, who has given the state a pure, clean, and efficient administration, without even a hint from any source of jobs or scandals of any kind."

BOERS WILL FIGHT NATIVES FOR GERMANS

General Maritz Said to Have Been Engaged to Subdue Rebellious Hereros.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, July 14.—The Capetown correspondent of the Leipziger Neueste Nachrichten, in a letter dated June 21, says that the Boer general Maritz intended leaving for German Southwest Africa on June 27 with 70 ox wagons, 200 natives and 10 experienced Boers, and that two steamers had been chartered to carry the party to Swakopmund, where they were due to arrive July 3. Gen. Trotha, the commander of the German troops, intended to entrust Gen. Maritz with the management and transportation of the main division. Gen. Maritz also offered to secure 500 experienced young Boers to help in suppressing the Hereros. The correspondent explains that the Boer method of fighting the natives is to trek at night and entice them out of their concealment.

This story hitherto has lacked confirmation, but the Tageblatt expresses the hope that it is true, and that the offer has been accepted, particularly as the Boers will probably remain as colonists.

ONLY ONE MISSING IN SLOCUM DISASTER

NEW YORK, July 13.—The total dead in the destruction of the excursion steamer General Slocum on June 15, is given as 958 in the final report to Police Commissioner McAdoo today by the inspectors in charge of the investigation by the police department. Only 897 of the dead were identified, 62 were reported missing, and 61 unidentified, while 180 were injured. Only 235 out of the nearly 1,400 on the steamer escaped uninjured. Assuming that the unidentified dead are among the missing, all but one person has been thus far accounted for.

BALTIMORE, July 13.—The first conviction in Maryland under the "Jim Crow" car law, which was passed at the last session of the legislature, was secured today in the criminal court, when Judge Wright found James Davis (colored) guilty of violating the terms of the law and fined him $20. Davis was arrested aboard the steamer Rock Creek, July 2, on a charge of refusing to occupy the colored apartments on the steamer.

ARMIES CLOSE IN ON KUROPATKIN

sure from this quarter would render Ta-Tche-Kiao untenable.

All the Japanese energies now seem to be concentrated on Ta-Tche-Kiao and Hai-Cheng. The operations to the north, which throughout may have been feints, have been suddenly suspended.

The unusually well-informed military critic of the Russky Viedomosti believes that Gen. Kuropatkin is deliberately surrendering his southern positions, as that of Kai-Chow, for the purpose of drawing on the Japanese into the open country at or above Ta-Tche-Kiao, where the Russians will be able to deploy large forces and to derive full advantage from their superior cavalry. He attributes Gen. Oku's advance to the necessity of helping Gen. Nodzu, whose divisions are stalled in the Chapan and Dalin passes on account of transport difficulties and to the stubborn resistance of Gen. Zaroubaieff, commander of the Fourth Siberian army corps, whose forces will have to be cleared out before a southern advance is made. The critic thinks that the Japanese game of strategy is to effect a juncture between Nodzu and Oku, in order to force Kuropatkin to the northward, and if this plan should be successful, to combine with Kuroki near Liao-Yang.

CHEFOO, July 13.—A dispatch received here from Lloyd's agent at Niuchwang says:

"Japanese scouts were seen this morning at Blackwoods pond, six miles south of here. Gen. Oku, with 50,000 men, is advancing rapidly between this place and Ta-Tche-Kiao."

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—The general staff has received a dispatch from Gen. Sakharoff, dated July 12, reporting that the Japanese on July 10 commenced to construct field works on the heights behind the railroad line and the road from Kai-Chou to Ta-Tche-Kiao.

TA-TCHE-KIAO, July 13.—A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press in the field, describing the fight which preceded the capture of Kai-Chou, says that the Japanese did not display their customary prudence. They advanced in open formation, with cries of "Banzai," meeting the hail of artillery and rifle fire from Maj.-Gen. Kondratsvitch's men and being literally mowed down. The dead and wounded were so thick that the Red Cross and coolie burial parties worked the whole night.

REPORTS PERSIST OF JAPANESE DISASTER

Mudken Asserts That Mikado Lost 30,000 Men Before Port Arthur.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Associated Press received the following telegram today from Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, dated Bar Harbor, Maine:

"An official statement to the general staff from Admiral Alexieff reports that news has been obtained from Japanese sources to the effect that a night attack made on Port Arthur on July 11, was repulsed and that the Japanese losses were terrible, nearing the enormous number of 30,000 men."

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—A special dispatch received from Mukden tonight, dated July 12, repeats the story of a Japanese repulse at Port Arthur with the loss of 30,000. The original report reached St. Petersburg last night in the form of a newspaper dispatch from Mukden, and was received with incredulity, but at about noon, when Viceroy Alexieff officially telegraphed the news to the general staff, it created a tremendous impression. It was immediately transmitted to the Official Messenger and a few minutes afterward the newsboys were racing through the streets, electrifying the crowds with the tidings. The boys were fairly mobbed by people anxious to buy the extras.

TOKYO, July 13.—(Special Cable.)—It is denied in high quarters here that the Japanese army has suffered a reverse with heavy loses at Port Arthur. The story which is repeated here from Europe that the Japanese have lost 30,000 men there is laughed at as absurd.

showed particular hospitality and the bank representatives in the party were driven through the towns in special carriages. Late in the afternoon the party left its Pullman train and made a short trip to Weston and Buckhannon in two day coaches.

After the train had started E. J. Lloyd, F. C. Waddell, W. W. Crawford, Charles Kalb, R. W. Haworth, W. R. Gill and L. Franzell were left behind. When Division Superintendent U. B. Williams of the Baltimore & Ohio heard of their predicament he ordered the special train to be stopped eight miles out while a locomotive was detached from a freight train to secure the belated boomers. The passengers climbed on the tender and soon overtook the train.

WHAT LOVE WROTE.

Is Accused of Having Attacked Robinson's Acts as Administrator.

The libel suit brought against R. Park Love, the Philadelphia club man, by John W. Robinson, the Allegheny select councilman, a cousin of Love's mother, will come up in court today, unless it shall have been compromised. A number of men in Allegheny public life have been summoned as witnesses for Robinson.

The story of Love's arrest in Philadelphia on a bench warrant issued by Judge Frazer was printed in yesterday's Gazette. The alleged libelous matter was contained in letters which Love wrote to the prominent men aforesaid after he had been here on a visit last winter. The charge is that in the letters he attacked Robinson's administration of an estate and made accusations which Robinson resented, especially as his account has been approved by the orphans court.

This Piano Sale Beats All Records Because Fine, New Instruments Go at "Second-Hand" Prices

The sale of those used upright pianos at $100 each has stirred up a demand for instruments of the kind such as we never dreamed of. As there were only 22 of the used instruments only a few remain.

But this sale must continue. We allow no dull times at this store. In order to keep things moving in an otherwise dull season we included in this sale a lot one hundred fine NEW pianos for $145 to $200. They have never been used. They are excellent instruments. The house of Hamilton would not stand back of them if they were not first-class pianos.

These new pianos, which we are selling at prices such as you would pay ordinarily for used instruments, comprise the best workmanship and are constructed of the best piano material. They are sweet of tone and durable.

The sale is in progress. It is an unprecedented sale. People are coming from far and near. Don't wait a more convenient season, but come now. To make sure of one of these pianos at the unheard of low prices better write or telephone us to reserve you one until you can inspect it for yourself. Then come on the first car.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 13.—Today's rain covered the entire northwest. Conditions are such as greatly to disturb the grain trade. The downfall was especially heavy in the Red river valley, where the ground is already soaked. President James J. Hill of the Great Northern railway, said today that in his opinion the United States will not raise more than 600,000,000 bushels of wheat with the best possible conditions from now on.

[CON]SOLIDATION OF [W]ATER COMPANIES

Concerns Supplying Towns Below Allegheny Combine and Increase Capital.

PROMINENT MEN INTERESTED

The water companies supplying Bellevue, Avalon, Ben Avon, Emsworth, Keating, West View and the lower part of McKees Rocks have effected a consolidation and increased the joint capital stock from $300,000 to $1,000,000 for the purpose of extending the service and the lines to supply a number of other towns along the Ohio river below the city of Allegheny. The new company is composed of men prominent in financial affairs in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, some of whom are of prominence also in politics.

The new company is required by the law to incorporate separate underlying companies for each borough, and to do this applications have been made to the state for four charters. The underlying company for Avalon will be the Vermont Water Company, the Idaho Water Company for Bellevue, the Colorado Water Company for Ben Avon, the Arizona Water Company for Emsworth. Separate charters will also be asked for McKees Rocks, Keating West View, Sewickley and other towns for miles below Allegheny.

These companies will operate under the Valley Consolidated Water Company. In this company are William Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National bank; Robert McAfee, state bank commissioner; John R. Murphy, former recorder of Allegheny; J. Dawson Callery and W. D. Callery, Michael McMullen and others well known. The president of the company is Joseph G. Hastings, city garbage contractor of Allegheny. The secretary and treasurer is T. Lee Clark of Bellevue.

The company has proved a rich money-maker on account of the character of water it supplies. Its supply is from wells in Neville island in the Ohio river, the river water percolating through the sand and gravel and going into the wells perfectly clear and filtered. So popular has this water become to its consumers that Pittsburgh has been advised to sink similar wells in the Allegheny and Monongahela waters to supply this city, instead of spending millions on a filtration plant, it being argued that it would prove a great deal cheaper to the city.

To Make You Feel Right

take a delightful Sunday outing up the beautiful Monongahela valley. Sidewheel steamers Columbia and Woodward leave foot of Smithfield street Sundays at 8:30 a. m., to meet down boat. Fare, $1.50. Enforcing Payment of Vehicle Licenses.

To enforce payment of this year's vehicle and automobile licenses Ordinance Officer M. A. Snyder of the city treasurer's office has brought a number of actions before local aldermen against more than 20 individuals who have been delinquent in this year's payment of licenses. The suits were preferred by the direction of E. J. Frauenheim, city treasurer. Every delinquent is subject to a fine of $10, including the costs of the proceedings.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY PAPERHANGERS' UNION

The Retiring President Was Recipient of a Valuable Silver Tea Set.

Paperhangers' local, No. 282, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, has elected new officers to manage the affairs of the union. This local is the richest in this district, having a reserve fund greater than any union with the same number of members. There are 200 paperhangers affiliated with this local and new members are being received every week. The election resulted in M. J. O'Neil being chosen president; J. Friends, vice president; R. D. White, recording secretary; Charles J. Kolb, financial secretary and J. J. White, treasurer.

M. J. O'Neil.

Charles Keisling, the retiring president, was given a surprise. Just as he stepped from the chair, after turning over the gavel to Mr. O'Neil, Edward A. Eisel, secretary of the district council, made a speech, during which he presented Mr. Keisling with a solid silver tea set. It is largely due to Mr. Keisling's energy that the local has prospered so greatly.

Thursday, July 14, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 14 of this issue.

Charles M. Schwab, who has been paying to certain persons the sums they lost in the ill-fated United States Shipbuilding deal, has also become active again in business. He is looking into the armor plate subject in the interest of the Bethlehem plant and is assisting in the financing of a seamless tube enterprise. Mr. Schwab is too vigorous a man to remain idle and now he has his health back is apt to be heard from a good deal in ways more to his credit than many of the tales told last summer. His friends in Pittsburgh have never believed all they heard of him for they knew too well what sort of foundations many of the stories were built upon. And his friends here are numerous.

There is rejoicing in West Virginia where the Pittsburgh business men have carried the news that a new fast freight service is to be established between this city and the thriving towns up the Monongahela and West Fork rivers. This news has assured the excursionists the warmest welcome West Virginia can give them and that is saying much, for West Virginia hospitality is the genuine thing. This trip of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association is cementing the bonds of a kindred people and establishing closer relations where they should have existed long ago. Monongalia, Marion, Harrison and other counties of West Virginia are as closely related to Pittsburgh in interest as any of the counties of Western Pennsylvania.

A very interesting case is pending in Westphalia, Germany. A water company supplying one of the towns of that kingdom has been sued for causing an epidemic of typhus, or typhoid fever. It is quite well established that these epidemics have their source in impure water supplies, but no one in this country has ever attempted to place the responsibility upon the company or municipality supplying the water. Germany has advanced farther in its scientific conceptions and it is quite natural the first test in the world on this point should be made in that country. The case will be noted and watched to conclusion with much interest, as involving the weight of scientific opinion, as evidence in court. It is a warning to municipalities and water companies to set their houses in order.

Plans for the presidential campaign are now under way and some of them are apt to strike the foreigner as odd developments of our political system. For example a railroad siding is being constructed near Judge Parker's home at Esopus, for the accommodation of crowds that are expected to go to see him. The judge is having offices fitted up in his residence for the transaction of political business. In the countries where they have kings they miss these pleasant diversions, which have become familiar to the American people, though many of them doubt whether these incidents of a campaign ever have any influence upon the result. President Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks, though first nominated, have made no political arrangements yet, though they have conferred together on the campaign.

Germany has finally been compelled to call upon Great Britain for assistance in coping with the Herero uprising in German Southwest Africa. The British have responded to the call and will give the Germans the benefit of their longer experience in dealing with the blacks, as a neighborly nation should. But it is probable this development of the campaign will excite fierce criticism in Germany of the blundering colonial administration. That office has already been the subject of indignant abuse by a large element of the German people and the German press and the popular dislike of England will add to their feeling of humiliation. But after all the German colonial administration can better afford the criticism than to stick in the hole in which it has found itself.

Yesterday there appeared a new phase of the Russian report that Gen. Noghi had lost 30,000 men in an assault upon Port Arthur. This report stated that Japanese had admitted the loss to Russians, somewhere in the field, the latter having reported it to Alexieff's headquarters at Mukden. If anything had been needed to stamp the report unreliable this would do it. If the Japanese along the line in southern Manchuria gave the Russians any such information it was with the intention to hoax them. More direct information is to the effect that the Japanese are continuing their advances at Port Arthur, where the fighting is growing heavier daily and the situation more critical. The absence of news from the northern armies is portentous of action in that quarter. The next report may be of battles and losses.

The Bond Election.

While it is a satisfaction that the bond issue for filtration was approved by a decisive majority, yet it is matter for surprise that such a heavy vote was polled against it and that the majority was not greater. No expenditure that might be proposed could be of greater or more general advantage to the community than the purification of the water supply. Not only is it the only means of relieving the community from typhoid fever ravages but it is a measure of direct economy, as the metering of the service, which is an essential feature of the filtration plans, will obviate the necessity for outlays upon pumping stations that will otherwise have to be made upon a lavish scale and with increasing frequency. If the experience of other cities has any bearing upon the Pittsburgh situation, the ultimate result should be a reduction in the water bills of the mass of consumers. Rightly considered, the water loan is a remunerative investment, not involving any additional burden upon the taxpayers. And yet, nearly twelve thousand ballots were cast against it in a light vote and the bond issue was approved by a majority of about only three thousand.

One must conclude that the hump removal bond issue acted as a drag upon both propositions. There was strong opposition to the issue of bonds for hump reduction and there were good grounds for it. The opposition thus developed tended to extend to the entire issue and thus votes were recorded against the filtration issue that would not have been adverse had that issue stood alone. This is indicated by the fact that the opposition rolled up a strong vote, not only in the South Side wards, which have a special grievance because they are not yet included in the city water service, but also in the East End wards. We do not believe the opposition would have been considerable outside of the South Side wards had the filtration issue stood alone. As it was, it had the strength to go through notwithstanding the load it had to carry through association with the hump removal proposition.

Although much inferior in importance to the filtration matter, hump removal will be such a desirable improvement that we are glad to note the announcement that there is no intention of abandoning the matter. It certainly ought to be put through, but its supporters should go about it the right way. The cost should be assessed upon the property directly benefited and if existing laws do not admit of such a proceeding the needed powers should be procured at the next session of the legislature. Much has been said about the gains that will accrue through the enhancement of values in the hump district, but this only emphasizes the injustice of putting so much of the expense upon the community at large. The fact should be recognized that Tuesday's vote shows the necessity of giving the proposition more equitable shape. No argument will convince householders in the residence wards that they should vote to increase the public debt for a local improvement in the downtown business district. At the same time the vote does not indicate any antagonism to the improvement itself. How great and far-reaching is its value may not be generally appreciated, but everybody recognizes that it would be a good thing to take that crimp out of the downtown section and smooth out the streets there, and if the cost of the improvement will be met by those who are directly benefited by it there will be no opposition to it.

Money Issue Still Leads.

The Gazette's estimate of the situation presented by Parker's personal acceptance of the gold standard which his party disregarded, was confirmed in the same issue of the paper by Mr. Bryan himself. He says that the fight on that issue is postponed but not abandoned and that "as soon as the election is over I shall, with the help of those who believe as I do, undertake to organize for the campaign of 1908."

What Mr. Bryan says he always means.

Whatever else may be said about him it must be admitted that he has the courage of his convictions. At Kansas City, four years ago, when the committee on resolutions was divided on the question of ignoring the money issue, he did not wait like Judge Parker until after he had been nominated before expressing his views, but promptly sent word to the convention, before any action whatever had been taken, that he must not be considered a candidate for the nomination in case the money question was ignored in the resolutions. His latest utterance upon the political situation is stamped with sincerity in every line, so that we know what to expect in case Judge Parker should be elected.

Far from being a settlement of the monetary issue it would mark the opening of a fresh conflict over it in congress. We have Mr. Bryan's word for it that as soon as the election is over work will begin to marshal the Democratic party "to the support of a radical and progressive policy." The gold standard views tolerated in the presidential candidate will be counteracted through the Democratic party in congress. Even putting the lowest possible estimate upon the strength of the silver party and upon the extent of Bryan's influence, it is certain that the Democratic party would be split, so that executive policy and legislative conduct would be at cross purposes. We should have a faction conflict like that which raged during Cleveland's administration, tearing up the business interests of the country, checking enterprise, depressing industry and bringing on hard times.

The gold standard must necessarily be the leading issue of every campaign until the Democratic party explicitly accepts it in its national platform, so that every candidate for congress stands upon a gold plank as well as the presidential nominee. The personal and private platform of a candidate may bind him but does not bind his party and the candidate cannot be elected without electing his party.

The True Size of It.

We do not dispute that Judge Parker did a manly and courageous act in sending the Sheehan telegram, but its importance as an expression of character is now being absurdly magnified. The facts of the case should not be lost sight of. Considering those facts in their order we find that Judge Parker had been for months content to stand upon a platform as mute as the platform adopted at St. Louis. The platform adopted by the New York Democratic state convention on April 18, begins by saying that "the Democrats of New York, in renewing their pledge of fidelity to the essential principles of Jeffersonian Democracy, as repeatedly enunciated in our national and state platforms, make these further declarations upon the national issues of the hour." These "further declarations" are set forth in ten planks and in none of them is there any mention of the monetary standard or of financial policy. In this respect the platform served as a model for the one adopted at St. Louis, while its preamble was tantamount to a reaffirmation of the free silver declarations "repeatedly enunciated" in the state and national platforms of the party. Upon this platform Judge Parker stood for nearly three months without any sign of disagreement with it, nor did he speak until he had obtained the nomination.

It has now been definitely ascertained that the Sheehan telegram was not dispatched from Esopus until nearly noon of the day on the morning of which Judge Parker learned of his nomination. The New York papers of that morning were full of denunciations of the platform surrender, those upon whose support he had been counting advising him that unless he spoke out promptly in favor of the gold standard he was doomed to defeat from the start. The World editorial headed "Shall Roosevelt Have a Walkover" was telegraphed to Judge Parker during the night and handed to him as soon as he rose in the morning. It declared that "ten words from Judge Parker to the chairman of the New York delegation will insure the adoption of a resolution that will make the platform safe and sane." Judge Parker deliberated for over three hours and finally wrote the Sheehan telegram which was filed at Esopus at 11:50 a. m. It reached Mr. Sheehan at St. Louis at 2:45 p. m. At 5 p. m. a query was received at Esopus from St. Louis whether the telegram was authentic and it was at once confirmed.

The record shows that Judge Parker stood for months on a platform more inimical to the gold standard than that adopted at St. Louis, that he did not declare his views until he had been nominated, and not then until he found that leading party papers were in open revolt against the platform, and not even then until half the day had elapsed and the convention was nearing adjournment when it was practically impossible for it to retrace its steps. Such being the case, there is ample ground for the anxiety which the New York Herald reports to exist among his friends "lest the people conclude it was a shrewd political trick instead of the act of a man of moral heroism." The highest characterization as well as the most truthful estimate that can be made of Judge Parker's behavior was that expressed by Mr. Bryan when he said: "It is a manly thing for a man to express his opinion before the convention adjourns. It would have been a manlier thing to have expressed it before the convention met."

"Platforms," said Senator Hill, "are like sausages. You are apt to lose your respect for them when you know how they are made." The force of this remark increases as the St. Louis production is studied.

James J. Hill predicts a short wheat crop. This will be rather hard on Europe, which depends largely upon this country for its supply, especially as Russia will not be a heavy exporter this year.

Judge Parker goes in swimming
And Davis he makes hay;
But neither's in the running
That ends election day.

After Parker's long silence, what could be more natural than that the Democrats should turn to a man with the attractive name of Gassaway.

Senator Fairbanks has no reputation as a swimmer or haymaker, but out in Hoosierdom they do say he's a great vote getter.

Here is where the vegetarian comes in with his merry ha, ha, until he finds the prices of other provisions sailing upward.

Pittsburgh merchants are carrying everything before them in West Virginia, and West Virginia appears to be glad of it.

It was a sad blow to the Dispatch which heartlessly abandoned filtration and wedded itself to the hump.

Another St. Louis boodler has entered a plea of guilty. No use trying to get away from Folk any longer.

Port Arthur reminds us that war is fully up to Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman's specifications.

While the butchers are striking it is understood they are not doing it with their cleavers.

Talked of in Gotham

By ALEXANDER DODDS.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—The protected gambling houses of New York received another blow today when District Attorney Jerome won a signal victory in his battle for the suppression of vice and graft, by the appellate division sustaining the lower courts by declaring Jesse Lewisohn in contempt for not testifying against Richard A. Canfield. Lewisohn, despite all his wealth and graft with Tammany must now tell what he knows about the playing of roulette in Canfield's den, or fight the case on higher up. It has been a hard fight for District Attorney Jerome, who must not only wage the battle for purity, but also combat the Herculean strength of Tammany, whose constituents cannot stand for the lid.

Jesse Lewisohn, on the other hand, stands the uncrowned hero of the gambling-mad masses. In him they see a man not afraid of the prison bars or the process of the law, who does not run away, but is fighting Jerome. Greatest of all to their mind is the fact that although he has millions he will not "peach" upon his associates. District Attorney Jerome, however, is determined in his struggle to firmly establish the constitutionality of his gambling witness law which the legislature at Albany passed in order to make "Reggie" Vanderbilt and Lewisohn testify.

Mayor Warned Against Graft.

Tammany now stands accused of another graft game that is the most far-reaching of any it has ever been implicated in. This newest charge of bad faith with the public is the fireproof building ordinance, recently passed by the board of aldermen. Mayor McClellan has received so many letters concerning the matter that today he announced he would give a public hearing tomorrow morning. It is said these letters contain conclusive proof that the measure is in the interest of a fireproof wood manufacturing company controlled by Alderman James Gaffney, Leader Murphy's personal representative in the board and of the Roebling Construction Company.

Frank Croker, son of Richard Croker, is said to be connected with this concern. It is shown under the new ordinance it will be possible for the department to force everyone who puts up a residence or business house, large or small, to purchase fireproofing material from these two companies. Alderman Gaffney is also the head of the New York Excavating & Construction Company, which holds the contract for the digging in which 8,000 Tammany henchmen are to be given employment.

What the Magic Sneeze Does.

Another form of graft is that of the protected drug stores which are evading the liquor license law. It is whispered that behind the innocent bottles of fruit syrups lurk cool flagons of Scotch and rye and the green overshot bottles of the juice of the juniperberry. It is said that when a thirsty soul panteth for something stronger than a peach sundae or a chocolate shrub he sneezes and asks the man in the white coat for a calisaya. In a few moments the thirsty soul departs smacking his lips over a Scotch highball or a silver fizz. The state commissioner of excise who has started the crusade says that the noses of some of the policemen on the downtown beats of the protected drug stores are so red from sneezing that he at first thought hay fever was epidemic. However, he discovered that the rubicund proboscis was inflamed not by the scent of new mown hay, but what was sent through a straw to the thirst-parched lips of the sneezer.

Free Lectures Were Popular.

The sixteenth season of free lectures in this city has just closed and according to the reports it has proven the best in the history of the movement. These lectures were attended by 1,135,000 persons. There are now 143 lecture centers in the city and of the 153 courses of six lectures, the majority have been delivered by professors and teachers in the universities. The season extended from October 1, 1903, to April 25, 1904, but owing to the reduced appropriation from the board of education about a dozen lecture centers were discontinued after February 29.

The Barbarossa's Proud Record.

The steamship Barbarossa came to port today covered with glory; having established a new record for births during the trip across. When two days out from Bremen, the list of 1,100 steerage passengers was augmented by the birth of a little girl. Capt. Mentz officiated at the christening and named the babe Barbara. He remarked he could immortalize the ship if he only could have a second similar event, by bestowing the name of Rosa upon the newcomer. Mrs. Hirsch, also of the steerage, realized the good captain's ambition and the cabin passengers raised $100 which was divided among the two happy mothers.

Saved by Brother Masons.

Willson Frederick, three-quarters of whose body was scalded in a wreck on the Jersey Central railroad in January, 1903, went to Plainfield last night to attend a meeting of the Anchor lodge to thank the fellow-members for the sacrifice they had made in saving his life. Anchor lodge, when it heard of Frederick's plight, volunteered to furnish the necessary cuticle for the skin grafting purposes. Night after night Masons bared their arms and slips of cuticle were removed. For more than a year this operation was continued and yesterday morning the physicians at Mullenbergs hospital pronounced him fit to make the trip to Plainfield to thank the members for their generous acts.

Hotels Have Bulge on the Butchers.

Pittsburgh patrons of the fashionable restaurants and big hotels who intend coming to the metropolis need have little fear that the butchers' strike will curtail the meat orders upon the daily menu. It is even announced that there is to be no increase in prices. It is here that mine host has the bulge upon the knights of the meat cleaver. No matter to what height the wholesale price may soar or how barren the market may be, the choice roasts and three-inch steaks will reach the hotel larder just the same. All the big hostelries have iron-ribbed contracts with reliable provision companies at standard prices which are to hold good the year round and the supply is practically guaranteed, for behind the contract lies the relentless hand of the law.

A Hint to High Livers.

David Miley, whose beard is very long and very white, and who has never shaved in all the 103 years of his existence, was arrested for loitering on a street corner today by a policeman who has a beat in Sixty-seventh street. His home is in the Bronx and his age is attested by the registration of his birth in the family Bible. The police sergeant entered him on the docket as Methuselah, Jr., and ordered him a substantial dinner, but was discomfited by a sharp reproof from Miley, who objected to jokes about his age and said he ate stale bread, drank one glass of beer with sugar in it, and smoked 10 pipes of tobacco each day. His son, who finally came for the aged wanderer, said the old man works in his garden each day. Miley said he had been for a walk and became confused and could not find his way home.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

We had some offish neighbors once that moved in, down the road,
We reckoned they was 'bout the proudest folks we'd ever knowed.
An' when we passed 'em now an' then we held our heads up high
To make dead sure they couldn't snub us if they was to try,
It really made me nervous, so I jes' braced up one day
An' thought I'd go ahead an' show my manners, any way.
One Sunday, 'stid o' turnin' round an' gazin' at the view,
I looked at them an' says, "Hello!" an' they says "Howdy do!"

It wa'n't the cold an' formal greetin' that you've sometimes heard;
They smiled an' said it hearty, like they meant it, every word.
It's solemn to reflect on what we miss along life's way
By not jes' bein' natural an' good humored day by day.
There's lots o' folks who fling the simple joys of life aside
Because they dread the shadow of their own unconscious pride.
And nine times out o' ten you'll find the rule works right an' true—
Jes 'tell the world "Hello!" and it'll answer "Howdy do!"

—Washington Star.

It is easy enough when you know how—easy enough to do anything in reason.

One of the harder things for some is to get acquainted with other people, as you may know from experience.

And then some are much easier to get acquainted with than others—that is for you, but not for some other folks. They don't fit you, or you don't fit them, and misfits always cause discomfort, and no one can be agreeable and uncomfortable at the same time.

Nor can you affect a comfortable feeling that will answer the purpose, nor will your studied efforts to be agreeable make your acquaintance comfortable. They may say they are delighted with you, but you know, somehow, that their delight is no greater than your own, and it isn't great enough to hurt.

The Western Reserve Yankee is an easy chap to get acquainted with. In fact he is acquainted with you as soon as he learns your name and where you came from, and you can't help feeling that he is no stranger, although you may never have met him before, nor ever knew he was on the earth.

You see, he took it that we are all of one family, but so scattered that we may not meet up with each only once in so long, or maybe never on earth. So he greets you as a member of the family, takes you into his home, if you look fit, and makes you welcome.

Naturally he will inquire about your wing of the family, where it is located, what its line is, and how it is making out, the same as you would about a wing of your own particular family. Nor is he prompted to this by curiosity alone, for he is interested in everybody, particularly those whom he meets or hears from.

If you have ever knocked around through the Western Reserve you have discovered that no man is a stranger there unless he shows unfitness to associate with good people. And even then he may find a welcome, for some of his own kind are liable to be around and about somewhere.

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares," is a text that seems to have been taught everywhere throughout the Western Reserve, and has not been forgotten.

And what better text is to be found in the Book anywhere from cover to cover? If it were taught more generally, and the teaching more generally acted upon, the people would be more fit to enjoy life than they are.

The only really happy people are the neighborly sort, and they will be happy, more or less, in spite of poverty, adversity or bad weather. Nor do these allow strangers to tarry long, but promptly exchange their stranger garb for neighborly raiment which is far more comfortable and sociable like.

You may have experienced this quick transition from stranger to neighbor. If so, you will probably say it was one of the most enjoyable experiences of your life. The sensation is that of soulful gratification rather than a mere passing pleasure.

And then there is something so very heartsome about it that you can't help wondering why the whole world is not really and truly a big neighborhood, and not made up mainly of strangers, with not a few who are moved by a spirit of enmity instead of genuine heavenly love—the love that prompts you to love thy neighbor as thyself.

If you can spare the time it will pay you to take a long walk through the Western Reserve, visiting with folks along the road and noting how greatly some differ from others.

Here and there you will run across a red frame house, as old-fashioned as can well be imagined, and near by a large up-to-date barn, which has the appearance of being regarded as a more important building than the farmhouse. The latter is rarely beautified by lawn, shade or flowers, there being no ready money in such things, therefore a waste of time to care for them. This, as you will learn, is a Pennsylvania Dutch home.

If you are looking for fat cattle, sheep, wool or farm products such as are raised thereabouts, this will be a good place to stop. You will find all hands too busy for visiting, but if you begin talking business a quick change will occur in the atmosphere.

Being too busy to visit with strangers they do not encourage them to linger by insisting on them waiting for dinner or staying all night. If you should ask for a meal you will not be refused, nor will your offer to pay for it be rejected.

These are thrifty people and usually have comfortable cash balances in bank, to say nothing of good investments in lands and gilt-edged securities.

The next farm may present an entirely different appearance. A neat, white frame house with green shutters, portico and side porches, situated among shady trees, a lawn in front and garden back, while off to one side are the outbuildings, all neat and comfortable looking.

This is a Yankee home, and you will be hailed into it, if you don't watch out, and the bright tin cup hanging on the pump, the comfortable looking chairs and benches under the trees and on the porches, and the wholesome appearance of things in general will combine to make it a welcome hail.

Even if you are not hailed in by some of the folks the pump and shade gives you an invitation that you can't refuse, and while the challenge of the collie is so good natured that you have no fears of being set upon or driven off.

This challenge brings someone to the door, and whether old or young, big or little, the dog is told to come away and you are bidden welcome to all the cool water you want, and invited to sit in the shade and rest awhile. There isn't anything coaxing in the manner and tone of the invitation, but there is no mistaking the neighborliness in it.

And someone will come to visit with you, or maybe the whole family will gather around to hear what you have to say and give you a very respectable hearing, for which you will be expected to stay for dinner or supper, and all night, for that matter, so you can get an early start in the morning.

And what a difference in the people!

Those in the red brick or frame houses are looking out for themselves, individually, and haven't much time for any fellow who is walking around to see the country.

Not so in the white house. The folks there want to know you, and to learn from you anything of interest they may not know, and for that reason they take you right in where they live and make you one of themselves. Instead of treating you as company they treat you as a neighbor and you soon come to feel so completely at home that you can hardly imagine yourself an acquaintance of only a few hours.

And when you offer to pay your bill you are told to wait until the next time, or to pay it to some fellow mortal who needs it worse than they do. And unless work is very pressing you are likely to be given a lift on your way by a team of steppers hitched to a light spring wagon big enough and good enough to carry the folks to church or anywhere that it is good to be.

There are exceptions to all rules, but if you look ahead, and mind yourself, you may find just such places every day.

Talking Shop

THE STROLLER.

Sometimes the charge is made against the newspapers that they are inaccurate. Many persons think no care is taken to get things right and when they find an error in the paper they take it as confirmation of their suspicions. I met a man the other day who had that idea and another, that a paper always needs something to "fill up." These two notions are as far from the truth as anything that anyone will ever find in the newspapers. It is possible some papers may justify the charge of negligence and general inaccuracy, but it would astonish the public if it knew of all the effort that is made in the course of a year in every well-regulated newspaper office to verify the "news" before printing it. It would also surprise many to know how many thousands of dollars are spent in a year running down the false "tips" that come in from various sources. My friend that I spoke of was telling me a tale he had heard and he concluded with the remark: "That will give you something to fill up with."

The story I had heard was interesting and the relator was a man of reputation for veracity. He had not, however, any personal knowledge of the reported event. The "tip" was duly given to the city editor and he sent out a reporter to verify it and obtain some wanted details. The reporter spent a half day and $5 in traveling expenses and telephone bills, only to learn there was no foundation for the story. He returned, footsore and disgusted, for the light of every reporter's life is to land right on a good news item. They are always disappointed when their assignments do not "pan out."

Now my good friend who told me that tale was nettled when he could not find it in the paper and next time he saw me he wanted to know why it had not been printed. I told him. Then I told him how the inaccuracies of which he had complained crept in, for the greater part from misinformation given by persons supposed to be reliable. He saw the point and declared he would never again tell a story to a newspaperman without first verifying it.

To give him a better idea of how the newspapers strive to get accurate information and how they are sometimes disappointed, I related to him an incident that happened a few days before, practically as follows:

A correspondent of the paper out of town telephoned in one afternoon that a banker in the town where he was had received a message from a small town farther out the road, which stated there had been a big cave-in in a coal mine there and that a large number of workman had been killed and injured. Priests were wanted to console the dying. Immediately the telephones in the office became busy. Every person who could be reached in the small town was asked what he knew about the matter and a man was engaged to go out and look it up.

Meantime the outside correspondent was directed to accompany the banker and the priests to ascertain the facts. Presently the man engaged at the small town reported there had been no accident at any of the mines in that vicinity and it became evident that telephone tolls to the amount of several dollars had gone for nothing. Later the out-of-town correspondent reported: "No cave in. Coal cars ran off track, one killed, two injured." His time and railroad fare were wasted. The item did not "pan."

This story is a type of what happens every day. Sometimes two or three times a day. The "inaccuracy" is not that of the newspaper in these cases, but of the persons who start the stories. Every newspaper knows better than to print all it hears, for these daily experiences prove the unwisdom of such a course. Every story must be verified if possible and usually they are verified from two or three sources. Sometimes the element of time enters and the work of proving has to be done at high speed. None but reporters know how high that speed is or how strenuous the task. Mistakes do occur, occasionally, in the hurry and they always lead to trouble for the unfortunate man who makes them.

Sometimes people refuse to tell the truth; sometimes they deliberately tell falsehoods to the energetic and insistent reporters. These same people complain of the unreliability of the press. Unreliable because made victim of the mendacity of those who do not understand, or who have no regard for the duty they owe the public. Only those who have experience can appreciate at the full the difficulties of chasing news and getting it right.

Talking shop, you say? Well, yes. The newspaper talks shop for other people every day in the year. It does not often talk about its own business. Once in a while, however, it seems proper to say a word for itself. Especially when the public conveys a strong hint, through some medium, that it is suffering under misapprehension of the facts. The newspaper tries to keep its readers posted upon all subjects and thinks no expenditure of money or energy too great to keep them informed of all that goes on in the world. Accuracy is its first and last endeavor. The news, all the news, and the truth about it. So when there is reason to apprehend its public may be misinformed regarding the manner and methods of gathering news it is a duty to correct the wrong impression.

Every good story does not get printed. Every first-class paper has more real news than it has space to print. Columns of stuff go into the waste basket every night. But every good story that can be proven true is told through the types. That is the routine of every day, to winnow out the chaff, to boil down the prolix stories, to print the best news and the things that are true. Anyone who knows the routine can tell you the same.

MARSE HENRY EXPLAINS.

Under the Circumstances What Else Could Judge Parker Do?

"Let the galled jade wince, our withers are unwrung."

It comes to us through the returning braves from the St. Louis convention that certain members of the Kentucky delegation in that body were quite overcome by the wise, manly and statesmanlike message of Judge Alton Brooks Parker, its nominee for president of the United States.

What else was the judge to do? His friends had sought ineffectually to secure the insertion of the gold plank in the platform. Mr. Bryan had sought effectually to keep it out. This was to make at least a dog fall. It was to have it go forth that the Bryan-Hearst crowd, seeking ruin and revenge, had got in their work over a great majority of Democrats who, weary of the journey twixt tweedle-dum and tweedledee, and worn with the dry husks of Populism and the dead languages of d—n foolism, were honestly seeking to work their way out of the wilderness of disaster and despair into the open and on to the highways of current political thought and action. It was, if not to put the Bryan brand upon the fabric, to give it such a Bryan swipe as would enable that cheap agitator to hie him thence and claim a victory, where he had planned a slaughter. This meant the defeat of the ticket, which was, is now, and will continue to be until the day of election, the dearest aspiration of the Bryan heart, if it has a heart; for the touch of Bryanism is a leprosy, its very memory a taint.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

In April 1850, he went to California, where he spent three years and then returned to Franklin and resumed the practice of his profession. Politically he was originally a Democrat and afterward one of the men who organized the Republican party in Venango county. In 1855 he was elected to the legislature and was twice re-elected. In 1874 he identified himself with the temperance movement and assisted in organizing the Prohibition party. He had since that time been an ardent supporter of the temperance cause establishing a number of years ago a daily paper in Franklin to fight its battles. OUSANDS HELP LITTLE ORPHANS

All Records for First Day Eclipsed by the Big Attendance Yesterday.

OVER 10,000 EXPECTED TODAY

With another bright day like that of yesterday and the weather man promises today will be clear and warmer, the managers of St. Paul's orphan asylum picnic expect the attendance to break all records of previous years. Last year's banner crowd was exceeded yesterday by over 500 people, the estimated attendance during the day and evening being 8,000.

From all sections of Allegheny county people went to help swell the fund being raised for the orphans. The capacity of Calhoun park was taxed, as more people arrived on the cars during the day and evening than departed. On every hand the stands erected by the congregations presented a more attractive appearance than ever before, and those hunting amusement found it without effort. Wherever one turned there was something to entertain him. Good humor prevailed on every hand and the people in charge of the stands never missed an opportunity to tell the crowd what they had to offer.

There were many chance games conducted inside the grounds, but as the money contributed was for the support of the orphans the coins kept going over the counters at a lively rate without thought as to the goods or amusement received in return.

Danced All Day Long.

All afternoon and evening the dancing platform was crowded, but as the dancers kept going and coming, there was plenty of room for all. The promenade outside the pavilion also gave exceptional opportunities for friends to meet and for people to watch the dancers. The gallery was also a popular place from which to watch the dancers.

Many priests and the Rt. Rev. J. F. Regis Canevin, the coadjutor bishop, attended the picnic. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Richard Phelan was not able to be present.

City Controller John B. Larkin was kept busy selling tickets at the stand at the head of the steps leading into the park, and the Rev. Father Michael Lynch, manager of St. Paul's Orphan asylum, as usual was covering every point in the park and meeting the friends of the orphans. Father Lynch said 50,000 tickets have been distributed and if the way the people arrived at the park yesterday can be taken as a precedent, the total number of visitors will eclipse the attendance at any former picnic.

The orphans' stand was a leading attraction and many people were entertained by the songs of William Maulier, aged 5, and Wilber Leach, aged 4, orphans. Edward and Matthew McHugh, small boys of Homestead, also helped to entertain at the orphans' stand, where pictures of the St. Paul's orphan asylum and the 900 inmates were sold. Little Willie Maulier kept things moving by his anxiety to get the 10 cents when a picture was bought.

Picture for the Next President.

Before starting for the park the orphans sent a picture of their home and themselves to President Roosevelt and Judge Parker, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, with the following letter:

Kindly permit us, the 900 inmates of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Orphan asylum, to offer you our congratulations on the honor lately conferred on you by representatives of your great political party, in national convention assembled, in selecting you as their candidate for the presidency of our beloved country. Be pleased, too, we beg of you, to allow us to offer you a picture of our beautiful home and ourselves, thousands of copies of which we hope to sell at the orphans' picnic today and tomorrow. Hoping that our next president will hold as high a place in the hearts of his countrymen as the greatest and most beloved of his predecessors, we beg to remain yours most respectfully,

THE 900 ORPHANS
In St. Paul's Orphan Asylum, Idlewood, Pa.

During the day 16 two-train cars run to the park and six extra trains were put on for the evening. With the regular cars on the McKeesport division running, the cars to the park were kept 2½ minutes apart. A baseball game was played between the team of the Epiphany congregation and the D. F. Crawfords of the East End in the afternoon. The contest was an exciting one, 12 innings being played. The score was 5 to 4 in favor of the Epiphany team.

WENT AS SHE CAME.

Strange Little Girl Wanders Into Ingram Then Suddenly Disappears.

Lost—found—lost.

Such is the history, as the borough of Ingram knows it, of a bright, gray-eyed, brown-haired, 9-year-old girl who appeared in the borough limits Monday and gave her name as Frances Smith.

She was first seen by a daughter of Burgess James N. Campbell gathering daisies in the woods. With tear-dimmed eyes she stated that she was the daughter of John T. Smith, who with his family had moved from Malta, O., to a point near Ingram on Saturday last. Going out to gather flowers on Monday morning, she "walked and walked ever so far." The girl was taken in charge by Mrs. S. B. Fetzer of 36 Chapman street, while the citizens of Ingram, St. Paul's Orphan asylum, the Pittsburgh Humane society and the board of charities set to work to locate her parents. The whole neighboring country was secured without result.

Last evening little Frances became one of a party of children playing hide and seek. She went to hide behind a clump of bushes and has not been seen since. Late last night it was reported that she was in the woods along the Steubenville pike, near Crafton, but a vigorous search failed to locate her.

WILSON STATION MAY GET BIG MANUFACTURING PLANT

The Jones & Laughlin company is said to be negotiating for the site. The deal includes all the property from the Clairton Steel works to the Wilson tube works. The rumors have it that a new tube works is to be erected and that the Wilson plant will form part of the new mill.

AN INVESTIGATION IS DEMANDED

Carnegie Museum Committee Writes Commissioner on Bird Slaughter Charge.

CASE MAY GO TO GOVERNOR

Demand has been made by the museum committee of the Carnegie Institute upon the game commission of Pennsylvania for an investigation into the charges preferred by Secretary Joseph Kalbfus alleging that agents in the employ of the committee had slaughtered birds in unwarranted numbers under pretext of using them for scientific purposes and had violated the game laws in shipping dead birds outside of the borders of the state.

A meeting of the museum committee was held Tuesday evening. A sub-committee, of which C. C. Mellor was made chairman, was instructed to communicate with the game commission demanding an investigation. The following letter was sent the commission last night:

I have been directed by resolution of the committee on the museum of the Carnegie institute, consisting of the following-named persons: C. C. Mellor, chairman; W. N. Frew, president of the board of trustees; Col. S. H. Church, secretary of the board of trustees; the Hon. James H. Reed, treasurer of the board of trustees; the Hon. William B. Hays, mayor of the city of Pittsburgh; the Hon. John D. Shafer, Mr. Albert Barr and Mr. George H. Clapp, to write you calling attention to what purports to be the report of your secretary published in the newspapers of July 9 and July 10, in which it is stated that certain members of the staff of the Carnegie museum have grossly abused the privilege hitherto accorded them to kill birds for scientific purposes, by killing in excessive numbers and by employing some of the specimens for purposes other than those for which permission to take them was granted. Upon this report you presumably based your refusal to renew a permit to Mr. W. E. C. Todd and have decided to grant no further permits.

Demand for Investigation.

If the facts were as alleged in the report submitted to you, your action would be perfectly justifiable, but knowing that the facts are not as stated in the report and that birds have not been taken in excessive numbers—not one-twentieth part of the number asserted by your secretary—nor have any specimens been sent beyond the limits of the state of Pennsylvania, and, furthermore, as this report involves a very serious charge against the management of a public institution and certain members of its staff, we demand a thorough and speedy investigation, and to this end proffer every facility for ascertaining the facts.

C. C. MELLOR,
Chairman of the Committee on the Museum, Carnegie Institute.

The committee of the museum had before them, at their meeting Tuesday night, what purported to be a copy of the report tendered the game commission by their secretary, and upon legal advice determined that the report was rife with criminal libel, in the light of the situation as the committee knows it. However, the committee is not inclined to become a party to a sensational criminal action unless compelled to do so, and trusts that an investigation will be instituted and a public retraction follow.

Big Shrinkage in Figures.

Personal investigation by the committee of the records of the institution, which are very complete, determined the fact that the museum has within its walls just 3,200 birds killed on the soil of Pennsylvania which have accumulated in the last nine years. Of this number 1,751 have been killed by their agents, who are charged with slaughtering upwards of 40,000, while the balance have been gathered by buying collections and receiving donations.

One of the committee, who does not care to be quoted, stated last night that in the event of the commission refusing to investigate the matter thoroughly and speedily, an appeal will be made to the governor to take steps to compel the commission to investigate the charges.

While the committee is inclined to have the matter adjusted without legal action, Dr. W. J. Holland and W. E. C. Todd, who were repeatedly mentioned in the report and who feel assured that they personally have been libeled, have not made known as yet what course they will pursue for vindication, but the opinion prevails that they will submit with the committee on museum if a general public retraction is made.

WILL FIGHT FOR TRADE.

Pittsburgh Coal Company Begins Aggressive Measures at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 13.—(Special.)—The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company has applied to the board of port commissioners, through their agent, R. J. Whann, for facilities on the river front, to erect a loading elevator hoppers, coal chute and other extensive facilities for unloading coal from barges on to the wharf or transferring to steamships. This request means that the Pittsburgh Coal Company intends fighting the Alabama coal interests to secure control of the steamship trade, that is, the coaling of ocean-going ships at this port. The Pittsburgh concern has never fought for this business very hard, and the present move indicates new enterprise on its part.

Engineer Coleman of the dock board reported that he wished time to consider the proposition of the coal people. It is likely that the request will be granted.

ORDER STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Allegheny Councils Committee on Public Works Approve Much Work.

The committee on public works of Allegheny last night reconsidered the resolution to employ an architect for the proposed electric light plant and passed the resolution affirmatively fixing his compensation within 5 per cent of the total cost of construction. The director of public works was instructed to lay water mains on Thirty-third street. The ordinance reducing the present wharf rate of $2 50 a foot was referred to a special committee. The ordinance calls for a rate according to location.

Other measures favorably reported were: Grading and paving Compromise street, Wilson avenue, Marshall avenue, St. Clair street and McIntyre avenue, and repaving McClure and Bidge avenues. A resolution to macadamize Marshall avenue to Riverview park was laid over.

SAN JUAN, P. R., July 13.—T. M. Cook has been appointed collector of the Panama canal zone. He sailed today for New York and from there will proceed direct to Panama to organize the customs service of the zone.

German Banks Are Merged.

BERLIN, July 13.—An alliance has been effected between the Commerz and Diconto bank of Berlin and Hamburg and the Credit and Spar bank of Leipsic. The former will shortly be reported on the board of the latter institution.

JOS. ZEUGER TO RESIGN FROM COMMON COUNCIL

Bigelow Picks Him as Successor in Select Branch to Late Thomas Geary.

The city administration has decided that Common Councilman Joseph Zeuger of the Ninth ward shall be elected to fill the vacancy in select council caused by the death of Thomas Geary. Zeuger has been offered the nomination and he will resign his seat in common council at once to enable a candidate to be put up as his successor in the lower branch.

This will create two vacancies in the Ninth ward and two councilmen will be elected at the same time. The election will be held in a couple of weeks, as the administration is anxious to get all the votes in select council possible in view of the approaching fight over the filtration contracts.

Zeuger has been a member of common council for 12 years and has been one of the most devoted followers of E. M. Bigelow. He claims to be a Democrat, and Geary, whom he expects to succeed, was a Democrat.

WILL RESIST EXTRADITION.

T. Julius Schaumleoffel, a Baltimore Attorney, Arrested Here and Committed to Jail.

T. Julius Schaumleoffel, an attorney wanted in Baltimore on a charge of embezzling about $35,000, who was arrested in this city Tuesday night, was committed to jail yesterday by Magistrate Stewart as a fugitive from justice in default of $4,000 bail. Schaumleoffel will be held until the requisition papers arrive from Maryland. The prisoner has engaged Attorney Rody P. Marshall to resist the requisition proceedings. Detective Thomas F. Hogan of Baltimore will go to Harrisburg this morning to appear before Gov. Pennypacker to secure his signature to the requisition papers.

TOO LATE TO ACT.

McKeesport Will Have to Accept Court Decision on the Soles Rebate.

The Soles rebate bill, which has been troubling McKeesport councils for a long time, is finally settled and the city of McKeesport loses $4,500. The rebate was settled at $9,500 instead of $15,000, in court lately.

Chairman Archie Duncan refused to call council, and although Rosenberg secured five signatures, he could not secure a quorum last night.

Today is the last day of grace for the bill to be taken to the supreme court, and select council will be unable to approve common council's action in asking the solicitor to make another attempt to save the $4,500.

Boys Steal Weapons.

A gang of boys entered the hardware store of M. K. Malone, Second street, Elizabeth, late Tuesday night and stole a number of revolvers and knives. Entrance was gained by breaking a window in the front of the establishment.

MAY REFUSE LOWER FARE

Application for Car Fare Reduction for High School Pupils Not Presented Yesterday.

The committee appointed by the Central board of education Tuesday night to confer with the street railway officials in an endeavor to secure a reduced fare for High school pupils did not call at the Philadelphia Company's offices yesterday. President J. D. Callery is out of the city and no appeal will probably be made until his return, which is expected early next week.

While no one in authority to speak could be seen yesterday, the opinion prevails that the request will be refused on the ground that it would be difficult to identify pupils from others who might enjoy the reduced rate by connivance, and that the pupils of the High school are, generally speaking, children of parents in comfortable circumstances.

Another argument which will be brought against the request is the fact that the pupils are on their way to school during one of the busiest hours of the day, when additional cars are run with a primary motive of accommodating them, and that under those additional expensive conditions a reduction would not be equitable.

Baby Was Alone in the House.

Mrs. Edith Muler, aged 23, of 620 Gazzam street, was arrested last night on complaint of her neighbors on the charge of being a suspicious person. About 9 o'clock last night Harry L. Muler, 3 years old, a son of the arrested woman, was found in the house alone. He was sent to the police station and an officer started in search of his mother. She was found at Crawford street and Webster avenue. An information charging the woman with abandoning a minor child will be made this morning.

REGISTER OF THE U. S. TREASURY USES PE-RU-NA FOR SUMMER CATARRH

Summer Catarrh Affects Men and Women.

Hon. Judson W. Lyons.

HON. JUDSON W. LYONS, Register of the United States treasury, in a letter from Washington, D. C., says:

"I find Peruna to be an excellent remedy for the catarrhal affections of spring and summer, and those who suffer from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Peruna."

—Judson W. Lyons.

No man is better known in the financial world than Judson W. Lyons, formerly of Augusta, Ga. His name is on every piece of money of recent date makes his signature one of the most familiar ones in the United States.

Two Interesting Letters from Thankful Women.

Miss Eleanor Lindblum, 555 Jackson street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

"Some time ago Peruna was recommended to me so highly as a nerve tonic that I decided to try it, especially as the doctors did not seem to do me any good. My condition was serious. I was run down from overwork and worry, and my nerves were in a dreadful condition. I could not sleep, and my appetite was nothing to speak of. After I had taken Peruna for a week, I was able to sleep and my appetite began to improve. I was greatly pleased and continued to take Peruna for some time, until now I am a well woman with a splendid constitution. In fact, I never felt better. I therefore praise Peruna to all as a very good medicine."—Miss Eleanor Lindblum.

Summer Catarrh.

Mrs. Kate Bohn, 119 Willoughby Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"When I wrote you I was troubled with frequent headaches, dizzy, strange feeling in the head, sleeplessness, sinking feelings, faintness and numbness. Sometimes I had heartburn. My food would rise to my throat after every meal, and my bowels were very irregular.

"I wrote you for advice, and I now take pleasure in informing you that my improvement is very great indeed. I did not expect to improve so quickly after suffering for five long years. I am feeling very good and strong. I thank you so much for Peruna. I shall recommend it to all suffering with the effects of catarrh and I consider it a household blessing. I shall never be without Peruna."—Mrs. Kate Bohn.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

MILL WAS ANCIENT, BUT YET STANCH

Fire in Allegheny Landmark Proved Excellence of Old Fashion in Building.

BURNS STOCK OF PAPER BOXES

One of the oldest landmarks in Allegheny was nearly destroyed by fire last night. It is one of the buildings of the Eagle cotton mills, now devoted to other purposes, and some old residents were ready to say that it was the identical structure in which the famous bobbin boy, Andrew Carnegie, once worked, although another old resident of the neighborhood was ready to fight to prove his assertion that Carnegie had worked in the Penn cotton mills, a half block away.

The building is 211, 213 and 215 East Robinson street and midway between Anderson and Sandusky streets. It is a four-story brick structure, about 70 years old. Had Fire Chief Hunter of Allegheny known that the building was stanch he would not have been afraid that it would collapse, and could have put out the fire much sooner.

The Eagle mills' series of buildings is now owned by William M. Kennedy, John Harper and the Callery heirs and is devoted to manufacturing purposes, there being a dozen different industries in the different houses. The one that caught fire last night is occupied by Charles B. Wrigley as a paper box factory.

George Wise, the watchman of the buildings, patroled the Wrigley factory at 8:25 p. m. and went to his station in the engine room in Sandusky street. Five minutes later a man coming out of a saloon at Sandusky and East Robinson streets, saw smoke issuing from the building. He raised the alarm and Walter Scott, a boarder at the hotel, got the fire alarm key from the bar and turned in the alarm. The engines were there in a jiffy. The fire was burning furiously and Chief Hunter turned in a second and shortly afterward a third alarm. A dozen streams of water were soon turned into the windows.

The fire had started on the second floor but did not do much damage there, ascending to the third floor, which was in flames when the firemen arrived. Assistant Chief Peter Schatzman ordered a ladder placed on the roof of the one-story office building adjoining the burning structure, but did not keep the men there long. Joseph Garber, captain of No. 8 fire engine company, was overcome by the smoke and had to be taken down the ladder. He was sent to his home and then Chief Schatzman ordered the men down, arguing that as the house was very old it might collapse at any moment; besides the nearest building was 20 feet away and there was no danger of the fire spreading. From that time on the streams were directed through windows on three sides of the building, and in two hours the fire was practically extinguished, except for smouldering embers among the material with which it was filled. The building held together; even the floors did not fall.

The machinery is estimated to be worth $25,000, but it was damaged by water only, the fire not coming down to the ground floor. The stock and finished boxes were worth about $15,000, which was insured.

W. G. Anderson, the chief engineer of the power plant, was telephoned at his home in Ben Avon and went to the scene at about 10 o'clock. Wrigley was still in town, not having gone to his home in Ben Avon. He was utterly unable to give an estimate of the loss. He left before the fire was over and did not meet Fire Marshal W. D. Magill, who was at the fire and wanted to see him to get an idea of the origin of the blaze.

Two mules were in a stable in the rear of the burning building, but George Fulton threw sacks over their heads and got them out without trouble, after the alarm was turned in.

KILLED ON FREIGHT TRAIN.

Fred B. Fulton Thrown Off a Car Near Versailles.

Fred B. Fulton of West Newton was killed by a train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Versailles yesterday. With a number of companions he had gone to McKeesport. About 4 o'clock they started for home and boarded a freight train. Fulton was thrown off and his head crushed.

Sebasturno Bosseri, a coal miner of Essen station, died at the Mercy hospital yesterday from injuries received while at work in the morning. He was crushed by a fall of slate.

The body of Robert Parker, aged 16, who was killed by a train at Dallas station Tuesday, was identified last night by his stepfather, J. W. Cain of 514 Lowell street. Parker was a grocery clerk.

PREFERS HIS PRISON CELL TO THE BRIDAL CHAMBER

Felix Maschak prefers his celibate cell in the county jail to freedom and a bride. He says he is satisfied to stay in jail forever, as the bed is comfortable and the food wholesome. Moreover, he desires to die a bachelor. Sali Ball, who lives with her parents on the South Side, near the former home of Maschak, last winter began breach of promise proceedings against the man. He was arrested on a capias on January 29 and has been in jail ever since. A few days ago Maschak announced that he had repented and the young woman paid an attorney to secure the prisoner's release under the insolvent act. The papers were prepared, but when they were presented to Maschak with the proviso, of course, that he would marry the girl promptly, he again changed his mind and all argument was unavailing. The wedding is indefinitely postponed.

BRYAN NOT WANTED BY NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Illinois Member Objects Because Harrison Asked Him to Speak in Chicago.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 13.—Roger C. Sullivan, the new member of the Democratic national committee from Illinois, declared tonight that it was not thought desirable by members of the national Democratic committee that William Jennings Bryan take the stump for the national ticket. Several days ago, Mayor Harrison invited Mr. Bryan to speak at a ratification meeting, which is to be held in Chicago in a few days. Mr. Sullivan declared, when informed of the invitation, that had been extended to Mr. Brayan, that "Bryan must not come into Illinois to speak."

Explanations were at once asked of Mr. Sullivan, and he declared that the national committee had decided not to have Bryan as one of its speakers. The reasons assigned by the committee for this reported decision, according to Mr. Sullivan, is that in their opinion he "would do the ticket more harm than good."

When informed of Mr. Sullivan's declaration, Mayor Harrison said: "We have invited Mr. Bryan to speak, and I hope that he will accept. We think that he will do the ticket more good than harm."

Condemned Man Made Happy By Cigarettes

Frank Ousley, who is to be hanged in the jail this morning, made a last request to Warden Edward Lewis last night. The condemned man asked the death watch to get him some cigarettes. Ousley has been a cigarette smoker all his life and the use of cigarettes is forbidden in the jail. The jail attendant delivered Ousley's request to Warden Lewis, who granted it. A messenger was summoned and three packages of cigarettes were bought for Ousley. When the death watch handed him the cigarettes Ousley said:

"I am happy now."

KICK MAY BE FATAL.

James Lowry Struck in the Groin—Accused Under Arrest.

James Lowry, aged 21, of 3219 Brereton avenue, is in the West Penn hospital in a critical condition owing, he says, to a kick in the groin, inflicted by Frank F. Donahue, supervisor of terminals of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Lowry, with several companions, is said to have been loitering about the Junction tracks, near Laurel and Liberty avenues, when Donahue ordered them away. Lowry is accused of having hurled stones at Donahue, when the latter kicked at him, Lowry turning and receiving the kick in the groin. Donahue was arrested and taken to the Forty-third street police station, where he was denied bail.

Lowry was struck on the head with a baseball bat in an argument a year ago and is said to have been subject to spells of temporary insanity at times, and has spent much of the past year in hospitals.

DAVIS FOR PLATFORM.

Candidate So Declares—Going to New York for Conference.

ELKINS, W. VA., July 13.—(Special.)—"Of course I'll support the platform. I am perfectly satisfied with it." This was the first statement which Henry G. Davis has yet given relating to his views on national issues. "Mr. Parker's stand will undoubtedly strengthen him. When the time comes the whole party, undivided, will stand for the judge and his ticket."

This was an unusually busy day for Candidate Davis. He seems as spry as ever. Hundreds of letters and telegrams were received at "Graceland." Friday the senator will go to Washington and later to New York, arriving there Sunday morning. He will take part in the conference between Hill, Murphy and other Democratic leaders. This morning a conference of state leaders was held here in which Mr. Davis took part. The merchants and manufacturers of Pittsburgh will be entertained tomorrow at "Graceland."

PITTSBURGHERS RETURN FROM TROPICAL HONEYMOON

NEW ORLEANS, July 13.—(Special.)—J. A. Kaalund, who was married to a Pennsylvania girl a few months ago and went to Nicaragua to finish out the honeymoon in a tent, reached here today with his bride, on their way home to Pittsburgh. Both are brown as berries and appear to have enjoyed the tropical bridal tour in the open, and the donkey trails. They will probably return to Nicaragua in about six weeks. During their stay in Nicaragua Mr. and Mrs. Kaalund traveled extensively. Mrs. Kaalund was the first American bride to ever select Nicaragua for a honeymoon and she was the source of much wonder all over that country.

MANILA, July 13.—A cloudburst over the hills northeast of Manila caused a flood which has destroyed San Juan del Monte. Two hundred lives were lost.

The low-lying districts were inundated. The homes of Americans and foreigners are isolated. Transportation through the streets is carried on in boats only. Rain has fallen for 27 hours, totaling 171 inches. This is unprecedented. Communication with outside places is interrupted. The damage to property is estimated at $2,000,000.

PANAMA PEOPLE MUCH AGITATED

Declare America's Action in Establishing Customs House Will Ruin Their Commerce.

STEAMER'S PAPERS REFUSED

PANAMA, July 13.—The decree of Governor Davis, establishing a custom house in the canal zone, has created exciting comment here. The principal merchants of Panama and Colon assembled in the Commercial club today, to discuss the situation, and unanimously decided that the establishment of custom houses in such form means the ruin of the commerce of Panama and Colon, and consequently of the republic. The canal commissioners and officers of the government have discussed the situation, which is believed by all to be extremely serious unless the decree be revoked and the interests of Panama be considered.

The chamber of commerce at a meeting today appointed a committee to communicate with the government. The chamber considers the application of the Dingley tariff act not only detrimental to the interests of commerce and of the government but against the spirit of the canal treaty. The newspapers have started a campaign to prove to the people and the government of the United States the injustice of the measure, which is the cause of excitement in all circles.

This morning the steamship City of Pekin, of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, arrived from San Francisco, which port she left June 18. On arriving at Corinto, the City of Pekin got clearance papers for Ancon, the American port in the canal zone, and today the captain of the port of Panama refused to receive the steamer, claiming that under the treaty with the United States all ports in Panama are under jurisdiction of the Panama authorities. The captain of the port also made a protest on the action of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, which he considers against the rights of the republic, and sent a copy of it to the president of the company and its agents.

EXPOSITION OPENING.

Preparations Being Made to Excel All Previous Shows Held Here.

Active preparations are being made for the opening of the sixteenth session of the New Pittsburgh exposition on Wednesday, August 31. The big show will continue for seven and one-half weeks, and the music and other attractions scheduled for this season promise to be more popular than ever.

Creatore and his Italian band will open the exposition and remain one week. Sousa, the March King, will then have 10 days, and Victor Herbert with his New York orchestra will give a series of popular programs for a week. Walter Damrosch and his New York Symphony orchestra of 50 will be the musical attraction during the closing fortnight. Negotiations are on to have the famous Grenadier band of England, which has secured special leave of absence to fill a four-weeks' engagement at the St. Louis world's fair, to fill a two-weeks' engagement at the local exposition.

Helen Scholder, the 8-year-old cello wonder of New York city, will also be included in the musical attractions. The presentation of the "Swan and Skylark" by a local chorus and soloists, is also under consideration. "Pittsburgh Composers' Night" will again be a feature, and John Philip Sousa expects to apply a high standard of excellence in selecting the works to be presented. The exhibits of business houses and manufacturers will be more costly and attractive than ever before. Many paintings from the east, a big ferris wheel and a "Trip to the North Pole," similar to the St. Louis attraction, will be seen here.

The shipment consists of a rush order for 1,000,000 pounds of canned beef for the Japanese army. It was handled from Chicago by the Northern Pacific in special trains of 40 refrigerator cars each.

MAY COME TO PITTSBURGH.

President Gompers Thinks This City Will Get Federation Convention.

MILWAUKEE, July 13.—(Special.)—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, left Milwaukee tonight, after concluding his business in Milwaukee, and was told that in all probability a strong effort will be made by the federated trades to bring the next convention of the American Federation of Labor to Milwaukee. Mr. Gompers stated that if the convention is brought here the local labor leaders will probably encounter considerable opposition from the delegation from Pittsburgh, as it was said that that city will make the strongest kind of a bid for the convention.

"The matter of the national convention is something for the delegates themselves to decide," said Mr. Gompers, "and I rarely take a hand in the selection. I understand, however, that the people of Pittsburgh will be after the 1905 convention and will make every effort to secure it. The Federation will then have reached its silver anniversary and as it was formed in Pittsburgh, I believe they will get it. However, I can never tell what the delegates will do."

BREAST PLATES ARE ORDERED FOR RUSSIAN SOLDIERS

MILAN, July 14.—(Special Cable.)—The Russian government has ordered 100,000 breast plates from a local company engaged in the manufacture of the Benediti cuirass for use by the Russian forces in the far east. The cuirass is pliable, weighs about one pound, measures a little less than one and one-half square inches, and is capable of resisting bullets. The present order is to be delivered to the Russian consul here by August 15, and the total price aggregates a little more than $250,000.

THOUSANDS OF WORKMEN ARE TO GET EMPLOYMENT

The Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse Company has awarded contracts for the construction of 40 warehouses on the South Side and within 60 days 1,000 men will begin work on the buildings. The National Fire Proofing Company's contract is for the construction of floors in 38 buildings and is the largest the firm has ever had. The warehouses will be built of 19,000,000 bricks and this contract was divided among a number of contractors. The Crafton Paving Company is working on the foundations.

Another Grafter Confesses Guilt.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—John H. Schnettler, a former member of the St. Louis municipal assembly, today pleaded guilty in the St. Louis circuit court to a charge of bribery in connection with the passage of the city lighting bill. Sentence has not yet been imposed. Schnettler was a member of the famous "combine" of 19 which practically controlled all legislation during several terms of the municipal assembly.

FIRE IS RAGING IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY

But It Is Simply Blaze of Democratic Zeal for Parker.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ESOPUS, N. Y., July 13.—Rosemount, the home of Judge Alton B. Parker, for the first time today began to show outward signs of the coming-on of the campaign. The lodge house at the gate is being arranged for use as the campaign office, and linemen today put up the special telegraph and telephone lines which are to be in use from now on. One of the large rooms is being fitted up for the newspaper correspondents, with many conveniences. A force of stenographers, under the direction of the judge's private secretary, Arthur E. McCausland, will be installed within a day or two.

The following telegram was received today:

Muskagee, Indian Territory, July 12.
To Hon. Alton B. Parker, Esopus, N. Y.:
"In an election held here today, the first in the United States after your nomination, Muskagee, claimed by the Republicans, went Democratic. This is the first gun of the campaign and is considered a fair test. The Indian territory is on fire with an unconquerable Democratic zeal.
"D. M. WISDOM,
"N. F. HANCOCK,
"J. H. TAYLOR, JR."

Judge Parker today received notification from William R. Hearst that he is to have the support of the Hearst newspapers. It is understood that the judge has had an intimation from Mr. Cleveland of his willingness to participate to a limited extent in the campaign.

The judge admitted this afternoon that he had not heard from Mr. Bryan. He said he had read Mr. Bryan's statement, published this morning, but he would not comment upon it. He has not heard from Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall. Tomorrow Judge Parker has an appointment with Senator Patrick H. McCarren of Brooklyn.

One Hundred Pianos
Not Enough
To Supply Pittsburgh.
Beautiful Instruments
at $190.

We knew that there were at least several thousand families in this vicinity that would each be glad to get a high-class piano at $190. But we had only one hundred instruments at this price.

And the number has diminished daily, until now not many are left.

However, purchasers who come this week will fare just as well as those who came the first day. For one of these pianos is as good as another. All were made by the same manufacturer and each is worth $300. Everyone is BRAND NEW, which fact should be kept in mind by intending purchasers.

The manufacturer needed money. He needed it so badly that he felt justified in sacrificing this lot of one hundred pianos in order to obtain cash immediately. He came to us. We captured the pianos—and there you are. They are the most meritorious instruments ever sold at $190. It's actually the same as making you a present of $110, for you save that sum. The regular price is $300.

Don't delay longer. Next week may be too late.

Call, write or telephone. Your request for fuller information will have immediate attention.

Terms: $10 Down and $1.50 a Week

[PRE]PARING FOR LIVELY CAMPAIGN

The Republican Leaders Making Headway by Conferences in New York.

PRESIDENT WRITING SPEECH

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 13.

Important conferences bearing on the Republican campaign were held in this city today. As a result some interesting announcements are forthcoming. But at the present it can merely be stated that Chairman George B. Cortelyou of the Republican national committee, has practically chosen his executive committee and completed arrangements for beginning a whirlwind campaign about August 1. It is understood that William L. Ward of West Chester, N. Y., the state's representative on the national committee, will be a member of the executive committee.

The conferences were held in the Waldorf-Astoria and the Fifth Avenue hotels. Early this morning Chairman Cortelyou, in company with Mr. Ward, drove to the Waldorf-Astoria, where Postmaster General Henry C. Payne, Wisconsin's member of the national committee, was waiting. Mr. Cortelyou and Mr. Payne were in conference some time—the subject matter being the appointment of the executive committee and preliminary campaign plans. After the conference Mr. Payne hurried to catch a train for New England, as he intends to take a short vacation on the coast.

Mr. Cortelyou and Mr. Ward then went to the Fifth Avenue hotel. Gov. Odell had just arrived there. Gov. Odell, Mr. Cortelyou and Mr. Ward were joined presently by Treasurer Cornelius N. Bliss of the national committee, and William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the state executive committee. A long and earnest discussion followed, and when the meeting broke up everybody appeared to be in the best of spirits. It was said that considerable headway had been gained.

President Writing His Speech.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 13.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Loeb were engaged today for several hours in the transaction of official business at Sagamore Hill. A part of the time was devoted by the president to work in preparation of his speech to be delivered on the 27th inst., when he receives his notification of nomination. The president is preparing this speech with great care and it promises to be a very important utterance.

A favorite exercise of the president is chopping wood, and he indulges in this every day. It serves to keep down his weight and he enjoys it more than any of his other diversions, except horseback riding. The president is determined that his sojourn at Sagamore Hill this summer shall be as quiet and unostentatious as possible. Announcement has been made that he will receive no visitors except those who come to him by engagement and on important business.

Secretary Loeb today explained why he refused to allow the delegation of miners from Pennsylvania to go to Sagamore Hill to see President Roosevelt when they were here yesterday. Mr. Loeb said that there is a rule here that no delegation shall be received by the president unless they have arranged an appointment with the president. This rule has been strictly adhered to during the stay of the president here, and it will be enforced during the remainder of the time the president is here for the summer.

Mr. Loeb said the labor leaders came to Oyster Bay and took him unawares when they demanded to see the president. Had the men announced previously that they would be here yesterday Mr. Loeb says an audience with the president might have been arranged for the delegation, but under the circumstances, Mr. Loeb says he could do nothing but refuse to allow them to see the president.

Knew Nothing of Committee.

Concerning the visit to Oyster Bay yesterday of the committee representing the Central Labor unions of Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, Pa., Secretary Loeb today received the following telegram from John E. Barrett, editor of the Truth of Scranton, Pa.:

"Did President Roosevelt personally refuse to see a committee of miners yesterday, as reported in this morning's papers?"

In response to this inquiry, Secretary Loeb sent to Editor Barrett the following telegram:

"Many thanks for your telegram. The committee came here and insisted on seeing the president to present a petition at a time when I could not arrange it for them. The president did not know they were here. If they had sent word that they desired to see the president I would have been glad to arrange for them at some convenient time. As it was I offered to bring the petition to the personal attention of the president. The statement that the president had any knowledge of the committee's presence in Oyster Bay is not true."

When the committee called on Secretary Loeb at the executive offices the president was absent temporarily from Sagamore Hill. He was not even within telephone communication of Secretary Loeb and the members of the committee were so informed.

Copies of the photographs of the president and Senator Fairbanks taken at Sagamore Hill were received here today. They will be used extensively in the campaign. The set of photographs taken yesterday includes some artistic views of the interior of the president's home, the first, except of the library, ever authorized by the president.

TO RAISE MAINE WRECK.

Contractor Wants to Know if United States Has Abandoned the Battleship.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—R. H. F. Sewell of New Orleans has informed the navy department that he has made a contract with the Cuban government to raise the wreck of the battleship Maine, which has lain in the mud of the harbor of Havana since the explosion on the night of February 15, 1898. Before proceeding with the work, Mr. Sewell says, he desires to know what claim, if any, the United States government has in the wreck.

The communication has been referred to the judge advocate general of the navy for consideration. It raises an interesting question, the settlement of which may cause some embarrassment. One point that puzzles the legal officers of the navy is as to whether the wreck has been actually abandoned, and the determination of that point involves the right of the executive branch to abandon United States property in a case like the present without express provision of law. The Cuban government, it is understood, lays no claim of ownership to the wreck, and is governed in its action simply by a desire to improve the navigation of the harbor.

Caught in a Fiery Furnace.

Arthur Bates, a bricklayer, and another workman had a narrow escape last evening at the Edgar Thomson steel works. They entered an oven connected with the hot blast stoves to make some repairs. Workmen turned the gas into one of the connecting ovens and struck a match. The men cried for help, but they did not escape until Bates was burned about the face, neck, breast and arms. His companion was slightly burned.

Crazed by the Heat.

NEW YORK, July 13.—(Special.)—Mrs. Veronica Pokall, 25 years old, of Williamsburg, while apparently driven insane by the heat, made an attack on her sister and her husband today with a knife. Pokall and his sister-in-law had considerable trouble in getting the knife away from Mrs. Pokall. But he overpowered her and took her to the Hamburg avenue station.

Robbers Attack a Safe.

The safe in the office of the Homestead Supply Company in Sixth avenue, Homestead, was broken into some time during Tuesday night and the contents scattered over the floor of the office. A few postage stamps was all that was secured. A window in the building was forced open and the combination on the safe knocked off. The police say they have a clue.

AN AMERICAN IS DEFENDANT

Relatives Contest Will by Which Frenchman Left Fortune to Rhode Islander.

HUMBERT CASE O'ERSHADOWS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, July 13.—A remarkable case in which George A. Church of Nayatt Point, Rhode Island, is the central figure, is being heard by the Tribunal of the Seine. M. Poulet, a wealthy Parisian capitalist, disappeared 14 years ago during a voyage around the world. He left $260,000 in French bonds. After waiting the statutory period his heirs asked for a division of the estate. Thereafter a will was filed, dated at Sim-Than-Glai, Island of Java, in which M. Pouleot gave his entire estate to George A. Church. Counsel for the heirs sought to create the impression that this was another case of mythical Crawfords, as in the Humbert case, while counsel for Mr. Church maintained that his client actually exists, being a retired New England merchant who recently sailed from New York for Europe. There upon the court asked that Mr. Church be presented to the court and adjourned the case until Friday, to permit the presentation or the production of other proofs of his identity.

Legacy Apparently Genuine.

The genuineness of the large legacy appears unquestionable, but the case is bitterly contested, mainly because of suspicions growing out of the fictitious American heirs in the Humbert case.

The will of M. Poulet is lated January 25, 1890, and describes Mr. Church as then living at Nayatt Point, Rhode Island. His subsequent movements are not stated. His counsel says Mr. Church is now on his way from Hamburg to Bayonne, and he hopes to present him in court Friday.

The contested will is as follows:

"This is my last testament. I appoint George A. Church, living at Nayatt Point, Rhode Island, my sole legatee. I revoke all former wills and codicils.

"Signed under my hand at Sim-Than-Glaia (Java), this January 25, 1890.

"POULET."

A Native of Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 13.—George A. Church, named in Paris dispatches as a claimant of property of M. Poulet, a wealthy Parisian capitalist, through a will made by the latter at Java in 1890, was for many years a resident of Nayatt Point, near this city. He belongs to an old Rhode Island family, and is nearly 60 years of age. For several years he has spent his time in European travel, and during one of his trips made the acquaintance of Poulet. The two became intimate friends and about 14 years ago the Parisian later visited Mr. Church at his Nayatt Point home. It was shortly after this that Mr. Poulet started on his trip around the world, during which he died at Buenos Ayres. For several years past Mr. Church has resided in New York city. He had apartments at the Continental hotel, but continued to spend much time abroad. James Dillinghast, a cousin of Mr. Church and a prominent Rhode Island barrister, stated today that his cousin sailed for Europe a few days ago.

WATER COMPANY DIRECTORS ON TRIAL FOR EPIDEMIC

Arrested on Charge of Causing Spread of Typhus in Germany.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 13.—Every day is bringing out new sensational developments at Gelsenkirchen, Westphalia, where the directors of a water company are accused of causing the deadly typhus epidemic two years ago. So many proofs have already been given that the court of criminal negligence and still worse actions of the company that there is not the slightest doubt that the directors will be found guilty.

An expert, who had been called in for the defense, was today forced to admit that, in examining the water supplied by the company, he had found from 100,000 to 1,000,000 bacilli of all kinds, and many of them typhoid fever bacilli, in a cubic centimeter of the water. It was also brought out that sewers from hospitals and private houses, in which typhoid fever patients were being treated, emptied into the river less than 50 feet from the place where the company took its water.

SEIZED VALUABLE WARES.

Rare Goods from the Far East Taken Into Custody by Officials.

NEW YORK, July 13.—(Special.)—Rare eastern goods, 40 or more cases in all, were seized today aboard the British steamship Shimosa, docked at the foot of Market street. The "find" was made after repeated searches of the vessel by custom house men. Officers of the ship, it is said, admitted they had bought the goods and placed them aboard the vessel, but offered no explanation as to why they had not declared them.

No estimate as to the value of the seized articles can be made at this time. Fine cashmere shawls, rolls of Chinese and Japanese silks, costly chinaware, cigars, cigarettes, and curios of rare design are among the goods. All will be appraised by government experts, and efforts will be made to have them condemned and seized as smuggled articles, though they are not technically such, not having been removed from the ship.

Nordica's Divorce Is Valid.

NEW YORK, July 13.—(Special.)—The appellate division of the supreme court today handed down a decision denying a motion for the appointment of a referee to take evidence in a suit to determine whether an interlocutory decree of divorce, obtained by Lillian Nordica from Zoltan Doeme, was obtained by fraud. The opinion of the court was that Mme. Nordica's divorce had been properly granted.

Robbed the Cash Drawer.

Some one unknown entered the office of L. H. Walters a real estate and insurance dealer of Main street, Carnegie, yesterday at noon, and robbed the cash drawer of $52. The employes were out at lunch.

Challenges to a Duel.

PARIS, July 13.—Deputy Cesbron, Republican, has challenged M. Gerault-Richard, Socialist deputy from Gaudeloupe, to fight a duel. The latter called M. Cesbron a "jackanapes" during the turbulent session yesterday.

Hair Escaping?

No wonder. Your hair is starving. Feed it before it all leaves you. Then you can keep what you have and add greatly to it. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair-food. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"One year ago today I had not one single hair on my head, and today I have as fine a growth of hair as any young man in my town, and just three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor did it."
—Arthur B. Ackley, E. Machias, Me.

ELOPING PREACHER WILL MAKE A CONTEST

Cordova Asks for Postponement of Church Trial to Secure Evidence.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 13.—The trial of the Rev. Cordova, the eloping pastor of the South River church, scheduled for tomorrow morning, was postponed tonight for one week by Presiding Elder J. B. Haines of Atlantic Highlands. The presiding elder was notified by Cordova that he had secured additional evidence to be presented in his behalf which he could not possibly get ready by tomorrow, and at his request the trial has been continued until July 21. It looks as though Cordova intended fighting the case when the hearing comes on.

Miss Bowne could not voluntarily go on the witness stand under the rules governing the proceeding. A copy of the four charges have been served upon Cordova by the representative of the prosecuting attorney for the church. The preparations for the trial next week have all been completed.

As soon as the judge and committee sit and the trial is declared opened counsel for the church will present the charges, which declare that Cordova wilfully deserted his wife and three children; that he is guilty of doing his wife bodily harm, conducting himself in a manner unbecoming a preacher of the gospel; that he eloped with Miss Julia Bowne, a choir singer in his church, and that he is guilty of infidelity.

Twin Organizations Meet.

FRONTENAC, N. Y., July 13.—The Malleable Iron association and its companion organization, the Steel Founders' Society of America, today held their semi-annual meetings here. Both associations have practically the same membership, and are meeting now for the discussion of trade conditions and for special recreation.

Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free to any address on application to W. Robinson, traveling passenger agent, Grand Trunk railway, 506 Park building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Curing Kidney Disease.

Free Urinary Analysis. Bring or Send Sample of Morning Urine.

Of the different diseases of the kidneys by far the most important is Bright's Disease, an inflammatory condition of the kidneys, which leads to the presence of albumen in the urine.

Many cases of dropsy are attended by Albuminuria.

In catarrhal inflammation of the kidneys the secreting structures of the kidneys are attacked and is generally the result of exposure to colds.

Dropsy is almost always one of the earliest symptoms, and often appears first in the skin of the eye lids, puffiness under the eyes.

Pain in the region of the kidneys (backache), persistent headache and vomiting are sometimes present.

The urine is scanty, often bloody, and contains albumen and tube casts. Symptoms of uremia often occur.

Palpitation and fluttering of the heart, occasional attacks of blindness or progressive failure of the sight, extreme weakness with sinking spells as the disease progresses, itching over the body.

Peculiar brain symptoms often develop, such as epileptic seizure, trembling or spasms of the muscles, particularly of the legs.

The skin is dry and harsh, the finger nails brittle, progressive emaciation.

MIDNIGHT POST MORTEM OVER A WOMAN'S BODY

Mrs. Lucy Bear Dies Suddenly at Connellsville, Pa.—Stomach Sent for Analysis.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., July 13.—A sensation has been caused by the sudden death of Mrs. Lucy Bear, wife of Madison Bear, and the holding of a midnight post-mortem last night, over the remains by County Coroner Arthur S. Hagan. After the post-mortem the woman's stomach was sent to a laboratory for analysis. Mrs. Bear was 18 years old and had been married two years. She had been ill for the past two months but at no time was her condition alarming. Her husband states that she was seen several days ago by Dr. J. F. Kerr and he prescribed for her. Recently the prescription had been refilled. Last night Mrs. Bear became ill and Dr. T. B. Echard was hastily summoned but before he arrived she died. Dr. H. F. Atkinson was called in. Dr. Echard arrived about that time and both decided that an investigation should be made and notified the coroner. On the table beside the dead woman was found a bottle believed to have contained laudanum. It bore the name of a local physician and a local drug store.

When seen by a reporter this afternoon Dr. Atkinson stated that death might have been caused by a sudden attack of heart trouble. Dr. J. F. Kerr made the following statement: "I know nothing of the bottle alleged to have been found and which is thought to have contained laudanum. The only and last time I saw Mrs. Bear was March 31, 1903. I gave her a prescription at that time. It was not laudanum. I have not seen her since."

To Break Grounds for Big Plant.

MONESSEN, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—Tomorrow ground will be broken for the foundation walls of the new American seamless tube plant, the projectors of which are Pittsburgh capitalists. The plant will cost in the neighborhood of $500,000 and when completed will be one of the best seamless tube mills in the United States. The site on which the new mill will be erected adjoins the property of the Pittsburgh Steel Company on the west and comprises 12 acres. In the party of stockholders here inspecting the plot today were President Wallace H. Rowe of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, with Emil Winters, John Bindley and Edwin Bindley, directors of the same corporation.

Supervisor's Headquarters Moved.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 13.—(Special.)—Orders have been received by Supervisor E. S. Hippy from the general offices of the Pittsburgh division, instructing him to transfer his offices from New Florence to Derry. At least 50 railroaders will be taken from New Florence, the supervisor's clerks, the wreck crew and the floating gang being among those to be transferred. PENNSYLVANIAN'S ORDEAL; MUST PLEASE TEXAS MAID

If He Suits They Will Wed—If Not She Will Return.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 13.—All the way from Tioga, Tex., has come Miss Delia Asher, a pretty 20-year-old school teacher, to inspect Andrew Martwick and his farm at Aldenville, Wayne county. Martwick, who is also 20, asked a matrimonial agency to find him a wife, and of the many letters he received one was from Miss Asher. Correspondence resulted in Martwick proposing and Miss Asher replying that, while his letters pleased her and she had a deep regard for him, still marriage was a serious thing and she did not want to plunge into it blindly.

Martwick responded by sending her a ticket and asking her to come and look him over and examine his prospects. For the last six days he has driven from his home, nine miles out of Honesdale to the Honesdale station. Yesterday it rained heavily and he did not appear, but the rain did not stop the train and Miss Asher reached the town. This morning Martwick found her and at noon they departed for his home. If she is satisfied with him, with the farm and with the country, she will marry him. If not, he will buy her a return ticket.

BUTCHERS AGREE TO ARBITRATION

Conciliatory Spirit on Both Sides Presages End of Beef Strike.

MEANWHILE, PRICES GO UP

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 13.—Arbitration of the grievances which precipitated the general strike in the meat packing houses in various parts of the country appears tonight to be in sight, and a conference between employers and strikers will be held tomorrow morning. The initial step toward a settlement of the controversy by mediation was taken late this evening, by the state board of arbitration. Both sides seem to be in a conciliatory mood.

Today bore out predictions of the packing house proprietors that the big strike would not cause a stoppage of operations. In the great abbatoir district things move, slowly, indeed, today, but they moved.

All the packing houses reported that they were slaughtering a little. Every department was said to be doing some work and was expected to increase the activity tomorrow. Loading and shipping was in progress though heavily curtailed, as was the buying of cattle. Some hundreds of new workmen were hired and put to work in the places which had been vacated in thousands.

President Donnelly, the strike leader, gave out the following statement today: "Our organization is taking a stand against a reduction in wages for labor in the plants owned and controlled by the following companies, which are those affected: Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson Morris Company, National Packing Company, Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, Cudahy. All our organization asks is that 18½ cents an hour be the minimum. In view of the fact that in nearly all of the departments the average working time is 40 hours a week, it can be readily seen that our demands are not unreasonable. All of the independent companies are paying a much higher rate than we are asking the trust companies to pay. Our organization has never interfered with a reduction of working forces, except where our members were discriminated against."

MEAT FAMINE COMING.

Local Supply and Prices Already Affected by the Troubles in West.

The strike of employes of meat packing concerns in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha, affecting 80,000 men and causing a daily estimated loss of $1,000,000 to the packers themselves as well as a daily loss of about $100,000 in wages, is making itself felt more and more here.

Local butchers were reticent over the situation yesterday, but many admitted that there is a strong probability of an unparalleled meat famine in Pittsburgh before long. Wholesalers raised prices on all kinds of fresh meats yesterday, veal going up $2 a hundred. Butchers who kill their own cattle are not worrying over the situation, but the percentage of those who get meat in this way is very small. It is generally estimated that 90 per cent of the local supply comes from the western markets where the trouble exists.

The only ray of hope if the strike lasts is that local packing houses furnish an unusually large supply at prices within reach of the average consumer. It was stated, however, yesterday, that the concerns here will be unable to relieve the situation now threatened. William Roth, a local butcher, is one of many who says that local packers can not begin to furnish sufficient supply for the Pittsburgh district. There is enough fresh meat in transit to last this week and then the butchers and meat eaters may have a hard problem to solve.

CROWD PURSUES ROBBER OVER MT. WASHINGTON

Compelled to Return to the Looted House and Replace Two Watches from Where He Had Taken Them.

"Caught with the goods on him."

That is what happened to James Schaffer, peddler on Mt. Washington late yesterday afternoon. Schaffer entered the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Voegel, 250 Boggs avenue, about 5 o'clock and helped himself to a jewelry box in a downstairs bedroom, and got away with two gold watches.

Officer John Stoher was on the spot, saw the man run, gave chase, caught him, took him back to the Voegel home, left the watches there and then locked up the man, according to statements from the police last night.

The robbery caused plenty of excitement in that vicinity and the chase by the officer, assisted by a crowd of infuriated women and boys, was the most exciting feature.

Mrs. Voegel had been in Pittsburgh and had just returned home. She was upstairs and had left a screen door open. This is the way Schaffer entered. The robber would probably not have been noticed had he not started to run. The officer saw him going out the rear lot, others saw the officer run and then the pursuit followed. It was a great pleasure to the crowd to see Schaffer replace the watches. The crowd followed the officer and Schaffer to the Mt. Washington police station where he was locked up, charged with being a suspicious person.

Schaffer was peddling envelopes and told the officer that he has been a resident of Beltzhoover about two months. He made no statements aside from this.

FORUM CLUB SECURES TALENTED SPEAKERS

Kingsley House Department Has Bright Outlook for Its Second Year.

The trustees of the Kingsley House Forum club last evening received word from several of the teachers and speakers secured for next season. The club is organized for debate and the study of oratory. Prof. R. L. Sleeth of the Pittsburgh High school has consented to give the club one evening a week and will instruct its members in elocution. Judge Buffington will speak frequently and will devote one evening a month to the club, and William Thomson, instructor in manual training in the Braddock public schools, has offered his services to the club, which will be ready on the first Monday evening in August to commence its second year with a fine plan of work laid out for the autumn and winter.

At the meeting last evening a committee was appointed to prepare a draft of changes needed in the constitution to meet the new conditions under which the club is preparing to inaugurate its second year's work. The revision committee consists of Peter Glick, chairman and ex-officio member of the committee by virtue of being the president of the club; Sol. Leff, Sol. Finkelhor and John Franklin. Plans were also made for an outing on Sunday, July 24. Arrangements as to the place have not yet been completed, but it is expected that Valencia will be selected.

The board of trustees of the Kingsley House Forum club includes Peter Glick, Joseph Wilner, William Lichenstul, Sol Leff, Sol. Finkelhor and John Franklin. The work of the club is being prosecuted under the direct supervision of William H. Matthews, the head resident of Kingsley House. Another special meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, July 27. Sol. Kinkelhor, 1029 Fifth avenue, is in charge of all applications for membership.

PERSONALS

"Western people are stronger for Roosevelt than ever before," said J. A. Arnold of El Paso, Tex., who passed through the city last evening over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for New York. "If the people of the country support him as we intend to, he will carry every state north of the Mason and Dixon line. El Paso, being away over in the western part of the big state, very close to Arizona and New Mexico, is away from the sure Democratic district. It is only a question of time until we will send a Republican representative to congress. We have a sufficient number of Republicans in our district. What we want to do is to get them to vote. They will vote for Roosevelt, all right, but they forget the party when local issues pop up. I am confident a Republican congressman will represent Texas soon, because the cow men, the farmers and a lot of other influences are with them. In the primary elections that have just been held Senator Culberson was chosen without opposition for another term of six years, and it can almost be said that he was chosen for life, since he can have the place as long as he wishes. Of the present delegation of 16 members everyone was reelected save Mr. Cooper, the capable representative from the Beaumont district. How he came to be beaten is a mystery, in view of what he had accomplished for his district and the whole state."

"During my stay in the Philippines," said Dr. J. M. Culp of Kansas City, "I was in nearly every part of the archipelago, and I am prepared to say that, size considered, it is the richest country in the world." Dr. Culp was a surgeon of the Eleventh infantry, and spent several months in Uncle Sam's new possessions. He continued: "I believe that more gold will be taken out of the province of Pantos Bontos, in northern Luzon, than will ever be obtained from Alaska. I went in there on a chase after deer and caribou, and found that scores of natives had 'spats' of gold about them which they had taken out of the ground in the most primitive fashion. This is the country of the savage Igorotte tribes, who are generally styled head hunters. It also has copper in apparently unlimited quantity. As soon as some method of conveying title to mining property is adopted there is going to be a grand rush to these mountains. Already a number of old miners from the western states are hugging claims that they expect will make them rich."

Director John W. Beatty of Carnegie institute has returned from a two-weeks' hunting and fishing expedition in the mountains of West Virginia.

Mrs. Frank McCoy and Mrs. M. E. Quest, mother and sister, respectively, of Mrs. R. M. Gulick, of Irwin avenue, leave for Europe next Tuesday on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Mrs. McCoy's uncle died recently, making her his sole heir to his estate on the Isle of Man. The main object of the trip is to settle up the estate. Mr. and Mrs. Gulick join the ladies in Paris September 15, returning with them the following month.

A. M. Schoyer, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines, returned home last evening from a trip to Toledo and intermediate points. He denied the published rumor that he intends leaving the Pennsylvania to take a position with the Rock Island.

Dwight Carson of Detroit, superintendent of the dining car service for the Wabash railroad, passed through the city last night on his way to Wilmington, Del., where he will equip several new cars for the dining service. The cars are to be used on the main line of the Wabash.

W. Andrews left last night for Philadelphia on a business trip.

WOMAN SAW ITALIAN RECEIVE DEATH BLOW

Two of Countrymen, Charged With Murder Have Fled to Europe.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 13.—The Merrittstown Italian, who died at the Uniontown hospital June 16, it is believed was murdered. From a reputable eye witness to the fight, Mrs. George Oakes, of Merrittstown, it is learned that the Italian whose name was Mics. Carpineta, received a terrible blow on the head at the hands of a fellow countryman. Mrs. Oakes was in the garden when she saw two foreigners run out of the house nearby. One overtook the other and struck him on the head with a piece of iron. The two men were separated by other foreigners and the injured man was taken into the house and, as Mrs. Oakes did not know the foreigners, she could not tell who the principals were. The foreigners themselves kept the news of the fight secret, and Dr. C. P. Bryant supposed the man was injured accidentally and sent him to the Uniontown hospital where he died June 16.

The county officers received no word of a fight having caused Carpineta's death until last week when a brother-in-law of the murdered man came from Pittsburgh and asked District Attorney A. E. Jones to investigate the matter. County Detective Alexander McBeth made information against two foreigners charging them with murder, but upon going to Merrittstown they found that the men had disappeared on the day of Carpineta's death, and are supposed to have gone to Europe. The missing men are brothers and their names are Giovann Antonio Dominico and Dominico Dominico.

JUMPED FROM STEAMER.

Son of a Naval Engineer Attempts to Drown Himself at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 13.—(Special.)—While the North German Lloyd steamer Chemnitz was sailing for Bremen this afternoon, J. H. L. Herwig, aged 18, son of the late J. H. L. Herwig, a chief engineer of the United States navy, leaped from the steamer's rail to the pier, a distance of 40 feet, causing consternation among the hundreds present bidding farewell to voyagers. Herwig arose with both ankles sprained. He states that he was being forced against his wishes to return to his mother in Germany because he failed in his examinations to enter the naval academy.

He had an appointment from President Roosevelt, but says that instead of studying he idled his time in gaiety at Annapolis. His uncle, Robert Wheat, a wealthy landowner of Alexandria, Va., and a consulting engineer, thought it best to send the youth to his mother who has other children at school in Germany. It was agreed that he go to live in Washington and make another attempt to enter the naval academy. The youth is related to former Gov. Herwig of Louisiana.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Philadelphia at Exposition Park.
Boston at Chicago.
New York at Cincinnati.
Brooklyn at St. Louis.

Hughey Duffy and his band of Quaker misfits made their appearance at Exposition park yesterday afternoon, and what the Pirates did to them was a-plenty. It was rather a strenuous afternoon for Clarke's crew, who tore around the base paths like a lot of runaway colts; and when it was time to cry quits the tally sheets showed a total of 11 to 0 in the locals' favor.

That Quaker outfit, with Doyle on first, Long on second and Gleason on third, is a reminder of the good old days when each one of the three was a star of the game, but time has had its effect, and while the trio can put up a pretty fair bluff at the game, yet the buoyancy of the old days is missing. Long, who joined the team yesterday, covered second base, and, barring a wild throw, he played a clever game. It was a good thing for him that second base was his position, where he did not have long throws to make, as that once strong arm of his is gone, and it is a labor for him to heave the ball to first base. It was this bad arm that caused his wild throw in the seventh inning and was indirectly responsible for three of the Pirates' runs.

Frank Sparks, an ex-Pirate, was in the box for the visitors, and his delivery was an easy proposition for the Pirate batters. Sparks has not been well this season and his work shows it, as he cannot get any speed to the ball, and his curves therefore are easy of solution. This was the case yesterday, and the locals seemed to hit the ball where and when they pleased. The support given Sparks outside of the one wild throw by Long was perfect, and it was a wonder where there was such free hitting. The Quaker fielders were kept busy all afternoon and some brilliant catches were made. The most spectacular one was contributed by Lush when he jumped into the air and pulled down Bransfield's hit for a three-bagger in the fifth inning.

It was a lucky thing for the Pirates that the Phillies proved such an easy proposition, or things might have gone hard with them, as the team was not in the best of shape. Harry Smith, who is the only catcher left since Phelps was injured, was sick and should have been at home in bed, but the team needed his services, and he pluckily went to work and stuck to his task during the entire contest. Manager Clarke had planned in case Smith had to give up to send Bransfield back of the bat, Wagner to first and Kruger to short, but this shift was not necessary, as Smith managed to finish the game.

Patsy Flaherty served the benders for the locals, and the Carnegie boy was in fine shape, not only in the pitching line, but in fielding as well, and his work was easily the feature of the Pirates' side of the game. For the first five innings he had the Quaker batters completely at his mercy, not a semblance of a hit being made. In the sixth, however, the visitors broke the spell, when Hulswitt drove the ball to left for a pretty single, and after that the visitors gained courage and managed to make a few hits which availed them naught in the run-making line.

After the second inning when the Pirates had chalked up four runs, the only interest for the 2,650 spectators was to see a shutout, and they pulled good and hard for this. It looked a bit dubious in the eighth inning, when the first two batsmen up made singles, but Flaherty put on steam, and, backed up by the best of fielding, the visitors were kept from scoring. Tommy Leach was the bright star of the Pirates, and his all-around work was a treat for the spectators. Out of five times at bat he made three hits and reached first on balls once, besides, he scored four of his team's runs. It was on the bases where Tommy shone most brilliantly, and his fleetness of foot kept the Quakers guessing all the time.

Singles by Leach and Bransfield, a sacrifice by Beaumont and a base on balls to Clarke started the Pirates with two runs in the first, and two more were added in the second on singles by Smith, Leach and Clarke. Leach drew a base on balls in the third, went all the way to third on Beaumont's infield single and scored on a fly out. In the seventh the locals again found Sparks' delivery, and three runs were the result of hits by Clarke, Bransfield and Ritchey and a wild throw by Long. This dose was repeated in the eighth on a succession of singles by Leach, Beaumont, Clarke and Wagner. The score:

RAYMOND RUSSELL TWICE BREAKS TRACK RECORD

Goes Mile at Schenley Meeting in 2:22 and 2:20¼—Big Crowd in Attendance.

Fully 5,000 persons turned out to see the horses go yesterday afternoon at Schenley park, where the Matinee club held its second meeting. There were seven good races. The feature of the day came in the fifth race, when Raymond Russell, a brown pacer owned by C. Gallenz, twice broke the track record. In the first heat he covered the mile in 2:22, which was the best time ever made there in a race, and the next heat he lowered the mark to 2:20¼. Summaries:

SHRINERS CAPTURE ATLANTIC CITY

Oriental Pageant Exceeds Any Spectacular Event Ever Given There.

SYRIA TEMPLE VERY POPULAR

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 13.

Like a scene from an old oriental romance, the procession of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, passed through the streets this morning, between long lines of applauding spectators, many of whom, as was indicated by the crescent and scimitar pin of the distinguishing red fez, were nobles of the order themselves. A gorgeous spectacle was anticipated, but when the caravans appeared, preceded by many bands, some of whom were composed entirely of Shriners, robed in the gaudy yet beautiful costumes of the lands of Mohammed, the result surpassed anything ever seen here. The terrible scimitar, the deadly Arab guns, and the sharp, glittering Bedouin spears, some of which it is said, have seen actual service in battle on the hot sands of Arabia or Persia, gave a sanguinary appearance to the marching Shriners.

Welcomed to the city by Mayor Stoy, and presented by him with a bunch of golden keys in a blue plush box, the uses of which he explained at length, Imperial Shrine held the opening session of its thirtieth annual convention in the convention hall on Young's ocean pier. The meeting was presided over by Imperial Potentate George H. Green of Texas. Prayer was offered by Noble Francis H. Hemperly of Lulu temple. The parade this morning was but a forecast of what took place tonight when thousands upon thousands of the nobles passed in review before their imperial officers and the populace.

After the parade this morning, the headquarters of Syria temple, of Pittsburgh, was the mecca for every visiting Shriner and his wife and daughter. Of all the visiting Shriners, that from Pittsburgh was the only one which gave away cheer and souvenirs without price. They did this systematically, however, and as a result the badges and souvenirs of Pittsburgh are at a premium tonight.

The whole body of Shriners in the city are supposed to be the guests of Lulu temple of Philadelphia, but that organization, instead of preparing a suitable souvenir to give to the visitors, actually charged 75 cents for a souvenir stein. Syria temple sent to the potentate of every visiting shrine tickets to be given to the members' wives, each entitling the holder to a magnificently decorated punch glass. The result was that all the lady shriners in town flocked to the Pittsburgh headquarters at the Hotel Pierrepont this afternoon. Syria temple, by the way, distinguished itself this morning and again tonight by carrying at the head of its line, instead of the usual scimitar and crescent of Islam, a magnificent American flag. It was the only one in line.

GERMAN BANKERS WILL FURNISH RUSSIA CASH

In Return for the Loan Germany Is to Have Preferential Tariffs.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 13.—It is now settled beyond all doubt that German bankers have arranged to provide Russia with a war loan of 250,000,000 marks, which is to be at 5 per cent interest. In return, the German government will be given many privileges and custom rates will be lower on nearly all German goods exported into Russia.

M. Witte has been in this city for some time and it was generally thought that his presence here was caused by the czar's anxiety to raise money. This he, however, smilingly but persistently denied, and told the newspaper reporters that if they investigated deeper, they would probably find that Russia had already all the money she wanted. Investigations by the newspapers then brought out the fact that a secret war loan of the above named amount had been arranged for in this city nearly three weeks ago.

LONDON, July 13.—Lord Rothschild said today that he had reason to believe that Russia was endeavoring to float another foreign loan. With reference to the suggestion that Russia might attempt to float an internal loan Lord Rothschild said he did not believe it could be taken by the home bankers unless the latter arranged with foreign banks to take it off their hands. Russian official circles in London, however, say they have no knowledge of any effort on the part of their government to float a loan. The government has no need of money at this time, as it has ample resources to carry on the war for a long period. With reference to the report that the Jewish bankers decline to grant a loan to Russia unless the Russian Jews are given the same rights and privileges as other Russian subjects, the officials said Interior Minister Von Plehwe was considering measures for the relief of the Jews. This, however, had no connection with the question of a loan, but was solely in execution of the emperor's ukase of January, 1903, contemplating granting further liberty to the people of the empire.

WESTINGHOUSE COMPANY SECURES BIG CONTRACTS

To Install Equipment in South African Diamond Mines and in Utah.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Westinghouse company has secured a contract by cable for considerable further equipment to be installed in the famous De Beers mines at Kimberly, South Africa. Among other machinery a 1,500-horse power turbine connected to a Westinghouse generator has now been requisitioned for. Two 1,500-horse power Westinghouse turbo-generating sets are already installed on the De Beers property, which supply electric current for power and lighting the mines as well as the town of Kimberly.

The Newhouse Mines and Smelting Company of Frisco, Utah, has awarded a contract to the Westinghouse people for considerable equipment to be installed in the power station to be located 12 miles from Frisco, at the terminus of the Oregon Short Line railroad. The energy to be generated will be utilized to operate the Newhouse mines and to light the town of Newhouse. Power will be generated at 440 volts and transmitted at 2,300 volts a distance of 9,000 feet from the power house to the mines. Power will also be used to drive a motor-generator set for the operation of mining type locomotives in the main tunnel. The entire electric system will be three phase, with a frequency of 60 cycles.

The generating plant is to consist of two 600-horse power Westinghouse turbines with three phase generators of 400 kilowatt capacity. The turbines will operate under 150 pounds pressure, 27-inch to 27½-inch vacuum and approximately 80 degrees Fahrenheit superheat. An individual surface condenser will be provided for each turbine.

Eight Westinghouse electric locomotives and a substantial lot of generating equipment have been ordered through the Japanese house of Takata & Co., for shipment to the Besshi mines, Japan.

David Kirkcaldie, one of the railroad and tramway commissioners of the New South Wales government, is now here en route for Pittsburgh for the purpose of gaining pointers regarding the operation of electric traction lines, and to inspect the Westinghouse manufacturing facilities. Mr. Kirkcaldie's department looks after the construction and operation of the extensive trolley lines in and around Sydney, known as the Sydney city and suburban tramways, which, when completed will be nearly 100 miles in length. Yankee equipment will be used. He will be accompanied by Henry Deane, the engineer-in-chief of the New South Wales railroads and tramways. While no actual contracts for material, etc., will be placed by these gentlemen, it is anticipated that on their return to Australia, orders will be sent to Pittsburgh for considerable quantities of machinery.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 13.—(Special.)—Chautauqua is becoming accustomed to rainy days, and when the sun shone so brightly this morning people looked rather incredulous and started out bearing that useful article which has been so greatly overworked during the last two weeks—the umbrella.

At 9 o'clock, in Alumni hall, J. Horace McFarland of Harrisburg addressed the Women's club on "Women and the Civic Problem." The attendance was very large, as this is civic week in Chautauqua, and Mr. McFarland has a national reputation for thorough knowledge of many ways and means to make cities more beautiful, as well as more sanitary. To women Mr. McFarland gave all the praise and credit of all civic movements.

After the close of the address many questions were asked Mr. McFarland in regard to beautifying certain localities under unfavorable conditions. To many of these questions Mr. McFarland did not reply, except to say that he did not care to give the same address in two places on the same day, and as he should speak in the amphitheater at a later hour, the answer to these questions would be included in his lecture, "The Message of Civic Improvement." The lecture was given at 11 o'clock and was thoroughly enjoyed. It described so many conditions in our larger cities which we greatly deplore, but it also gave the course to pursue in order to change these undesirable conditions.

The devotional hour was conducted by Bishop Vincent and, as is always the case where the bishop leads the meeting, was largely attended.

In the afternoon a concert was given by the Chautauqua and the soloists, Mrs. Duffit, Miss Spencer, Mr. Miller and Mr. Crampton. William H. Sherwood, the head of the music department, made his first appearance of the season.

At 4 o'clock Prof. Richard G. Moulton lectured on "William Morris Regina." In the reading hour Mrs. Emily read scenes from "The Heart of Hyacinth," by Onoto Watama.

Two very popular events of the summer season are the prize spelling match and the prize pronunciation match. The former took place this evening.

A largely attended joint meeting of the Chautauqua Boys' club and the Chautauqua Girls' club was held at the Boys' club house this morning. Frank Beard delivered a brief address, after which Dr. George May of the Chautauqua School of Physical Education gave an exhibition of fancy club swinging. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ketchener rendered popular selections on their mandolins. The first section of the Chautauqua park guard was appointed.

MRS. CHOATE OFFICIATES.

Christens Cunarder—Inverclyde Says Rate War Policy Will Be Maintained.

LONDON, July 13.—Mrs. Choate, wife of the American ambassador, christened the Cunard line steamer Caronia, of 21,000 tons, which was launched at Clyde bank today. The ambassador was present.

In a speech at the luncheon following the launching Lord Inverclyde, chairman of the company, referring to the rate war, said the board of directors of the Cunard company were fully alive to its responsibilities and had determined to carry their policy through, because they believed they were acting in the best interest of the shareholders. Their object was to keep the Cunard flag flying. The Caronia, Lord Inverclyde added, was distinguished, as she was the only steamer christened by the wife of the American ambassador.

Ambassador Choate, replying to Lord Inverclyde, said he hoped that the stars and stripes and the union jack which adorned the Caronia would never be further apart. They were emblematic of unity, friendship and good will. He was, he said, a strong advocate of close and friendly communication between the United States and Great Britain and no organization during the last 60 years had done more than the Cunard Steamship Company to promote international intercourse and good will.

RUSSIA FEARS FAMINE.

Failure of Crops in Southern Provinces Is Already Being Felt.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—The prospective failure of the crops in some of the southern provinces, possibly attended with famine and the necessity of adopting relief measures, is beginning to attract attention. The governments of Kherson, Bessarabia, Taurida, Poltava and Kharkoff are principally affected. In the district of Triaspol the peasants have already been compelled to harvest the unripe crops to feed the live stock. Committees have been appointed to relieve the distress.

The failure of the crops is attributed to the early autumn frosts, insufficient moisture while sowing, the fluctuating weather of the winter, the total absence of snow, the heavy frosts which followed the late spring frosts in May, and the infrequency of rains for the cereals and hay. In some districts no rain has fallen. In many parts of Bessarabia cattle are being sold for almost nothing.

STILL PREDICT CONTEST.

Friends of Phipps Case Litigants Discredit Report That Plaintiff Is Coming Here.

Friends of the litigants in the divorce suit of Lawrence C. Phipps against his wife, Genevieve C. Phipps, discredit the report recently emanating from Denver that Mr. Phipps would be in this city this week for the purpose of holding another conference with a view of effecting a settlement. Rumors to the effect that litigation will be dropped and a settlement finally reached without any fight are firmly denied by those close to the interested parties, who aver that no further propositions towards a peace agreement are likely to be made by either side.

Local attorneys engaged in the case refuse to make any statement regarding the present status of the case or probable developments.

Denver papers yesterday printed a story of reconciliation, but it was flatly denied in Pittsburgh.

RAZING THE PESTHOUSE.

New Buildings to Be Erected to Care for Future Epidemics.

Workmen began to tear down the smallpox wards of the Municipal hospital yesterday as it is anticipated they will not be needed again, at least before the new hospital is completed. The original hospital building will be left standing for the present, those to be razed being three isolated ones that have been in almost constant use for three years. The new hospital is expected to be completed on September 1, after which the other old buildings will be torn down.

Superintendent Moore, of the bureau of health received a letter yesterday from Benjamin Lee, secretary of the state board of health. In it he congratulated the superintendent on his "intelligent" method in dealing with smallpox, and on stamping it out so effectually. He stated that Western Pennsylvania, however, was not yet entirely free from the disease, and that the state board is still maintaining a quarantine on the Ohio river at the state line. He requested Superintendent Moore to continue his vigilance in this city that the disease may not reappear here when cold weather comes.

SOCIETY

THREE large Peerless auto-cars swept through the parks yesterday afternoon filled with laughing, shouting children. They were the guests of Mrs. Arthur Banker, who entertained 25 little people, friends of her 5-year-old daughter, Martha Banker. Starting from Mrs. Banker's home in Sheridan avenue, East End, the party went through Highland park and over the boulevard to Schenley park, and then back to Mrs. Banker's home, where an auto-dinner was served, almost as elaborate as for really grown-up people. The decorations of the dining room were in pink and white, sweet peas being the flowers, which were arranged in pretty profusion. The cakes and candies were in the same colors, pink and white, and with the desert came the favors, little toy automobiles filled with bonbons.

Mrs. Banker was assisted in taking the children through the parks and later at the dinner by Mrs. George Price, Mrs. Albert McCombs and Mrs. James. The little girls appeared in dainty white frocks of mull and lace, with ribbon sashes and perky bows in their hair. Only two boys were included in the party, and they were Jack McComb and Thomas Price. The little girls were Mrs. Banker's daughter, Martha, and Eleanor Kent, Eleanor Kinkead, Mary Kinkead, Emily King, Ethel Moss, Helen Shannon, Frances Ferguson, Isabel Grimes, Helen Morris, Jean Hunter, Louise Kindil, Blanche Russler, Hazel Russler, Rose Elizabeth James, Adele Gumbert, Florence Gumbert, Laura Selzeberger and Helen Selzeberger.

Ladies at the Tennis Tournament.

The tennis tournament on the grounds of the Pittsburgh Field club was attended by quite a large contingent of society folk yesterday afternoon, and the white gowns and smart hats of the ladies, with the rainbow shades of the parasols, gave a pretty dash of color to the tennis courts and the golf links adjoining. After the postponement of the tournament from Tuesday because of rain, the pleasant weather of yesterday made it possible to watch the games with real enjoyment. A great deal of interest was taken in the game which S. Jarvis Adams, Jr., won in the first round in singles, while no less critically were followed by the spectators the games which George B. Edwards and W. B. Moorhead played and won. Both Mr. Edwards and Mr. Moorhead were members of the Pittsburgh Field club when its tennis tournaments on the grounds in North Craig street were among the most interesting social events of the summer season and the grounds were filled with people, smart traps being lined up near the entrance and within the gates and driveway. Clinton L. Childs was another of the players in those days before he had entered college. Thomas A. McGinley, who played in the first round in the doubles yesterday, is a more recent comer into the club.

Tea for Schoolgirls.

Miss Alice Theodora Moore will be the guest of honor at an afternoon tea which Mrs. William D. Grimes will give tomorrow from 2 o'clock until 5 at her home in South Negley avenue, East End. Miss Moore returned a few days ago after taking honors at West Chester, where she was graduated in June. She is the daughter of J. T. Moore of Charles street, Knoxville. The guests at Mrs. Grimes' tea will include only school and college girls, friends of the young guest of honor. Smith, Wellesley and Vassar will be represented in the group of girls.

Reception in McDonald.

A pleasant reception in McDonald yesterday afternoon was that given at the home of Mrs. W. A. LaRoss. More than 200 guests were present, and the honor guests were Mrs. T. B. Moorhead of Whittier, Cal., and Mrs. W. F. Schoener of Allentown, Pa., sisters-in-law of the hostess. The house was handsomely decorated with roses and other cut flowers. Refreshments were served on the porches and in the dining room. Many social affairs will be given for Mrs. Moorhead and Mrs. Schoener, who are expected to remain a month with Mrs. LaRoss.

Woods Run Baths Open.

The baths and swimming pool of the Woods Run Industrial house have been put in operation and the men, women and children are enjoying them. The managers of the institution desire to extend their thanks to the many friends whose contributions to the special fund created for this purpose enabled the bath committee to open the bath house in this densely populated locality. Since the baths were opened many of the visitors have had their first "wash all over."

Tea at "The Shelf."

Miss Abby C. Adair of Los Angeles, Cal., for whom a number of pretty little affairs have been given in the Sewickley valley, was honor guest in Sewickley yesterday afternoon at an informal porch tea given by Miss Evelyn Muller. It was given at her home, "The Shelf," which overlooks the valley from Hopkins street. The tea was not large but a pretty little affair, and about 20 guests were present.

Miss Baldwin's Card Party.

Miss Isabel Baldwin of Sewickley entertained with a pretty little card party yesterday afternoon at her home in Maple lane in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Basell Wilson Baldwin of Milton, Pa., who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin.

Autumn Wedding in Munhall.

POOLROOMS WILL GET RACE TRACK SERVICE

So New Orleans Houses Are Informed by Letter from New York.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 13.—The local poolrooms, it was announced today, are again to receive telegraphic descriptions of races on the various tracks of the country. Letters from New York said the service would be resumed after July 21, and the rooms were notified to remit to H. D. Dealy of New York, who was formerly in charge of the racing department of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Since the Western Union issued its sweeping order in May, the pool rooms have been using a service furnished by several correspondents and a telephone company. The telephone service is to be discontinued after July 20. No details have been given to the pool room people as to the manner in which the descriptive service is to be handled, and no mention of the Western Union is made in the communication. The pool rooms will be closed here on the first of September, under the new Louisiana law, unless they decide to test the statute recently passed.

NEW YORK, July 13.—When the above dispatch was shown to the officials of the Western Union today inquiries were referred to W. J. Dealy, formerly in charge of the Western Union racing service, who said:

"I know nothing about the Western Union company resuming that service, nor have I heard anything about it. The Western Union is not engaged in the race reporting business, nor does it intend to engage in it, at New Orleans or any other place."

PENNINGTON GETS BAIL.

Promoter and Inventor Released from Jail on $1,000 Bond.

E. J. Pennington, the promoter of automobile enterprises, who has been in jail for several days, was yesterday released on $1,000 bail. Pennington entered criminal court in the custody of a deputy sheriff and his appearance was greeted with a stare by the spectators. This was due to his immense physique, which was strikingly attired in a long skirted coat of brown material.

Samuel S. Enrue, a coal dealer of Lower St. Clair township, went the security and the matter of form in effecting the organizer's release took but a few minutes. He immediately left the court room with his attorney. The bail was for two charges of conspiracy and one of defrauding a hotel keeper.

Pennington was taken over to the court without his silk hat. After he secured bail he left Attorney Harry L. Goehring and walked over to the jail to get his possessions. He was the center of attraction as he crossed Ross street from the court house to the jail.

Deputy Warden Charles Taylor had his silk hat and grip at the jail door for him. As Deputy Taylor handed the hat, he said.

"We did not have time to get it polished for you."

"That's all right," said Pennington.

BOYS CHARGED WITH FORGERY

J. Hood Heibinger, Frank Harney and James Conon Are Held for Court.

J. Hood Heibinger, Frank Harney and James Conon, who were arrested Tuesday for attempting to swindle the Logan-Gregg Hardware Company, were committed to jail for court yesterday on charges of forgery. The men telephoned the hardware company for seven Smith & Wesson revolvers to be delivered to a store in Fifth avenue. The revolvers were sent but it was found they had not been ordered from that place. As the boy was returning with the revolvers, the three men asked him for the bundle. The detectives had been notified by the hardware concern about the peculiar manner in which the order was made, and the officers were waiting for the men to approach the messenger. As they did so they were arrested.

At the hearing it was found the boys had passed worthless checks on department stores in the city and information was made against them.

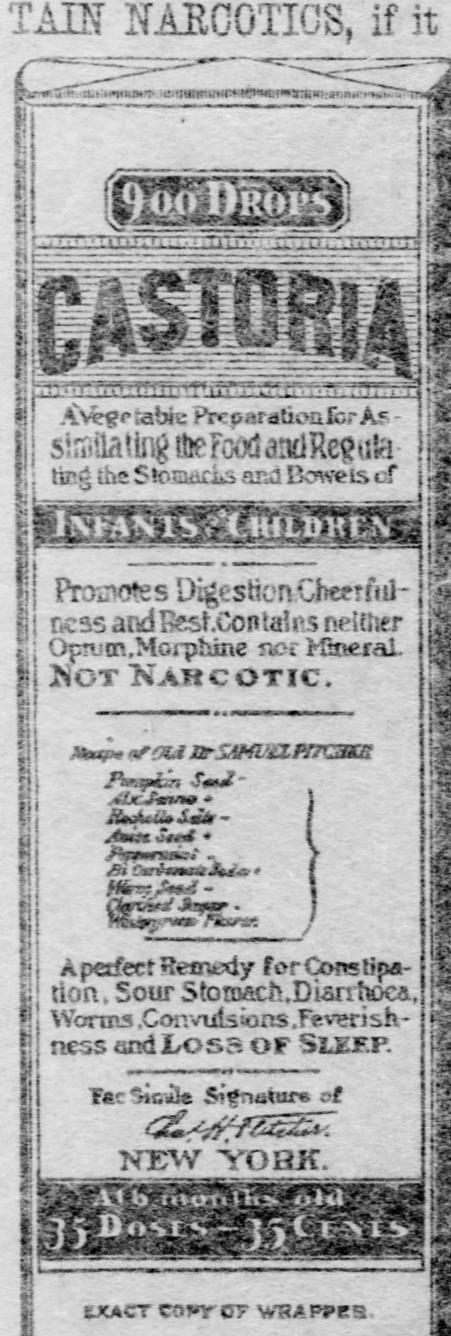
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.



Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. J. W. Dinsdale, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children."

Dr. Alexander E. Mintie, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria and have found it a reliable and pleasant remedy for children."

Dr. J. S. Alexander, of Omaha, Neb., says: "A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is, deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."

Dr. J. A. McClellan, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria for children and always got good results. In fact I use Castoria for my own children."

Dr. J. W. Allen, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I heartily endorse your Castoria. I have frequently prescribed it in my medical practice, and have always found it to do all that is claimed for it."

Dr. C. H. Glidden, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "My experience as a practitioner with your Castoria has been highly satisfactory, and I consider it an excellent remedy for the young."

Dr. H. D. Benner, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years past with the most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy."

Dr. J. A. Boarman, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."

Dr. J. J. Mackey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I consider your Castoria an excellent preparation for children, being composed of reliable medicines and pleasant to the taste. A good remedy for all disturbances of the digestive organs."

Dr. Howard James, of New York City, says: "It is with great pleasure that I desire to testify to the medicinal virtue of your Castoria. I have used it with marked benefit in the case of my own daughter, and have obtained excellent results from its administration to other children in my practice."

LIBRARY ACRES.

ACRES AT LOW PRICES.

Believing that the public is tired paying six hundred, one thousand and up to sixteen hundred dollars for country lots only thirty feet front, we have succeeded in getting a company of men to put on the market a plan of one, two and five-acre lots at the low price of from five hundred to one thousand dollars.

Why should you pay one thousand dollars for a thirty-foot lot when we can sell you two acres (equal to 16 thirty-foot lots) for one thousand dollars, and only 35 minutes' ride from the postoffice when the new tunnel is completed, and that will be in a month or two.

Streets are all laid out, boardwalks laid, gas on the premises, fruit and shade trees beyond number, many springs of fine, cool water, and the ground is rolling just enough to insure perfect drainage.

This is certainly giving the people what they want and at investment prices.

The entire plan will soon be sold out and you had better come out soon. Salesmen on plan daily and Sunday.

If you want to make money buy Library acres.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

CAPITAL FOR BUSINESS PURPOSE—One of the leading features of my business is to consider for clients the subject of capital for good enterprises, especially manufacturing, in which cases I am usually successful, but not always. Prefer proposition already in successful operation, but requiring additional capital to keep pace with a healthy demand. Projects, untried and commercially unknown, especially if presented by persons totally without capital, cannot be considered, because the investor would not accept them and it would only be wasted energy on my part to submit them. This proposition is made only to a solid, successful and energetic type of business men of good reputation who have faith in their own enterprises and desire my services for the legitimate requirements of their business. To such persons I would extend an invitation to call upon me in perfect safety as to the matter of undue publicity. If, after consultation, incorporating should be deemed advisable, that feature can also be transacted through my office in proper legal form. JOSEPH N. FITZGERALD, 421 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

BULLS RETAINED CONTROL OF NEW YORK STOCKS

Steel Preferred and the Harriman Stocks Were the Leaders of the Market—Better Trading on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

In the New York stock market at the opening yesterday there was a rather sharp contest between the bulls and the bears, but at the close of the day the bulls were still in control. London prices were firmer, and foreigners were buyers of United States Steel preferred, Union Pacific and the granger stocks generally. The professional traders who were responsible for the rise last week, and who really gave the market its upward impetus, sold freely, on the theory that the advance was too rapid and that a reaction was due. They ultimately discovered their mistake, for there was an increase in commission business, and it may be said that the public finally took the market away from the professionals, although it is probable that large financial interests were aiding the movement.

United States Steel preferred was again the leader of the market, and during the early part of the day was the strongest stock on the list. All issues advanced, but the preferred made the largest gain, crossing 61 and closing at 60⅞ bid. This is the highest price since early last April just after the declaration of the quarterly dividend, when the stock touched 62½. That was the high point of the year, and the subsequent reaction carried the price down to 51¼, so that yesterday's top figure of 61⅛ represents a recovery of nearly 10 points in exactly two months. It is rather remarkable with what unanimity the street accepted the figures of the quarter's earnings which were published yesterday, although it will be recalled that at the last quarterly meeting of the board the public was warned against accepting any information relating to the affairs of the corporation that was not authenticated by the signature of some official. So far as the July dividend is concerned, there is no longer any doubt about the regular rate being declared, and there is also no doubt about a favorable change of sentiment, which plays so important a part in actual business and speculation. Still, the reports of trade are so conflicting, or rather continue to preponderate on the side of no genuine improvement, and the season of the year with its crop uncertainties is so generally against a bull market, that the public remains in a condition of nervous uncertainty as to whether to buy for a turn, wait for larger profits on stock already held, or sell short in the expectation of recovering the stock at lower prices after the declaration of the dividend on the 26th inst. The strength of the Steel issues had a favorable effect upon minor iron and steel stocks, notably on Pressed Steel Car preferred, which advanced 4 points to 34 and closed at 33 bid.

The Harriman stocks were the strongest of the railroad list, and were affected by a revival of rumors of an early and favorable decision in the Northern Securities litigation. Union Pacific after opening higher at 93¼, reacted to 92⅝ when the bears were trying to turn the market, but in the afternoon it became buoyant, advancing to 94⅝, closing at the top, the highest price of the year, and a net recovery of 23⅞ per cent from the low point recorded just after the Northern Securities decision. Southern Pacific advanced 2 per cent to 51⅜ and closed near the best. The Gould stocks, which have been laggards in the recent upward movement, became more active yesterday and advanced sharply. Missouri Pacific rose to 93½. Wabash preferred to 36⅝, and the minor issues were from ½ to 1 per cent higher. St. Paul was a very strong feature among high-priced stocks, advancing to 147⅝, or to within a small fraction of the highest of the year. Atchison reached the highest price of the year by selling at 76½, and gossip on the stock was very bullish.

A rather curious feature of the day's dealings was the failure of some of the recent prominent leaders of the market to score gains. The tractions closed fractionally lower for the day, and Pennsylvania, after rallying only ⅝ per cent, reacted to 119, closing unchanged for the day. Reading was quite active. Reading did not improve upon its high price for Tuesday, and closed a shade under the previous day. Another rather curious thing was that the granger stocks advanced in the face of a very strong market for grain, which closed higher on reports of damage to wheat. Still another incident showing the change that has taken place in stock market sentiment was the manner in which the street ignored the strike of employes in the great meat packing trade.

There was no change in call loan rates, and no attention was given hints of a possibly firmer money market in the near future. There is an unprecedented congestion of funds in New York, and when the country begins to draw upon its balance there, an advance in rates is almost inevitable.

There was decided improvement in the local stock market yesterday, the sales footing up nearly 6,000 shares. The strongest stocks were National Fire Proofing preferred, the steel stocks and Westinghouse Electric, all of which closed higher. Pittsburgh Coal preferred was firmer, but there was nothing doing in the common or in the River Coal issues. Bonds were firm and bank and trust company stocks dull.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The $2 rise in National Fire Proofing preferred, which sold up to 29¾ and closed at 29⅝ bid, was based upon expectations that the regular quarterly dividend will be declared today. As stated in this column last week, there has been some improvement in the business of the company, which recently booked a good contract in Baltimore, which is believed to be the forerunner of additional orders.

Consolidated Ice common sold at 5¾ and reacted to 5½ at the close, a decline of half a point from the last previous sale. Some bullish gossip is current relating to the affairs of this company, and some of the more optimistic are predicting a small dividend on the common stock at the close of this year. The company has regularly paid 6 per cent on the preferred stock since its organization. The company has outstanding $2,000,000 preferred and $2,000,000 common stock, but no bonds.

Crucible Steel common andvanced to and closed at 5¼ sales and bid. The preferred declined to 37 and recovered to 37⅛. United States Steel common rallied to 11⅝ and the preferred to 61, the latter representing a gain for the day of 1¼ per cent.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred was firmer, rallying to 58¾ and closing at 58½ bid. There were no transactions in the common, which closed offered at 14¾. Eight shares River Coal common sold at 8, but there were no sales or quotations on the preferred. Sentiment on the coal stocks is rather bearish, despite the fact that there has been a turn for the better in the condition of the trade. It is believed that there is a considerable short interest in Pittsburgh Coal preferred, traders having sold on the theory that the stock would weaken on the announcement of the postponement of a dividend on River Coal preferred.

At auction yesterday John D. Bailey sold the following stocks: 125 shares National Fire Proofing at 7⅝, 10 shares National Fire Proofing preferred at 20⅜, and 10 shares Colonial Trust at 315.

In connection with the advance in Pressed Steel Car it was reported that the Norfolk & Western railroad was in the market for a number of new cars and that the local company would obtain all or a portion of the order.

Japanese gold amounting to $800,000 and $145,000 new American gold was transferred by telegraph from San Francisco to New York yesterday.

The directors of Central Railroad of New Jersey have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

Columbus Railway Company directors have declared a dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred stock, payable August 1.

Here is the way the market looked to one operator who sent the following message to Pittsburgh: "The advance in Steel preferred has attracted some good selling. Moore & Schley and Shearson & Hammill have both sold heavily. The trading element which bucked the market this morning have beaten a hasty retreat. Perhaps prices are high enough at the moment, but I think stocks a purchase on any reaction. There is considerable talk of an increase in Union Pacific common dividend."

The late dealings in New York were regarded as quite significant. The buying of 15,000 shares Southern Pacific by J. W. Davis & Co. was supposed to be for important banking interests. J. W. Davis & Co. also bought 2,500 shares Northwest.

The question of a dividend on Reading common will not come up seriously until the voting trust is dissolved next September, nor is the second preferred stock conversion into first preferred and common shares a matter of consideration at this time. It requires $2,800,000 to pay 4 per cent a year on the two classes of Reading preferred stock, which is the maximum which can be paid. If the second preferred shares should be converted it will require $2,240,000 to pay the 4 per cent on the $56,000,000 first preferred stock then outstanding and $3,360,000 to pay 4 per cent on the $84,000,000 common stock outstanding. The Reading Company's surplus to the end of May this year was $6,854,200. If the company should continue to earn money at this rate, 4 per cent can be paid when the second preferred is retired on the first preferred and common, and the balance would be sufficient to make an extra dividend of 2 per cent on the common. There is apparently no intention of taking up the question of retiring the second preferred stock at this time. Of course the holders of the second preferred would oppose conversion until they were assured of a dividend on the common shares. The Lake Shore and Baltimore & Ohio own $63,600 of the $40,000 second preferred shares, or more than $28,000,000 par value. When the second preferred conversion takes place it can be taken as official notice of the resumption of dividends on the common stock.—Philadelphia News Bureau.

The income account of Erie Railroad Company, all lines, from July to May, 1904, inclusive show: Gross earnings $41,103,000; operating expenses and taxes, $30,481,000; net earnings, $10,627,000; other income, $360,000; total income, $10,987,000; interest, rentals and sinking fund, $9,682,000; net income, $1,305,000.

Just before the close of the market there was a rumor in Wall street that the Northern Securities decision in the Harriman injunction case had been handed down. At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and also at Great Northern headquarters, it was stated that no announcement of the decision had yet been received, though it is expected at any moment.

Union Pacific convertible bonds are now only 7 points above the stock, at which difference they seem very inviting, as holders thereof have the option for two years for conversion into common stock, which is considered a big advantage in a market like the one at present.

While stocks were advancing, wheat was also making new high prices for the several options, which, under ordinary conditions is illogical. Regarding winter wheat, Crop Expert Snow in a special report on the Missouri valley, claims the loss to be from 20 to 25 per cent, with some points reporting as high as 40 per cent. Wheat in shock is either sprouting or molding. The missouri state statistician figures the crop at 51,000,000 bushels.

London's purchases of American stocks yesterday amounted to 50,000 shares. The foreign short interest in the New York market is estimated at 100,000 shares.

The wide opening in St. Paul, with simultaneous sales at 147 and 147⅛, and its almost immediate relapse, gave so strong an impression of manipulation that a party of room traders maintained a suspicious attitude toward the market and put out short lines at all stages of the advance. The sustaining effect of St. Paul's rise was supplemented by the vigorous advance in United States Steel preferred on the confident assumption that the full dividend for the quarter will be paid.

In the New York bond market United States 2s declined ¼ and the new coupon 4s declined ⅛ per cent on call.

FEATURES OF THE DAY.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred rallied to 58¾ and closed at 58½ bid.

Westinghouse Electric was active, advancing to 79¾.

IN WALL STREET.

Stock market active and higher, closing at net gains.

Sales increased to 834,200 shares stock and $4,350,000 bonds.

Steel preferred crossed 61 and closed near the top.

Pressed Steel Car rallied to 34 and closed at 33 bid.

Union Pacific the strongest of the railroads, closing at 94¾.

Pennsylvania and Reading closed unchanged for the day.

suspension last fall, and it is proposed to make the dividends a regular monthly feature.

A dispatch from Wallace, Idaho, says: In the county recorder's office a mortgage of $20,000, given by the New Jersey Gold Mining and Milling Company to F. C. Jones, trustee, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was filed yesterday. A release of a $2,000 mortgage by W. J. Doust, trustee, and others, to the mining company was also filed. The company has issued $20,000 worth of bonds to obtain money to work the property, and to secure the payment of the bonds a mortgage has been given on all the property of the New Jersey Mining and Milling Company. This includes a 10-stamp mill, 1,600 feet of double track tramway, a flume 8,300 feet long, as well as several mining claims. The New Jersey mine is located two miles from Wardner, near the O. R. & N. company's track. A large sum has been expended in developing the property, which has been opened up for a depth of 200 feet. The ledge gives good assay values in gold, but the company has been unable to find a satisfactory process for saving the values. Various experiments have been tried, but none have proven successful. The company built a 10-stamp mill last summer, but it has been operated only for a short time. A flume nearly two miles long was built to bring water from Big creek. For some time the property has been idle. Since $20,000 has been raised it is supposed that work will resume.

W. J. Robinson of Philadelphia, who is interested in gold dredging in the Atlin district, is in Vancouver. "So successful has the dredge on Gold run proved," said he, "that two more will be constructed, to be ready by next season, at a cost of $500,000." With him are H. W. Knight of Philadelphia and C. W. Merrick of Bradford, Pa., both directors of the B. C. Dredging Company, which is installing a dredge on Spruce creek, Atlin. The machine is to have its trial run before the season closes in the north.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The London tin market ruled very strong, advancing over a pound on both spot and futures, which closed at £119 15s and £120 respectively. The advance was said to be largely due to speculative conditions, but affected the local market, which closed firm at $26 25@26 50. Copper also showed firmness with London a shade higher at £57 2s 6d for futures. Locally prices remained unchanged with lake quoted at $12 62½@12 87½; electrolytic at $12 50@12 75, and casting at $12 25@12 50. Lead was unchanged at $4 25@4 35 in the New York market and at £11 12s 6d in London. Spelter was also unchanged in both markets, closing at £22 in London and at $4 85@4 95 in New York. Iron was unchanged at 51s 9d in Glasgow, while foundry northern is quoted at 42s 9d. Locally iron was quiet. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $14 50@15 00; No. 2 foundry northen at $13 75@14 25; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry soft at $13 25@13 75.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A Calumet dispatch says that the Lake Superior copper production in June exceeded 17,500,000 fine pounds, and was the largest of any month since copper mining was first actively prosecuted in the Michigan district.

The new washing machine recently installed on the Vindicator mine on Bull hill is making a clear saving of $6,000 per month to the company. The machine is saving in the neighborhood of 50 tons of slimes a month that are averaging $125 a ton. This ore has heretofore been thrown over the dump and was lost to the company. The amount saved will pay two regular dividends a year, a very considerable saving.

A July dividend of 10 cents a share has been declared by the Providence Mining Company, operating the Providence mine at Greenwood, B. C. The company is incorporated for 40,000 shares at the par value of $5 each, which makes the total dividend $4,000. This is the second dividend paid by the company since the

NORTHERN SECURITIES FUTURE IS DISCOUNTED

Stock Market Begins to Re-Arrange Western Railroad Map. U. S. Steel Firm.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 14.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

Judging from the action of the stock market yesterday, speculative interests began to discount the likelihood of a rearrangement of the Northwestern railroad situation, following a decision of the New Jersey court on the Northern Securities injunction suit. No attention was paid to the events of the day bearing upon security values. To many there was a humorous side to the enthusiasm of those who have espoused different sides in the Northern Securities litigation. On the curb Northern Securities reflected the confidence of its stockholders that the Hill plan of redistribution would be put into effect by a dissolution of the temporary injunction obtained by the Union Pacific interests. On the stock exchange, however, an entirely contrary view was taken, and it was the Union Pacific interests who were to win the suit and be benefitted by the decision of the Jersey court. Taking this for granted, the market looked beyond the events of the day and the tedious litigation which will ensue, and began to rearrange the western railroad map.

There seems to be little doubt but that important developments will follow the termination of the Northern Securities suit. It is well to point out, however, that the dissolution of the injunction will be followed by protracted litigation. Again, in case the Union Pacific interests are sustained in their effort to prevent the carrying out of the dissolution plan, as announced a short time ago, the question will then have to be fought out in a court of equity through various stages, as it is not likely that Mr. Hill and his friends will make a compromise. On appeal the matter may reach the supreme court again. In this connection, the opinion of the Jersey court, assuming that a decision favorable to the Union Pacific interests is handed down, may prove to be a substantial groundwork for further legal victories.

United States Steel was remarkably firm throughout the session, despite the unfavorable report on the pig iron restriction and decrease in consumption during the month. The plan of the various furnacemen in immediately stopping production when business slackened and not piling iron in their yards has been successful. The leading trade authority's report on the restriction in output and decrease in consumption during June does not suggest brisk business or large earnings. Wall street probably went on the theory that while this was so, a change for the better would come as a result of good crops.

The Three Rivers

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, July 13.—The stage of the river at 8 p. m. today was 22.2 feet and stationary. Clear and pleasant. Today's departures were: Bonanza, Pomeroy; Courier, Maysville; City of Cincinnati, Louisville. The Reed Lee is due here today from Memphis. She will have aboard a number of Elks who will attend the convention of the grand lodge of the order, which will be held in Cincinnati during the coming week. She returns Saturday. The towboat movements were: Arrivals, W. H. Flint and return; Tom Dodsworth passed down for Louisville; Raymond Horner, Coal City, Jim Wood, James Moren in with tows, which were left at the upper landing, and back with empties. An effort will be made by the captains of the boats to get back to the Pittsburgh harbor before all of the water runs out of the upper river. The Raymond Horner struck the fleet at Coal Haven and lost a barge of slack. The loss is estimated at $800. The Lizzie Bay arrived in port today assisted by the harbor boat Hercules Carrell. Her machinery became disabled while the boat was below the city and the Carrell was sent after her.

PACKET LINE MAKES CHANGE.

Steamer Columbia Has New Commander—Elks Will Take Trip This Week.

O. A. Blackburn announced the first change in the Morgantown packet lines since entering upon his administration as superintendent yesterday. Capt. I. L. Reno has been placed in command of the Columbia and Capt. Robert DeMain, who has been captain of the steamer, has been made pilot of the boat. Capt. Reno was the Columbia's first commander. He was also commander of the Edgar Cherry and the change is simply a return to previous arrangements. Both Capt. Reno and Capt. DeMain are well known rivermen and have been in the business for years. Mr. Blackburn is very well satisfied with business conditions along the Monongahela and reports that his pockets are enjoying good trade.

There is excellent water for all packet lines and the passenger lists continue unusually large. The Queen City of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati company had a good trip in and out yesterday and the Virginia will have a record-breaking trip Saturday. A big party of Elks will leave on her to attend an Elk convention at Cincinnati. Aside from a local party, there will be parties from Scotdale, Johnstown, Rochester and other places in the western part of the state. The Virginia will put them into Cincinnati on the day the convention opens.

Arrivals.

Queen City, Sweeney, Cincinnati.
I. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown.

Local River Notes.

The stage of water in the Ohio river, according to the gauges at Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night, was 8.5 feet and falling.

The Valiant arrived last night and will lay up for repairs.

The big Sprague is having her cylinder timbers strengthened and a piston rod straightened at Lysle landing, Allegheny river.

There will be a regular meeting of Harbor 25 Saturday morning. A notice has been posted asking that there be a large attendance on account of special business.

The losses at Merriman channel last week will amount to six boats for the River Coal Company, which was successful in saving one barge and two boats.

The truck gardeners' market will be moved to its new location along the Monongahela wharf this week. It has been temporarily between Smithfield and Ferry streets, but will soon be below the Wabash bridge.

STANDARD LEATHER PLANT DESTROYED AT CHESWICK

Fire destroyed the two-story brick building of the Standard Leather Company early yesterday morning. The loss on the building and the stock will amount to about $10,000. The cause of the fire has not yet been learned but it originated on the first floor, near some oil and benzine. The fire caused alarm in Oakmont and Verona. The residents there thought the new Oakmont clubhouse was burning.

Credit Balances Are Still Further Reduced by Agents

When the purchasing agencies opened for business yesterday morning reduced quotations for credit balances were posted. The price now quoted for crude of the Pennsylvania grade is $1 50, a reduction of 2 cents. North Lima, South Lima and Indiana were reduced 3 cents, making the present quotations $1 00 and 95 cents respectively. Kansas was the hardest hit. South Neodesha and Bartlesville were reduced from 95 cents to 88 cents, a cut of 7 cents a barrel. North Neodesha and Kansas heavy, were reduced the same amount, making the first 68 cents and the last 47 cents. The quotations posted yesterday make a total reduction of 7 cents in the price of Pennsylvania crude within the past five days. During the same time the Kansas product has suffered a cut of 15 cents. Eastern producers are hopeful, now that the market has reached the lowest point touched last year, it will not be further reduced. The scarcity of new producing territory and the light production of the new wells in the old fields will have a noticeable effect on operations in nearly all districts in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Southeastern Ohio.

Developments in the fields brought to light nothing better than small wells. The Carter Oil Company's gusher on the J. W. Ankrom farm in the Wick pool in Tyler county, W. Va., has been holding up very nicely since it was agitated. The gauge for the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock yesterday morning was 1,400 barrels. In the same district the Melrose Oil & Gas Company's No. 4 on the T. H. Ewell farm is holding up at 180 barrels and Duff Bros. & Bower's No. 8 on the Charles Ankrom farm at 90 barrels a day. In the Bens Run district, in Pleasants county, the Parker Oil Company has completed and shot its test well on the Joseph Parker farm and has a show for a very light pumper in the Big Injun. In the Waverly district, Wood county, Charles Amsler has completed his No. 9 on the W. E. Sharp farm and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Cow run sand. On Little Lick run, Ritchie county, Dennis O'Brien has drilled his No. 34 on the Wood county petroleum tract through the Berea grit at a depth of 994 feet and has a duster. It will be shot and tested in the upper sand and may make a small pumper. In the same district, Cuthbert & Stiles have completed the rig for a test on the Marbury tract.

On the east side of the Folsom district, in Harrison county, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 7 on the M. P. Dye farm into the top of the Gordon and has shut down to move back the boiler. In the same district, No. 3 on the Alva Robinson farm and No. 3 on the F. A. Parish farm are drilling in the Gordon, and neither showing any oil or gas. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 85 on the B. W. Paterson farm into the top of the Gordon and has found no oil or gas. North of the Fallen Timber Run district, the same company's No. 2 on the Z. A. Mirrifield farm is producing 60 barrels a day. In the Richwood Run district, in the same county, the South Penn company has drilled its test on the Joseph Batson farm through the fifth sand and has a duster.

In the Pine Grove extension the South Penn company has drilled its No. 4 on the R. J. Postalwait farm 10 feet into the stray sand and is fishing. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 21 on the Luther Haywood farm 10 feet into the Gordon and has found no oil or gas. In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the R. E. Gardner farm has declined to 125 barrels a day. There are several wells due in the sand in this district. In the Folsom district, in Harrison county, the same company's No. 4 on the C. E. Robinson farm, shot a few days ago, is holding up at 155 barrels a day.

Southwest of Burgettstown, Washington county, Pa., O'Day & Lowery have completed their test on the S. C. and J. Farrar farm and have a duster. Between Georgetown and Hookstown, Galey Bros. have completed a test on the Brown & Co. farm and have a show for a producer in the Poe sand.

Northwest of the Rinards Mills district, in Monroe county, O., Timblin & Co. have drilled their second test on the Charles Bode farm into the Keener and have a show for a light pumper. Near Jerusalem, in the same county, the Unity Oil Company has completed a test on the George Reimenschneider farm and has a duster in the Keener sand. In the Lewisville district, in Monroe county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the G. W. Hartshorn farm through the Berea grit and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper from that level. In the same district the Stewart-Newman Company has shot its No. 6 on the Isaac Soles farm and the well is producing 25 barrels a day. In the same district M. Yost is starting a second test on the J. Yester farm.

In the Chester Hill district, Morgan county, Bansor & Wilson have completed their No. 14 on the Elwood Yarnell farm and have a show for a 5-barrel pumper. In the same district H. F. Koester & Co. have completed their test on the C. F. Fox farm and have a duster in the shallow sand.

One mile east of Knoxville, Jefferson county, the Ohio Oil Company has completed a wildcat on the Joseph Sapp farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. Northwest of Woodsfield, in Monroe county, the Southern Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the George Wahl farm and has a duster in the Keener. This location is 450 feet northeast of No. 1 on the farm, which came in a gusher and is still producing 45 barrels a day. No. 2 on this farm came in very small and of a dozen test wells completed since the gusher none have proven better than small producers, and a considerable percentage have been failures. When the George Wahl No. 1 was drilled in and started at 30 barrels an hour it was thought that a new Keener pool of some dimensions had been discovered. Later developments proved the contrary.

…T MORE IRON, …UT CAN'T GET IT

…nsumers of Pig See Handwriting on the Wall Portending Higher Prices.

BIG CONTRACTS NOT COVERED

That the feeling in the pig iron market is growing better was demonstrated pretty thoroughly during the past eight days by the increased demand for iron. The Gazette has told how the furnace operators shut down their furnaces rather than do business without profit or even at a loss, and the prices offered for pig metal gave no chance for profit. Consumers were willing to order only from week to week, even at the low prices they wanted to pay, and a demand for 1,000 tons was considered a pretty large order. In the past few days, however, the same people have tried to contract for supplies as heavy as 4,000 and 5,000 tons. It is true that they did not offer to pay more than the prices of the previous week, but the fact that they wanted larger quantities was considered as proof that they saw the handwriting on the wall and wanted to get in before prices might be advanced. Of course, when furnace operators refused small orders because they could not make a profit on them, it was natural that they should decline with still more vehemence larger contracts at the same quotations, and that is the policy they have been following. Seventy-five per cent of the merchant furnaces are still closed down.

Pig iron has reached its bottom price, is the opinion among the producers, and any change at all must be for the better. This view is reflected in the situation in the coke market, for at the low prices current for that article very little can be bought and consumers are about ready to pay more.

Fear a Speedy Advance.

For a very heavy contract in the east a well-known firm manufacturing heavy castings will need 25,000 tons of pig iron, using about 1,000 tons a month. Seeing the trend of events that firm is now casting about for iron, seeking to protect itself against the probable advance in quotations. Other big contracts in the middle west and the west have been held in abeyance, waiting for the bottom of the market, but they cannot be held off much longer. The fall requirements of the stove foundries and cast iron pipe foundries will be very large, although in a few instances the pipe foundries have covered their contracts with purchases of iron. A large harvesting company requiring 30,000 tons of pig iron has as yet failed to contract for its supply of pig metal. It is really not expected that there will be a radical change in the situation for the next six weeks, but the facts coupled with the severe action of the furnace operators in going out of blast, added to the impending scarcity of railroad cars, as told in The Gazette this day a week ago, are bound, it is believed, to show their effect by September 1.

The prices of foundry coke, f. o. b. cars at the ovens, is from $1 75 to $2 35 a ton. The latter coke is selected, while the lower quotations represent in almost all cases 72-hour unselected coke, which is virtually 72-hour furnace coke.

Representatives of the bar and billet pools and other associations met in New York on Monday and the prices quoted for some time past in these columns were reaffirmed. At the meetings the opinion was uttered that although prices are no better, there is a strong sentiment believing in better times in store. The fact that the policy of both political parties can be considered as fairly settled has improved the situation.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business continues to move along much as at the time of the last report, orders coming in for a fair volume of goods from retailers, and a good business from the travelers who are out. Some of the traveling men who have been in on their vacations are starting out and are getting a nice business for fall goods. Prospects on all sides indicate that a good business will be done this fall. Season goods are moving out freely, clearing stocks up in good shape. BLAST FURNACE OUTPUT SHOWS A FALLING OFF

Production in June Dropped to 1,300,000 Tons, Exclusive of Charcoal Iron.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Iron Age will tomorrow say: An analysis of our monthly blast furnace statistics show how rapidly the iron industry adjusts itself to changed conditions. Production in June dropped to 1,300,000 tons, exclusive of charcoal iron, as compared with a rate of close to 1,500,000 tons in March, April and May. Yet that scale of production is clearly excessive, since we entered the current month with a capacity of 272,300 tons per week, as compared with 336,200 tons on June 1 and 368,200 tons on May 1. That would indicate a product of only 1,200,000 tons for July, but since the opening of this month there has been a further marked restriction of output.

An analysis of the data demands that we separate the production of the steel companies from that of the merchant furnaces. The former have for nearly a year adjusted their make with the greatest precision to their immediate requirements, and their stocks play only a minor role. In April the product was 974,000 tons as the maximum in any one month during the year. In May it was 927,000 tons and last month it dropped to 789,000 tons. This, therefore, little proof at hand to lead to the conclusion that the summer months will cause a change. When we turn to the merchant furnaces we again face the record of a shrinking consumption. In May the merchant furnaces made 561,000 tons of pig iron, but their stocks were added to to the extent of 102,000 tons, thus indicating a consumption of 459,000 tons. In June the product was 503,000 tons and the additions to stocks were 75,000 tons, thus pointing to a further decline in the consumption to 428,000 tons.

In other words, rapid is has been the adjustment of the iron producers to a shrinking consumption, they have not yet overtaken it.

The question is whether they are doing so now. The report of stocks show that two great sections are shipping what they make. These are the east, whose stocks increased during June from 90,500 to 96,000 ton, and the south, whose stock remained stationary at 243,000 tons. It is therefore in the central west and in the northwest that the accumulation has taken place, the stocks rising from 145,000 tons on May 1 to 212,000 tons on June 1 and to 282,000 tons on July 1. It is in this section that the cessation of buying in the open market, on the part of the steel interests has been most keenly felt, and it is by far the most rapid progress it has been made lately in checking production.

Unless consumption goes on declining, and that is only too likely in July and August, the balance will promptly right itself.

During the past week southern makers have shown a disposition to ask more money, because their production is hampered by the coal strike, but in other markets, notably along the lakes, some very low figures are being made.

As we go to press the details are being settled for the award of the second great contract for iron castings for the Pennsylvania tunnel. One-half is virtually now assured to a Lehigh valley foundry, the other half is now being closed. The whole calls for 108,000 tons, which is an impressive total, but it must be considered that delivery is to spread over three years at least.

All the formalities regarding the first contract are completed, and the Wheeling foundry now has definitely all the lining castings, involving about 40,000 tons.

The action of the Billet association does not call for any comment. The course of the beam and plate pools was expected. The wisdom of the policy pursued has ceased to be a matter of argument. There has been no rail meeting lately, and there is no business.

The Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, July 13.—A firmer tone is surely evident in the majority of lines of dry-goods and sellers display more independence with regard to prices than during the last few months or even weeks. Southern goods are being held firmly and what with curtailment the market is approaching a much more satisfactory condition.

No Conflict Is Expected Over Grand Army Rates

The action of the Pennsylvania lines in putting out their rates on G. A. R. business to Boston was a little premature, but it is interesting, nevertheless. The other railroads will not issue their rates until after the meeting of the Central Passenger association, now in session at Petoskey, Mich. The action of the Pennsylvania indicates there will be no dispute over differentials. It is beginning to look now as if all of the railroads would quietly back down on the proposition to maintain the full measure of their differentials.

That there will be no rate war is almost a foregone conclusion. The spirit of centralized control of the railroads is too strong now for any such acts of violence. The railroads not able to get business do not want to spoil the revenue of those who do.

It is even questionable whether there will be anything like differential fares quoted on the business to Boston. The Erie, which suggested it, will step down and out of its original position. It is thought the other roads will follow the example of the leader.

Freight Claims Increasing.

The railroads are becoming alarmed over the rapidly increasing claims made against the freight departments for losses and damages on accounts of overs, shorts and bad orders, and are trying to discover a remedy. The general claim agent says that during the last six years such claims have increased 400 per cent in number and about 350 per cent in amount. The loss and damage claims are out of proportion to the growth of the business and railroad revenues.

Says Rates Are Exorbitant.

The Kentucky railroad commission will meet today to hear the complaint of the Lumbermen's club of Louisville against the Louisville Car Service association. The club charges that the association is a combine and its rates are exorbitant. The proceedings are under a precedent recently established in Chicago, where the United States district attorney warned the organization in that city to discontinue business unless it is prepared to withstand prosecution under the anti-combine law.

Flood Damages Being Repaired.

Many workmen are being employed repairing the damage on the Panhandle railroad between Gregg station and McDonald as a result of the recent storm in that locality. Bridges are being overhauled and new ties are being laid to replace those that were washed out. Only one track is being used on the Gregg bridge and the trains are running cautiously.

Silver Lake Popular.

The Pennsylvania to date has taken 9,000 passengers to Silver Lake. In addition there is under contract enough parties to make up 275 cars to be carried there during the month of August. It is safe to predict that before the end of the season 20,000 will have visited that pleasure resort.

Railroad Notes.

J. F. Thompson, commercial agent of the Santa Fe at Cincinnati, was in the city yesterday.

J. E. Muhlfeld, superintendent of motive power of the Baltimore & Ohio, visited Pittsburgh yesterday.

G. L. Peck, general manager of the Pennsylvania lines, left last night for a vacation trip through Canada and other northern points.

Ralph Peters of Cincinnati, general superintendent of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, held a conference with local officials yesterday.

The office building at the foot of Forty-fourth street and the Allegheny Valley railroad yards, formerly used by employes of the company, was placed on the new foundations at the foot of Forty-third street yesterday. The building will be remodeled and used by the Railroad Y. M. C. A.

FLOUR IS BOOMING; CHEESE IS EASIER

New Tomato Crop Arrives—New Home Raised Green Corn Here.

Further advances are looked for on flour at any time. Mills announced an advance of 10 points yesterday and the local market will likely feel the effect today. No changes were made in quotations in the grocery line yesterday, though flour, sugar and coffee continue on the upward trend. Business is reported very good, generally.

New Jersey tomatoes have arrived; reports yesterday showed a total of 22 cars now on track here and the market is slow. Thirteen cars of bananas arrived and moved out rapidly. The watermelon arrivals were 22 cars, making a total of 52 cars on track. The potato market is steady, 14 cars arriving yesterday up to 10 o'clock a. m. Cucumbers are easier; so is cabbage. Plums are quoted lower, dewberries and huckleberries are reduced. Home raised green corn has arrived and is wanted. Cantaloupes are moving freely; yesterday's arrivals were six cars. Eggs are still very firm and are commanding full prices. Butter is steady, but cheese is not selling so well as last week, especially cream makes. Prices are reduced slightly on New York cream. Hens are in demand in the poultry line, but aside from this trade and that on springers the market is no more than steady.

Receipts of hay, grain and feed continue very light and very little trading is reported. There is generally more or less of a slump at this time of year, so the condition is not to be wondered at. Oats are showing better than anything else in this line, though the light arrivals on corn and best grades of hay are making those markets look better.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 14 cars hay, 1 car feed, 1 car corn and bran, 3 cars oats; Baltimore & Ohio, 1 car hay, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 car oats, 1 car feed.

Dealers charge an advance of $3 00 a ton on hay and millfeed, and 5 cents per bushel on grain from warehouses in less than carload lots.

WHEAT ADVANCES ON FEARS OF SHORTAGE

Traders Believe Size of Crop Will Prevent Export of Surplus.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 13.—Rain in the northwest, demand for wheat from eastern millers today, and grave fears of a serious shortage in the crop caused a net gain of ⅝c in September wheat. Corn is up ⅜@⅝c. Oats made a gain of ¼@⅝c. Provisions closed unchanged to 10c higher.

Nearly everything in the way of news today tended to induce strength in wheat prices. Doubt has entered the minds of traders as to whether the size of the crop will permit any surplus for export. Orders from northwest and southwest were abundant, and crop damage reports came from all over the winter wheat country. September started firm, a shade lower to ⅛@¼c higher at 86⅛@86⅝c and sold up to 87⅝c before the demand was satisfied. Cables and foreign advices were bullish factors. Reports of general rain throughout the northwest were current, the downfall in the Red river valley, where the ground was already soaked, being mentioned as especially heavy. A gain of 3c a bushel in July wheat at Duluth, under strong demand from millers in the east, was the most potent of the late influences, causing an advance of 2½c in that option here and corresponding strength in the other deliveries.

The top prices did not hold, owing to heavy liquidation by longs with profits which set in toward the close. Final trades were at 86⅞@87c. Primary receipts were 287,300 bushels, against 423,200 bushels last year. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 79,470 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 209 cars. Only one car was received here.

The corn market acted independently of the fine weather and ruled strong on small receipts and reports of serious crop damage, the latter being estimated in some instances at from 20 to 25 per cent. On such news and the higher prices scored by wheat, September corn was a shade to ¼c higher at the start, at 48¾c to 48⅞c and sold up to 49½@49⅝c, closing firm at 49½c.

Cash corn was strong and had a marked influence on the deferred delivery. Local receipts were 95 cars.

The oats market was fairly active and strong. The firmness of the other grains was partly the reason, but threatened disappearance of contract oats from local stocks was also a factor. September opened a shade lower at 31¾c and touched 32⅝c. The advance was well maintained, the close being but a fraction under the top at 32½c. Local receipts were 42 cars.

Wholly at sea as to the outcome of the strike at the stock yards, there was a disposition among provision traders to reduce lines. In spite of large offerings, however, there was a bullish tendency generally and holders were able to sell out at firm prices. Quotations were higher at the yards and helped the sentiment in the provision pit. September pork closed 10c higher at $13 10. Lard was unchanged at $7 07½. Ribs gained 2½c at $7 70. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 6 cars; corn, 209 cars; oats, 61 cars; hogs, 10,000 head.

EAST END LOTS CHANGE OWNERS

Three Fine Residence Sites in Shadyside Sold for $30,000.

PLANS FOR AN ABATTOIR

Recent sales of choice vacant frontage in the East End for residence sites indicate that by fall there will be as many first-class houses under way in that part of the city as in former years when the activity in building has been characterized as a boom. The latest deal of this kind announced was made through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company, the consideration being $30,000. The property sold is a part of the S. S. Marvin holdings, of which this company has the exclusive agency, and consists of 200x150 feet on the north side of Dahlia street and Von Lent place, near St. James street, Twentieth ward. At the price quoted the frontage brought $150 a foot. The lots were bought by three prominent business men, each of whom will have plans drawn at once for a center-hall residence to cost $20,000. The location, near the Cairncarque residence property of Robert Pitcairn and only a few squares from Shadyside station, makes the sites among the most desirable in that part of the city, and two other deals are now pending for adjoining lots at a similar price.

In spite of the fact that the hump will probably remain for some time, one good deal was announced from that district yesterday. The property of Annie Wolfson, 20x124 feet in Wylie avenue, near Townsend street, was purchased by Delia A. Cahill for $12,000. The lot is improved with a brick house.

Abattoir for Wilkinsburg.

An improvement that will not be exactly pleasing to residents and property owners of Wilkinsburg leaked out yesterday and may be said to have been hastened by the strike of the meat packers in the western cities. Some butchers of the East End and Wilkinsburg have decided to unite and build a large abattoir on the Fred Rohrman lot, 60x132 feet, in North avenue, Wilkinsburg, which is now occupied by a small slaughter house. The proposed building will be three stories high and will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. Work will be started at once.

Plans have been completed for the $25,000 hotel which J. McConnell will build in Economy just over the line from Ambridge. The site, a lot 60x120 feet, was bought by Henry A. Davis for Mr. McConnell on the day of the Economy auction sale. It is at the corner of Merchant street and Dryden road, in the Orchard plan. The building will be a four-story brick structure, fireproof, and contain 60 rooms. At present there are 37 brick business buildings in course of erection in Merchant street, Ambridge, and nearly everyone of them is rented in advance or will be occupied by the owner. At least 40 houses are also being built at Ambridge and Economy to provide homes for the workmen of the American Bridge Company.

John H. Galey will shortly start the erection of three more houses on his allotment at Swissvale. The houses will be built in Hampton street, near Westmoreland avenue, on lots 30 and 45x100 feet each. They will be nine-room reception-hall brick dwellings and will cost $6,000 each. Mr. Galey has already built seven similar houses on the allotment, all of which have been sold. The ones now projected will be built to correspond with the plans of the buyers.

Wabash Locates a Station.

The Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company has purchased a total of 237 feet of ground at the corner of Ramsey and Chess avenues, on the Gould City allotment of the Wabash Land Company at Bridgeville. The property will be used as a site for a $15,000 station, which, it is said, will be called Gould City. It will be the only stopping place for through trains between Pittsburgh and the Ohio river. The Wabash has also about completed negotiations for other nearby properties for a site for its freight station.

The Wabash Land Company at a recent meeting elected the following well-known business men of Pittsburgh as new officers: President, Walter A. May; vice president, P. J. Loughrey; secretary and treasurer, Lee C. Farrar. Messrs. May and Loughrey, with William A. Elsner, L. J. Smit and J. P. Barr, constitute the board of directors. The new board has inaugurated a progressive policy and will spend $12,000 on street improvements between now and November 1 if adjoining property holders cease their objections to the closing of certain streets and alleys. This sum, with the money already spent in improvements, will make a total of $38,500, which the company will have invested besides the initial cost of the land.

Three good business blocks are now being built in Monongahela avenue, the chief business street of Glassport. Nicholas Wolf of McKeesport has nearly completed a four-story fireproof hotel on lot 50x110 feet, at Monongahela avenue and Eighth street. The building cost $40,000. The borough of Glassport is erecting a municipal building at the corner of Fifth street, which will cost $15,000. James Russell is also starting foundations for a three-story brick store and flat building at the Sixth street corner, which will cost $16,000.

Annex to Mercy Hospital.

Golden & Crick, contractors, were given a building permit yesterday to renew the work of building the annex to Mercy hospital that was abandoned by a contractor some months ago on account of quicksand on the proposed location. The permit calls for a four-story brick building 103 feet front by 80 feet deep, to contain 48 rooms, at the corner of Locust and Pride streets. It is to be used for private wards and nurses' quarters, and will cost $120,000. Prilschke, brick veneer two-story and attic dwelling, in Perrysville avenue, Fifteenth ward, to cost $3,000; to Cook & Goble, frame two-story and attic dwelling, in Kennedy avenue, Tenth ward, to cost $3,500.

WIFE DEFENDS HUSBAND'S SLAYER

Charles M. George Pleads Self Defense for the Killing of George W. Downing.

ROUTINE OF COUNTY COURTS

Charles M. George, charged with the murder of George W. Downing, which he is alleged to have committed at the decedant's home in Kirkpatrick street on April 14 last, was placed on trial in criminal court yesterday before Judge Frazer, and went to the jury late last night. The defendant is represented by Attorneys G. C. Lewis and George W. Flower, while Assistant District Attorney Robb is looking after the commonwealth's case.

Deputy Coroner Louis C. Huckel identified the revolver, a 32-caliber weapon, with which the murder was alleged to have been committed. Dr. Walter C. McCandless found two bullet holes in Downing's head, which had caused death.

Mrs. Downing, the widow of the dead man, said that her husband had threatened George as he had been suspicious without cause. She said she heard the shots but did not see the killing. A large knife found in the room afterward she denied having. She told of her husband going home on the day of the killing and telling George to take off his coat and prepare for death. She claimed her husband then began beating and kicking the defendant and that when she ran for help the shots were fired. George said to her: "I did it in self-defense." Her husband had remained home all day and said he was not going to work again until he had finished George.

John Crum, a boy who roomed in the house, contradicted Mrs. Downing by saying that she had the knife behind her when the shots were fired. He was standing in the vestibule when he heard the shots.

W. H. McCullough, the policeman who arrested the defendant, said when he reached the house he saw George on the front steps and asked him what was wrong. George said to him: "I guess I'm the man you want; a man tried to kill me with a knife and I shot him." The defendant, he said, then took the revolver from his pocket and gave it to him. George had blood on his forehead that looked as though it had come from a bruise on his head. He said the defendant had told him he bought the revolver at a Wylie avenue pawnshop.

R. J. Brecht, the pawnbroker, said that a revolver had been purchased from him the day of the killing, but he could not identify the defendant as the man who purchased it. He could not identify the revolver in evidence as the one bought from him.

Self-Defense Is Claimed.

Attorney Flower, for the defense, said he would prove that Downing was the aggressor and George was forced to shoot.

Thomas Hanton, an employe of the Union Storage Company in Twenty-fifth street, told of Downing's visit to the warehouse to see George, who had dishes stored there. The witness said Downing came to the plant, and after talking to George for a while, became boisterous and struck the defendant twice in the face. Downing then said "I want to see you at 8 o'clock, when I'll make you get on your knees and apologize, and maybe I'll kill you then." Later, when he was leaving, he said: "I intend to kill you and her, and maybe I'll kill you now."

In this testimony he was corroborated by James O'Connor and John Thompson and two other employes of the storage plant.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ainsworth, the mother-in-law of Downing, testified that Downing was of a quarrelsome disposition. She said George's conduct about her house, where he roomed, was perfect. She did not know of any trouble between the men until the day of the killing, when she alleged Downing laid off work and was around the house all day making threats against George's life as soon as he returned. Downing dragged his wife around the house and said he was going to kill her. She said his conduct was so bad that she threatened to have him arrested. George came home about 6 o'clock, and the first time she saw the men together she was in the dining room when Downing said to the defendant: "Take off your coat and prepare to die. I'm going to kill you." George said: "What's the matter, Downing? Don't make a fuss. If I've done anything I'm willing to apologize." The witness then went upstairs and soon heard a scuffle and then two shots, when she returned to the dining room and saw her son-in-law lying on the floor and George standing by the table. The latter said to her: 'I've killed him in self-defense, and now I'm going to give myself up.' Mrs. Ainsworth then said she advised him to do this and he started out, but met a policeman at the front of the house. The witness said she had never heard of any intimate relations between her daughter and George. She did not see anything in Downing's hand when he ran at George. At this juncture she asked the court's permission to be allowed to tell something of Downing, and this was granted. She said her son-in-law was a good, industrious man when he was sober; in fact, was a first-class man all around. When he drank he was bad in all ways; would treat everyone mean, especially his family. This was his temperament the night he was killed. Mrs. Ainsworth said she bore no malice against him, although her daughter still had marks on her throat made by Downing.

Mrs. Mathilda Carroll of Congress street said George had been at her house the day of the killing and had rented a room. She understood he was going to take immediate possession, as he asked her how soon she could have the room ready. He paid her a deposit, but never came back.

Henry Ainsworth, George's partner in the dish business, was brought into the room and was identified by Hanton, O'Connor and Thompson as the man who was with George at the warehouse. He was not used as a witness and court was adjourned until this morning.

Restraining Order Refused.

The suit of George P. Gibson of Rankin against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has been dismissed by Judge Macfarlane. The company started to condemn property owned by Gibson in Rankin that was separated from the present right of way by a borough street. Gibson asked for a restraining order on the ground that the condemnation proceedings were under the name of the Pittsburgh & Connellsville railroad, which had been leased to the Baltimore & Ohio company, and no longer carried on the road, and also that there was no authority for the company to cross the street without consent of the borough. Judge Macfarlane decides that the right to condemn property across the street exists and dismisses the bill.

Proceedings to secure the custody of his 11-year-old daughter, Emma E. Paling, were begun by Samuel G. Paling. Paling secured a divorce on May 31, 1903, on the grounds of infidelity. He alleges his former wife has the child in an improper resort and asks for control of her.

David W. Dunlevy was appointed receiver of the Clairton Brick and Manufacturing Company on petition of C. E. Clapp and Reuben Miller, Jr. The petitioners assert that the company is insolvent and that they represent debts of $18,383.97. The assets are placed at $40,000. Other creditors are given the right to join in the bill.

The following executions were issued: The Manufacturers and Traders bank, use, vs. Henry Brown, $11,850.17; David Powell, Jr., vs. M. J. Joyce et al, $419; D. R. McNaught vs. Adelia Gordon et al, $94.05; C. V. Mathews vs. Miss Maggie McKenahan, $77.38; Amanda Burkhouse vs. A. H. Burkhouse et al, $226.80; Omaha Packing Company vs. Max Lichtenstein, $1,500.

Marital Order Refused.

Divorces were granted as follows: Adda E. Shaffer vs. Frank J. Shaffer, desertion; Mary E. McCauley against William H. McCauley, cruelty; John Marsh against Nellie Marsh, desertion; Mary H. Mays against John V. Mays, desertion; Dilbert J. Hostetter against Myra V. Hostetter, desertion; Josephine D. Linhart against Shephen Linhart, desertion.

George Loomis entered suit against John Page asking $5,000 damages for being charged before an alderman with bigamy. Page is alleged to have made the information against Loomis, but failed to substantiate the charges.

In the United States district court Richard Barksdale, a colored waiter, entered two libels against the steamer Queen City. One of them asks for $10,000 damages, alleging he was beaten by the officers, and the other is for wages. The boat was attached and gave a $10,622.80 bond in order to leave on its southern trip. Barksdale alleges the steward and the second clerk assaulted him.

The following were discharged from bankruptcy: James E. Campbell, David R. Spahr, Joseph E. James and William J. Miller and Aaron J. Baker, trading as Miller & Baker.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed against James A. McDougall, a grocer of Grove City, by the New Castle Grocery Company and others, whose claims aggregate $1,072.90.

BIG DRAFT SENT.

Mr. B. White Corners the Furniture Market at Cincinnati.

Mr. Leo White, son of B. White, the Allegheny furniture and carpet merchant, gave out this morning news of a large purchase that has just been closed by Mr. White in Cincinnati.

Mr. White wired the house as follows: "Closed purchase today for $19,163. Mail draft to Union Trust Company of Cincinnati.

"Eleven carloads will come by rail. Rest by boat.

"Clear space at once in warehouse No. 3.

"I leave tonight for Grand Rapids."

When asked how soon shipments would be put on sale, Mr. Leo White said that he would not be able to answer that question until he received further word from his father.

WAGES OF THE PUDDLERS WERE NOT REDUCED

Selling Prices of Material Justifies $5.25, a Ton for Boiling.

Evidence that the depression in the iron and steel market is passing is proved by the 60-day settlement between the Amalgamated association, the Republic Iron and Steel Company and the Carnegie Steel Hoop Company, resulting in the puddlers being given the same wages as paid the past two months. It was predicted that at the conference to settle the wages on the sliding basis it would be necessary to reduce the puddlers 25 cents a ton.

The settlement was made by President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated association, James Nutt of the Republic company and Paymaster R. R. Lawson of the Carnegie Steel Company. From present indications the puddlers will be given an advance at the next adjustment.

The adjustment of the sheet and tin plate scales, which was held up on account of a disagreement on the rebate system, will take place the early part of next week. The date has not been set on account of the absence of C. W. Bray of the American company.

WISCONSIN COURT GIVES ANTI-UNION DECISION

MILWAUKEE, July 13.—Contracts made by incorporated labor unions with manufacturers, prohibiting the employment of non-union workmen are void according to a decision announced by Judge Ludwig in the circuit court today. It is the first ruling had upon the question in Wisconsin, and if sustained by the supreme court will be of far-reaching importance. The decision was given in the suit brought by the Milwaukee custom tailors union against a local concern which made an agreement with the tailors to employ none but union workmen.

Oakmont People Have Glad Day.

An excursion train with over 2,000 persons left Oakmont for Logans Ferry, on the Allegheny Valley railroad, yesterday. The churches of Oakmont are holding a union picnic and the borough was nearly deserted all day.

LOVE

Often leads to poverty. No real woman ever sold her heart for the luxuries of life. But many a woman who has gladly faced poverty for the man she loved, may well doubt her wisdom when pain becomes the mate of poverty. If she were rich, she thinks, she could find a way of cure.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"You have my heartfelt thanks for your kind advice to me," writes Mrs. Geo. Fletcher, of 106 Victoria Avenue, Galt, Ontario. "Was troubled with catarrh of uterus for over a year. The doctors said I would have to go through an operation, but I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also his 'Lotion Tablets' and 'Antiseptic and Healing Suppositories.' Now I am completely cured, after using six bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines. I am glad to say his medicine has made me a new woman."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, free.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take. A most effective laxative.
